MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Anderson, Mark, Drafting Agreements in the Biotechnology and Pharmaceutical Industries Looseleaf, Oxford University Press, Looseleaf, £395.00, ISBN: 9780199539635

This loose-leaf publication provides precedent agreements for the main types of commercial transaction encountered in the biotechnology and pharmaceutical industries. In addition to the print version, each precedent is available via a free online service in a format which can be easily downloaded and edited.

Ashton, District Judge Gordon Court of Protection Practice 2009, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781846611230

Court of Protection Practice 2009 is a major new single-volume work, containing a detailed and authoritative guide to the enlarged jurisdiction, with a similar style and format to The Family Court Practice and Civil Court Service. A portable single volume, it is ideal for use in court or when preparing for court.

Bacon, Kelyn, European Community Law of State Aid, Oxford University Press,

Hardback, £145.00, ISBN: 9780199543014

This is a fully up-to-date work for practitioners on the law of State Aids in the European Community, and is accessible to practitioners who do not specialise in competition law, as well as being a reference book for competition lawyers.

It covers the background and development of EC State Aid law, and the concept of state aid, as well as more practical issues such as procedures for notification to the Commission and the various outcomes of the Commission's investigation, and judicial remedies in the European Courts.

Bakker, Anuschka, Tax and the Environment: A World of Possibilities, IBFD Publications BV, Paperback, £101.00, ISBN: 9789087220464

This book highlights the opportunity to both save taxes and save the environment by providing a thorough overview of both environmental taxes and tax incentives related to environmentally friendly investments and activities. It gives an introduction to the general scope of the principles of environmental taxation and then provides analysis of tax measures in the field of direct and indirect taxation with regard to the environment in a representative set of 13 countries. Including some EU countries that are well ahead in developing incentives, along with emerging economies which may in future implement environmentally friendly tax measures. The book concludes with a comparative overview of the tax measures in the countries discussed.

Barents, Directory of EC Case Law on Direct Taxation, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £120.00, ISBN: 9789041127976

EC tax practitioners often find it difficult to locate specific references to precise subjects in the case law. Applying the approach he successfully employed in Kluwer's Directory on EC Case Law on Competition and Directory on EC Case Law on State Aids, René Barents overcomes that difficulty by presenting a collection of case law extracts sorted by key subject areas.

Benson, Edward; Randall, Nicholas, Jordans Employment Law Precedents, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback & CD-ROM, £135.00, ISBN: 9781846611032

This new work offers a range of employment precedents; tried and tested dealing with the different stages of the employment process, including the type of claims that can arise in the course of employment. Designed to deal succinctly with practitioner questions, each precedent contains clear notes setting out the context in which the precedent may be used and the procedures to be followed.

Besson, Samantha; Marti, Jose Luis, Legal Republicanism: National and In-

International Perspectives, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199559169

Interest in republicanism as a political theory has burgeoned in recent years, but its implications for the understanding of law have remained largely unexplored. Legal Republicanism is the first book to offer a comprehensive, critical survey of the potential for creating republican accounts of fundamental issues in law and legal theory. Bringing together contributors with backgrounds in political and legal philosophy, the essays in the volume assess republicanism's historical traditions, conceptual coherence, and normative proposals. The collection offers a valuable insight into new debates taking place in republican political and legal theory. It also analyses potential republican approaches to concrete issues arising in areas of law such as criminal, constitutional and international law.

Birk, Dewinder, Human Fertilisation and Embryology: The New Law, Family Law, Paperback, £45.00, ISBN: 9781846611384

The Human Fertilisation and Embryology Act 2008 represents the most radical overhaul of the United Kingdom's embryology laws since the enactment of the original 1990 Act. It is intended to ensure that the legislative framework keeps up with the fast pace of technological, social and medical change. The new Act is a comprehensive amending statute which makes considerable changes to the operation of both the HFEA 1990 and regulation in the area of assisted reproductive technology and embryo research. Human Fertilisation and Embryology: The New Law provides an authoritative commentary, highlighting areas of potential difficulty and offering practical guidance. This book is essential reading for family lawyers, academics and medical professionals. It includes the text of both the Human Fertilisation and Embryology Act 2008 and the HFEA 1990 (as amended).

Bloom, Lackland H., Methods of Interpretation: How the Supreme Court Reads the Constitution, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £41.00, ISBN: 9780195377118

This book examines the various methodologies the

Supreme Court, and individual justices, have employed throughout history when interpreting the Constitution. Rather than attempting to set forth an overall theory of constitutional interpretation or plunge into the never ending scholarly debate over interpretative theory, Lackland H. Bloom focuses exclusively on what the Court and individual justices have done and said about constitutional interpretation in the course of deciding constitutional cases. He identifies many of the best, and a few of the worst, examples of particular interpretative methodologies, as well as the best examples of explicit discussions of constitutional interpretation by the Court and individual justices.

Boothby, William, Weapons and the Law of Armed Conflict

Conflict, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780199569946

This book brings together the law of armed conflict governing the use of weapons into a single volume. It interprets these rules and discusses the factors influencing future developments in weapons law. After relating the historical evolution of weapons law, the book discusses the important customary principles that are the foundation of the subject, and gives a condensed account of the law that exists on the use of weapons. Thereafter, the treaties and customary rules applying to particular categories of weapon are stated and explained article by article and rule by rule in a series of chapters.

Bowden, Brett; Charlesworth, Hilary; Farrall, Jeremy, The Role of International Law in Rebuilding Societies after Conflict: Great Expectations, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780521509947

This volume of essays investigates the phenomenon of post-conflict state-building and the engagement of international law in this enterprise. It draws together original essays by scholars and practitioners who consider the many roles international law can play in rehabilitating societies after conflict. The essays explore troubled zones across the world, from Afghanistan to Africa's Great Lakes region, and from Timor-Leste to the Balkans. They identify a range of possibilities for international law in tempering, regulating, legitimating or undermining efforts to rebuild post-conflict societies.

Bowers, John; Brown, Damian; Korn, Anthony; Mansfield, Gavin; Palca, Julia; Taylor, Catherine; Macmillan, John, Blackstone's Employment Law Practice 2009, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £69.95, ISBN: 9780199556618 is a tailor-made reference for practitioners advising and representing parties in employment litigation in the employment tribunal and civil courts. Complete, self-contained, and in one portable volume, the book draws together the relevant legislation, procedural rules, Codes of Practice, and Practice Directions, and offers in-depth analysis from a team of highly respected practitioners.

Buckley, Francis H., Fair Governance: The Enforcement of Morals, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £52.00, ISBN: 9780195341263

Fair Governance: The Enforcement of Morals is a study of legal interference with individual preferences and will canvass the interdisciplinary literature in economics, psychology, philosophy, and law. It discusses the particular conditions necessary for the state to legally interfere with our freedom of choice, whether it be to either satisfy our individual pursuit of happiness (perfectionism) or to prevent us from making immoral choices (paternalism). Relatively few philosophers know much of the parallel literature on this central problem of ethics; while many legal scholars are acquainted with the psychological literature on judgment biases, they are frequently unfamiliar with the philosophical literature on perfectionism. Francis H. Buckley carefully links these two notions of state power with recent empirical literature on judgment biases and happiness studies and surveys the literature, arguing for a nuanced form of social perfectionism, one which seeks to promote the kind of liberal nationalism found in the United States.

Butler, Jonathan, Mental Health Tribunals: Law, Practice and Procedure, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781846611391

The practice and procedure of the Mental Health Review Tribunal will be substantially altered following the creation of a new First Tier Tribunal on 3 November 2008. The new Health Education and Social Care Chamber will comprise three existing tribunals including the Mental Health Review Tribunal. This change follows significant amendments to the mental health law as a result of the Mental Health Act 2007. This new publication will provide a guide to the new law and procedure and will be a highly practical reference work for all those appearing before the tribunal and for tribunal members themselves. Detailed explanatory commentary about the organisation, procedure and jurisdiction of the Tribunal will be followed by an analysis of Tribunal powers in relation to both non-offender and offender patients. In addition to explanatory commentary the work will be supplemented by a host of relevant materials including legislation and codes of practice, providing a one-stop-shop for tribunal members and those appearing before the Tribunal.

Carp, Juliet, Drafting Employment Documents for Expatriates, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £110.00, ISBN: 9781846611285

Drafting Employment Documents for Expatriates provides detailed practical guidance on employing expatriates. Written from the employers' perspective, this major new work serves the needs of UK lawyers drafting contracts for migrant and immigrant workers as well as overseas lawyers with the same issues.

Cartwright, John; Vogenauer, Stefan; Whittaker, Simon, Reforming the French Law of Obligations, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £105.00, ISBN: 9781841138053

The 2005 Avant-projet de réforme du droit des obligations et de la prescription, also dubbed the Avant-projet Catala, suggests the most far-reaching reform of the French Civil code since it came into force in 1804. It reviews central aspects of contract law, the law of delict and the law of unjustified enrichment. There is currently a very lively debate in France as to the merits or the demerits of both the particular draft provisions and the general idea of recodification as such. This volume is the first publication to introduce the reform proposals to an English speaking audience. It contains the official English translation of the text, and distinguished private lawyers from both England and France analyse and assess particularly interesting aspects of the substantive draft provisions in a comparative perspective.

Choo, Andrew L-T, Evidence 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £26.99, ISBN: 9780199239740

Choo's Evidence provides students with a lucid account of the core principles of law of civil and criminal evidence in England and Wales, whilst also exploring the fundamental rationales that underlie the law as a whole.

This clear and engaging text explores current debates and draws on different jurisdictions to achieve a fascinating mix of critical and thought-provoking analysis for students and practitioners of the law of evidence. Thorough consideration is given to all areas of contemporary concern, particularly the ongoing implications of the Human Rights Act 1998 and the Criminal Justice Act 2003.

Chuah, Jason C.T., Law of International Trade: Cross Border Commercial Transactions 4th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £32.95, ISBN: 9781847033444

Law of International Trade: Cross Border Commercial Transactions is now a well-established textbook on this complicated and fast moving area of law. This book offers the reader a comprehensive and solid explanation of law and practice with an analysis of the theoretical and doctrinal issues, thus, making it an ideal textbook for students on both academic and professional courses. It is also an invaluable resource for practitioners and those engaged in international commercial operations, such as shipping, trade finance, cargo insurance, cross border litigation, international sales, etc.

Clayton, Richard; Tomlinson, Hugh, Law of Human Rights 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £295.00, ISBN: 9780199263578

Since it was first published in 2000, The Law of Human Rights has become the leading practitioner text in this rapidly developing area of law. Written by two leading silks, it provides comprehensive and systematic treatment of human rights law and practice in the UK, including an examination of the wider impact of the Human Rights Act 1998 upon the civil and criminal law. The second edition has been fully updated to provide detailed coverage of developments as the human rights legislation continues to be tested out in the courts. The authors have tracked the growing body of case law and the book includes comprehensive case references for the UK and other jurisdictions.

Cooke, John, Law of Tort 9th ed, Pearson Education Ltd, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9781405898980

John Cooke's Law of Tort, now in its ninth edition, is a trusted, clear and engaging explanation of the main cinct, practical discussion of relevant insolvency provisions and case law. It has been written specifically for the purpose of assisting not only in the identification of the key legal principles but also in facilitating practical problem solving. The detailed commentary includes general observations and analysis concerning terminology, specific wording, practical issues and procedure.

Duxbury, Robert, Telling & Duxbury's Planning Law and Procedure 14th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £34.95, ISBN: 9780199553204

This title comprehensively covers all aspects of planning law, with chapters on central and local administration, development, planning permission, environmental impact assessment, conservation, and review by the courts and ombudsmen. This edition also looks ahead to the far-reaching proposed changes to law and policy which were signalled in the government's White Paper of May 2007, Planning for a Sustainable Future, and the Planning Reform Bill, currently scheduled for April 2008.

Edwards, Richard; Stock-

well, Nigel, Trusts and Equity 9th ed, Pearson Education Ltd, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9781405899017

Trusts and Equity demystifies this complex subject, without oversimplifying the law, by means of clear explanations and contemporary applications. It also considers recent proposals for reform so that the reader can gain an understanding of the development of the law.

and estate of the deceased. The second edition includes new chapters dealing with multipliers and damages in anticipation of death. The new edition also offers advice on dealing with the coroners' court.

Farahany, Nita, The Impact of Behavioral Sciences on Criminal Law, Oxford University Press USA, Hardback, £47.00, ISBN: 9780195340525

The Impact of Behavioural Sciences on Criminal Law is essential reading for anyone interested in the ongoing genomics and neuroscience revolution and its implications for criminal law. Building in part on a recent multi-disciplinary conference, this collection of essays offers a comprehensive discussion of the ramifications of behavioral sciences in criminal cases and brings together the leading behavioural geneticists, neuroscientists, philosophers, policymakers, and legal scholars to address the multi-faceted concerns at issue.

Feldman, Robin, The Role of Science in Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £41.00, ISBN: 9780195368581

This book uses examples from doctrines related to abortion, gene patenting, copyright, environmental regulation, antitrust law, the insanity defence, and other doctrines to explore the nature of law and to suggest approaches for making science work more effectively within the domain of law.

Fibbe, Gijs, EC Law Aspects of Hybrid Entities, IBD Publications BV,

Hardback, £119.00, ISBN: 9789087220426

This study discusses the impact of the EC Treaty on the recognition of entities in the internal market. The EC Treaty envisages the internal market as an area without internal frontiers in which the free movement of goods, persons, services and capital is ensured in accordance with the provisions of the EC Treaty. One of the key questions discussed in this study is how this rationale reflects the relation between tax laws of Member States and, specifically, the relation between the application of autonomous classification methods by Member States and the free allocation of economic resources in the internal market. This study also contains an examination of how the different approaches to hybrid entities in tax treaties interfere with EC law. This part of the study contains an analysis of how the interrelation between domestic (tax) laws and the approach to classification conflicts under existing bilateral tax treaties relates to EC law.

Foster, Steve, How to Write Better Law Essays: Tools and Techniques for Success in Assignments and Exams 2nd ed, Pearson Education Ltd, Paperback, £16.99, ISBN: 9781405873871

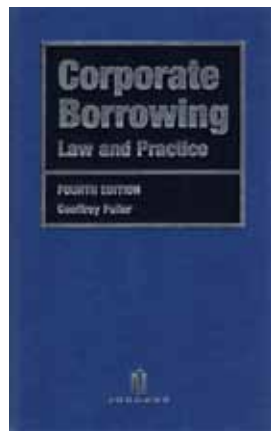

Many students find the demands of undergraduate law coursework and exams daunting. How to Write Better Law Essays helps them tackle legal assignments with confidence, providing a step-by-step guide to planning, writing and succeeding in all forms of law assessment.

Frost, Martyn; Reed, Penelope; Sartin, Leon, Risk and Negligence in Wills, Estates and Trusts, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780199551606

This work contains indispensable practical guidance, tailored to meet the demands of contentious solicitors and barristers involved in resolving disputes, and non-contentious solicitors and trust practitioners who want to establish best practice to prevent disputes over wills, trusts, and estates. It includes advice on best practice, explaining how to undertake this work effectively and to maintain an adequate control of risk, in the form of procedures or actions broken down into step by step processes, checklists, and example forms and controls. It contains an overview of the principles and procedure relating to these actions. It also provides appendices of forms, precedents, and checklists.

Fuller, Geoffrey, Corporate Borrowing: Law and Practice 4th ed, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £115.00, ISBN: 9781846611520

The law of borrowings embraces many different areas of law: contract, company law, trusts, security, insolvency, tax, financial services and regulation. Corporate Borrowing: Law and Practice brings together all of these elements in a practical and concise single volume. It defines the most effective ways of raising debt finance – from bank loan agreements to MTN programmes – and examines the specific legal problems of security and prospectus requirements under the Prospectus Directive. It examines the issues relating to the various types of security, asset backed securities, guarantees, appointment of trustees, attracting lenders and the statutory provisions regarding invitational material, and the tax implications of borrowings by companies.

Gallagher, Norah; Shan, Wenhua; , Chinese Investment Treaties: Policies and Practice, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £145.00, ISBN: 9780199230259
China's success in attracting foreign direct investment (FDI) in the last decade is undisputed, and unprecedented. It is currently the second largest FDI recipient in the world, a success partially due to China's efforts to enter into bilateral investment treaties (BITs) and other international investment instruments. The second title to publish in the new Oxford International Arbitration Series is a comprehensive commentary on Chinese BITs.

Gardiner, Simon; Parrish, Richard; Siekmann, Robert , EU, Sport, Law and Policy: Regulation, Re-regulation and Representation, T.M.C. Asser Press, Hardback, £90.00, ISBN: 9789067042925

This volume of essays by established authorities and the best of the new generation of sports law and policy academics explores new territory, and its scope and tone reflect the maturity of the subject. New theoretical insights are revealed which accompany in particular two further sections dealing first with governance and regulatory issues (also freedom of movement and competition law issues) and second with questions of representation.

Gentle, Stephen; Hodges, Louise, Kingsley Napley: Serious Fraud, Investigation and Trial 4th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, £199.00, ISBN: 9781405734219

Formerly known as Kirk & Woodcock: Serious Fraud, Investigation and Trial, this well respected working manual is essential reading for all those involved in prosecuting and defending cases of serious fraud. It draws together the strands of what has effectively become a new and distinct area of criminal practice. Containing comprehensive coverage of recent changes and new legislation such as the Fraud Act 2006, the book also covers prosecution and defence duties of disclosure; restructured statutory materials; updated commentary and material on the law relating to serious fraud cases; details of offences, including conspiracy to defraud; cross-border procedures; and coverage of the increasingly important international dimension to fraud investigations.

Gerangelos, Peter, The Separation of Powers and Legislative Interference in Judicial Process: Constitutional Principles and Limitations, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781841136615

This book examines the constitutional principles governing the relationship between legislatures and courts at that critical crossroads of their power where legislatures may seek to intervene in the judicial process, or to interfere with judicial functions, to secure outcomes consistent with their policy objectives or interests. Cases of high political moment are usually involved, where the temptation, indeed political imperative, for legislatures to intervene can be overwhelming.

Gibson, Johanna, Intellectual Property, Medicine and Health: Current Debates, Ashgate Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780754672180

This book examines critical issues and debates in intellectual property, medicine and health, including access to knowledge and medicinal products, human rights and development, innovations in life technologies and the possibility for ethical frameworks for intellectual property law and its application in public health. The central question of trust and the beneficial interests of society in the use of products of intellectual property, particularly in the fulfilment of the right to access medicinal products, emerges as key to achieving meaningful access to knowledge in health and medicine and the realisation of relevant and equitable use of the benefits of scientific research in all societies.

Gould, Tony; Rubenstein, Michael; Frost, Yvonne, Unfair Dismissal: A Guide to the Relevant Case Law 27th ed., LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, A4, £135.00, ISBN: 9781405742870 fair dismissal cases reported in Industrial Relations Law Reports, providing a valuable reference tool. It extracts those principles that are still relevant today from cases reported since 1972.

Gunne-Jones, Alan, Town Planning 2009: A Practical Guide, RICS Books, Paperback, A4, £45.00, ISBN: 9781842194317

Town Planning 2009: A Practical Guide is written for anyone involved in planning at any level, whether in the public or the private sectors. It is also aimed at those who are proposing to become involved in planning. Whatever your professional background or technical experience, this book is essential reading.

Hall, Christopher, A Practitioner's Guide to European

Leveraged Finance, City & Financial Publishing, Paperback, £120.00, ISBN: 9781905121359

With banks' appetite for risk severely curtailed, A Practitioner's Guide to European Leveraged Finance offers readers a clear understanding of tried and tested models that are appropriate to the current economic climate as well as those that will form the basis for structuring an increased volume of transactions when the markets return to a healthier condition. As the major European leveraged finance market is in London, the book focuses principally on the UK. Further chapters look at the special requirements of the regulatory regime in France, Germany, Italy and Spain.

sons of No Value?': The Growth of Statute from 1500 until the Present ISBN: 9780854900329 £45.00

The law relating to distress and execution is a much neglected area of study, despite the fact that bailiffs regularly appear in literary works and their activities are a constant feature of court rolls. This two-volume work aims to provide a detailed and comprehensive history of both the development of the law and the profession of bailiff. The work chronicles the growth of enforcement law from Anglo-Saxon times, tracing the continuity in the common law and examining the intervention of statute. The seizure of goods by bailiffs was a familiar aspect of life in earlier times and this work sets their legal powers into their legal, social and economic context. Key themes are explored throughout both volumes: the protection given to certain essential goods, the efforts to regulate the conduct of bailiffs and the gradual shift of emphasis from promoting the rights of creditors to enhancing the protection of debtors.

Assignment and Arbitration: A Comparative Study, Sellier, Paperback, £49.00, ISBN: 9783866531093

This study focuses on the consequences of assignments of rights on arbitration agreements. The potential application of the arbitration agreement between the assignee and the obligor is thoroughly analysed at a comparative law level (Austria, Belgium, England, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and the United States). The author, attorney-at-law and scholar in the field of international arbitration, was awarded the Alfred E. von Overbeck Prize by the Swiss Institute of Comparative Law (ISDC) in March 2008 for the high quality of the manuscript of this study, even before publication. Indeed, this precious contribution not only helps properly understanding assignment issues situated at the crossroads between substantive and procedural law, but also develops appropriate solutions, i.e., both commercially and legally viable.

Lindquist, Stefanie; Cross, Frank, Measuring Judicial Activism, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £34.99, ISBN: 9780195370850

Measuring Judicial Activism supplies empirical analysis to the widely discussed concept of judicial activism at the United States Supreme Court. Complaints about activist Court decisions are common within contemporary political discourse, but these objections often have little substantive meaning beyond the speaker's disagreement with particular case outcomes. Frequently debated by legal scholars, judicial activism is shaped by the participants' ideological perspectives as well as by their subjective views regarding ambiguous constitutional provisions.

2004, and the Data Protection Act 1998. Sections of the book also consider freedom of information in the contexts of privacy, confidentiality and human rights, and cover statutes which deal with the related subjects of secrecy, whistle-blowing, money laundering, local government, intellectual property, and medical records.

Markesinis, Sir Basil; Fedtke, Joerg, Engaging with Foreign Law, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781841139470

This work by contrast attempts to present a developed theory of how comparison should be attempted, aiming at the practical and the useful. Its theme is presented through detailed essays, which look at court practice as well as business practice and, with the assistance of statistics, demonstrates what has an effect on the 'real' world and what merely represents academic literature written by teachers more interested in each other's delectation. This work thus aims to carve out a new niche for a comparative law in this era of globalisation.

Mettraux, Guénaël, The Law of Command Responsibility,

Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199559329

The book offers a unique study of the law of command or superior responsibility under international law. Born in the aftermath of the Second World War, the doctrine of superior responsibility provides that a military commander, a civilian leader or the leader of a terrorist, paramilitary or rebel group could be held criminally responsible in relation to crimes committed by subordinates even where he has taken no direct or personal part in the commission of these crimes. The basis of this type of liability lies in a grave and culpable failure on the part of the superior to fulfill his duties to prevent or punish crimes of subordinates. This volume provides a comprehensive and insightful dissection of the doctrine of superior responsibility, the scope of its application, its elements as well as the evidential difficulties involved in establishing the criminal responsibility of a superior in the context of a criminal prosecution.

New Zealand and the US, as well as relevant international law developments. Edited by Benjamin J Richardson, Shin Imai, and Kent McNeil, this collection of new essays features 13 contributors including many Indigenous scholars, drawn from around the world. The book provides a pithy overview of the subject-matter, enabling readers to appreciate the seminal issues, precedents and international legal trends of most concern to Indigenous peoples.

Ritchie, Andrew, APIL Guide to RTA Liability, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781846611643

APIL Guide to RTA Liability is a major new addition to the APIL Guides series on this core area of PI practice.

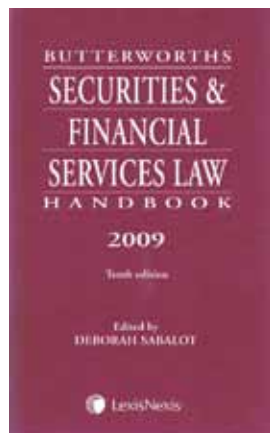

Written by a team of specialist PI lawyers, it provides detailed practical guidance. The work is broken down into 26 accessible chapters, each focussing on a particular aspect of RTA liability. The narrative chapters are accompanied by useful materials and precedents.

Rivlin, Geoffrey, Understanding the Law 5th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £14.99, ISBN: 9780199547203

Understanding the Law is a lively and accessible introduction to the law. Geoffrey Rivlin uses all his experience as a judge to provide a wealth of fascinating detail about the legal system and the many people who participate in it, including judges, lawyers, and police officers. An updated selection of real-life cases help bring the book to life, and there are questions to accompany each chapter to encourage the reader to engage with the material. This book is ideal for anyone considering a career in the law, preparing for university, or embarking on a law course at school or college.

Sabalot, Deborah, Butterworths Securities and Financial Services Law Handbook 2009, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £120.00, ISBN: 9781405737203

Butterworths Securities & Financial Services Law Handbook 2009 10th edition is published annually and brings together in a single volume the primary, secondary and European legislation which forms the regulatory framework for the financial services industry.

Sauter, Wolf; Schepel, Harm, State and Market in European Union Law, Cambridge University Press, paperback, £23.99, ISBN: 9780521674478

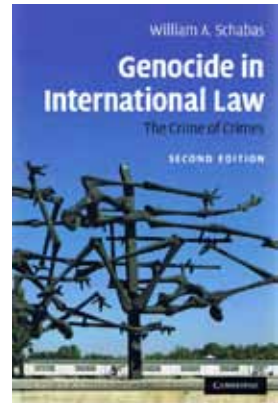

An examination of the legal framework of the EU internal market as established in the case law of the European Court of Justice, discussing in particular EC competition law, the free movement of goods, services, persons and capital and the evolution of the interpretation of the provisions.

Sauvant, Karl P.; Sachs, Lisa E, Effect of Treaties on Foreign Direct Investment: Bilateral Investment Treaties, Double Taxation Treaties and Investment Flows, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £68.00, ISBN: 9780195388534

In recent years, the treaties and strategies promoting global investment have changed dramatically. The widespread liberalization of economic policy has effectively spurred an increase in foreign direct investment (FDI). By encouraging foreign investors to enter international markets, many countries are witnessing exponential growth within their economies and local industries. This is a comprehensive assessment of the performance of these treaties, and presents the most recent literature on BITs and DTTs and their impact on foreign investments.

Schabas, William A. , Genocide in International Law: The Crime of Crimes 2nd ed, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £130.00, ISBN: 9780521883979

The second edition of this definitive work focuses on the judicial interpretation of the Convention, relying on debates in the International Law Commission, political statements in bodies like the General Assembly of the United Nations and the growing body of case law. Attention is given to the concept of protected groups, to problems of criminal prosecution and to issues of international judicial cooperation, such as extradition. The duty to prevent genocide and its relationship with the emerging doctrine of the ‘responsibility to protect’ are also explored.

Schauer, Frederick, Thinking Like a Lawyer: A New Introduction to Legal Reasoning, Harvard University Press, Hardback, £29.95, ISBN:

This primer on legal reasoning is aimed at law students and upper-level undergraduates. But it is also an original exposition of basic legal concepts that scholars and lawyers will find stimulating. It covers such topics as rules, precedent, authority, analogical reasoning, the common law, statutory interpretation, legal realism, judicial opinions, legal facts, and burden of proof.

Sjafjell, Beate, Towards a Sustainable European Company Law, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £92.00, ISBN: 9789041127686

This book goes to the very core of the ongoing debate on the function and future of European company law. Surprisingly, it does not make an argument in favour of changing EU law, but shows that we can take a great leap forward from where we are. For this powerful insight – and the innumerable recognitions that support it – this book is a timely and exciting new resource for lawyers and academics in ‘both camps’: those on the activist side of the issue, and those with company or official policy-making responsibilities.

Slapper, Gary; Kelly, David, The English Legal System

2009-2010, Routledge-Cavendish, Paperback, £28.99, ISBN: 9780415480963

The 10th edition of Slapper & Kelly’s The English Legal System assists students in the achievement of a good understanding of the law, its institutions and processes and sets the law and system in a social context, presenting a range of critical views. Slapper and Kelly’s textbook is firmly established as one of the leading undergraduate textbooks on the subject. A favourite with students and lecturers alike, it is essential reading for all those engaged in the study of the English legal system.

Snyder, Francis, The European Union and China, 1949-2008: Basic Documents and Commentary, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781841137247

This book is a comprehensive reference book and commentary on basic documents about relations between the EU and the People's Republic of China from 1949 to the present. It contains all significant official and unofficial documents in English and Chinese about EU-China relations since the founding of the PRC in 1949. Since the opening-up of China in 1979, and especially after the establishment of the EU in 1992, relations between the EU and China have developed apace.

Stebbins, Chantal, The Victorian Taxpayer and the Law: A Study in Constitutional Conflict, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780521899246

This book explains how legal safeguards were established and how they were affected by changing social, economic and political conditions. They were found to be restrictive and inadequate, and were undermined by the increasing dominance of the executive. Though they were significantly recast, they were not destroyed. They proved flexible and robust, and the challenge they faced in Victorian England revealed that the underlying, pervasive constitutional principle of consent from which they drew their legitimacy provided an enduring protection for the taxpayer.

Stockdale, Eric, Further and Worse Particulars, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Hardback, £14.95, ISBN: 9780854900411

thor and The Man who Shot the President – and other Lawyers, Eric Stockdale gave an essentially light-hearted account of his days as a student, barrister and Circuit judge. He coupled that with references to his overlapping experiences as an author and occasional lecturer, and introduced the reader to many members of the crowd scene of the law: from judges to prisoners, from court interpreters to irate litigants, and above all to some fellow barristers. As he was called to the Bar as long ago as 1950, he had by 2008 encountered many members of each category. The cases briefly mentioned in those books were criminal, civil and matrimonial (or uncivil). In many cases the original pleadings had often been supplemented with Further and Better Particulars. The present selection of reminiscences fills in some gaps and has been given the more appropriate title of Further and Worse Particulars.

Terra, Ben; Kajus, Julie, A Guide to the European VAT Directives 2009: 2 Volume Set, IBFD Publications BV, Paperback, 2 Volumes, £245.00, ISBN:

9789087220433

Now in a handy two-volume set, this annual publication provides a comprehensive overview of the most essential parts of VAT Directives in Europe. This edition includes the latest legislation changes and case law up to 1 January 2009. For 2009, the “old” 6th Directive continues to be part of the product. This book set is meant to serve as a textbook for advanced students of tax law and/or Community law and as a reference book for (indirect) tax law or Community law practitioners.

Thompson, Mark P. , Modern Land Law 4th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £28.99, ISBN: 9780199550814

ficult subject. Mark Thompson moves away from the typically dense, black-letter approach adopted by many textbooks to take a more engaging look at the social context within which land law operates. The book is structured to reflect the key topics that are typically covered on the LLB making it ideal for use as a main textbook and the contextual approach and selective coverage ensure that it offers in-depth and rigorous analysis and discussion.

Thurston, John, A Practitioner's Guide to Executorship and Administration 7th ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £58.00, ISBN: 9781847661111

This is a concise and thorough guide to all matters pertaining to the executor-

ship and administration of an estate. It covers all aspects of estate administration and will prove invaluable in estate, will and probate practice. Packed full of technical information, it provides guidance to the administration of estates of those dying testate, intestate or partially intestate, from taking initial instructions to preparing final accounts and distributing the estate. A host of forms, examples, practical suggestions and technical tips are included.

Treves, Tullio; Pineschi, Laura; Tanzi, Attila; Pitea, Cesare, Non-Compliance Procedures and Mechanisms and the Effectiveness of International Environmental Agreements, T.M.C. Asser Press, Hardback, £90.00,

ISBN: 9789067042734

This book describes and analyses the functioning of an increasingly important type of international procedures of control, aimed at supervising implementation by States of their commitments under international treaties in the field of environmental protection. Dealing with theoretical issues of their relationship with general international law and European Union law, the essays answer important questions.

WTO Secretariat, A Handbook on Reading WTO Goods and Services Schedules, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780521706827

This is a detailed guide on how to read WTO Schedules of Commitments for Goods and Services. The Schedules are part of the Legal Texts of the WTO Uruguay Round Agreements. They comprise about 27,000 pages of specific commitments by 153 members of the WTO on market access conditions for their markets. Understanding how to interpret the Schedules is essential for anyone wishing to glean information for academic, official, or business purposes. Commissioned and reviewed by the WTO Secretariat, this is a unique guide to understanding the Schedules.

Walker, Clive; Parkinson, John; Staniforth, Andrew; PNLD, Blackstone's Counter-Terrorism Handbook, Oxford University Press, Flexicover, £21.99, ISBN: 9780199559800

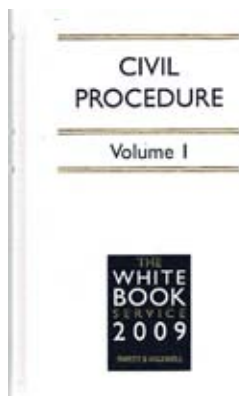

The timely publication of this invaluable and user-friendly book provides non-specialist patrol officers with a practical guide to both the national and police counter-terrorism structures and strategies and the relevant provisions of anti-terrorism legislation, drawn from the Police National Legal Database. Designed in the same portable, weather-proof style as the successful Blackstone's Operational Handbook, this book is an ideal practical resource - a quick and easy reference tool when on the beat.

Walker, The Right Hon Lord Justice, The White Book Service 2009: Full CD-ROM & Print Pack - Civil Procedure Volumes 1 & 2 & CD-ROM, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd,

Hardback, 2 Volumes & Full CD-ROM, £513.25, ISBN: 9781847038432

The White Book Service 2009: Civil Procedure Volume 1: General Procedure & Volume 2: Special Procedure and Resources, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, 2 Volumes & Forms CD-ROM, £433.80, ISBN: 9781847038425

Whether you practise in the High Court or county courts, the White Book Service 2009 covers every aspect of civil procedure from Rules to guidance, commentary and forms. Regular supplements and newsletters mean you are fully briefed on changes and the information to hand is the most current.

Ward, Ian, Law in Context: Law, Text, Terror, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780521740210

The relationship between law and terrorism has re-emerged recently as a pressing issue in contemporary jurisprudence. Terrorism appears to take law to its limit, whilst the demands of counter-terrorism hold the cause of justice in contempt. At this point the case for engaging alternative intellectual approaches and resources is compelling. Ian Ward argues that through a closer appreciation of the ethical and aesthetic dimensions of terror, as well as the historical, political and cultural, we can better comprehend modern expressions and experiences of terrorism. For this reason, alongside juristic responses to modern expressions of terrorism, Law, Text, Terror examines a variety of supplementary literary texts as well as alternative intellectual approaches; from the drama of Euripides and Shakespeare, to the rhetoric and poetry of Burke and Shelley, the literary feminisms of Lessing and Rame, and the narrative existentialism of Conrad, Coetzee, Dostoevsky and DeLillo.

Watts, Peter, Bowstead & Reynolds On Agency 18th ed: 2nd supplement, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781847038104

Wetter, Anna, Enforcing European Union Law on

Exports of Dual-use Goods, Oxford University Press, hardback, £35.00, ISBN: 9780199548965

This report identifies and assesses the role that national law enforcement actors and public prosecutors in the EU member states play in helping prevent the proliferation of weapons of mass destruction (WMD) by stopping the illicit trade in dual-use items. In the 1980s and 1990s, some EU member states discovered cases of illegal trade in sensitive items for use in, for example, the Pakistani nuclear weapon programme. The report discusses how these cases were dealt with in these countries, using a case study model. Acknowledging that dual-use goods are subject to the free movement of goods within the EU, the report emphasizes the importance of coordinating customs and licensing standards among the EU member states to prevent abuse of the EU market for ‘licence shopping’. It also presents the argument for the coordination of prosecution and penalties for offenders. In order to show the level of coordination that is required, the report provides an overview of both the international, EU and national legal frameworks for control of the export of dual-use goods.

Winfield, Helen; Vaux, Gary; Counsel and Care, CPAG: Paying for Care Handbook 6th ed, CPAG, Paperback, £19.50, ISBN: 9781906076207

This book provides clear, practical guidance for adults in need of care and support, their carers and relatives, and professionals giving advice or administering the different schemes of services, charges and benefits. This includes welfare rights advisers, social workers, solicitors, information providers, and community care and financial assessors.

Zeller, Bruno, Damages Under the Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £82.00, ISBN: 9780195371864

Presents a practical and detailed analysis of the methods used to determine and calculate damages under the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG). Incorporating both worldwide judicial and arbitral decisions, Damages Under the CISG is a unique and comprehensive guide to fully understanding this important area of law. It provides authoritative guidance on the differences that exist between uniform international instruments and domestic laws and offers comparative analysis of the calculation of damages under the civil and common law systems. The fault system and causation principle are compared with the foreseeability principle, one of the key considerations under Article 74 of the CISG. Where applicable to understanding damages issues, the UNIDROIT Principles and the Principles of European Contract Law are referenced in depth.

WAMS – Wildy Account Management System

After months of planning and development Wildy's online Account Management System (WAMS) is up and running and ready to use.

WAMS will allow you to view all aspects of your account online. You will be able to look at invoices issued on your account, outstanding book orders, standing orders and subscriptions, and view full details for each. You can also use the Quick Orders tab to place orders using ISBNs – particularly useful if you are ordering a large number of books at once. Also included are various reports that you can either view on-screen or download to your desktop.

To start using WAMS you will need to register yourself first. Go to <https://accounts.wildy.com> and click on the New User link and enter the details requested. The field for username and password are for you to enter a username and password of your own choice to use when accessing WAMS.

Once you have completed the registration form you will get an automated e-mail to verify your e-mail address, and once we have authenticated your details you will be able to log-in and start using the service.

WAMS supports multiple registrations for each account, so your colleagues can also register themselves as users in the same way.

We have designed WAMS to be easy to use and intuitive, and we hope you will like the look and feel of the site as much as the functionality.

TOM BINGHAM AND THE TRANSFORMATION OF THE LAW
A Liber Amicorum

Edited by Mads Andenas and Duncan Fairgrieve

ISBN: 9780199566181 968 pp £95.00 Hardback

Tom Bingham is among the most influential judges of the twentieth century, having occupied in succession the most senior judicial offices, Master of the Rolls, Lord Chief Justice and, currently, Senior Law Lord.

His judicial and academic work has deeply influenced the development of the law in a period of substantial legal change. In particular his role in establishing the new UK Supreme Court, and his views on the rule of law and judicial independence have left a profound mark on UK constitutional law. He has also been instrumental in championing the academic and judicial use of comparative law, through his judicial work and involvement with the British Institute of International and Comparative Law.

This volume collects around fifty essays from colleagues and those influenced by Lord Bingham, from across academia and legal practice. The essays survey Lord Bingham's pivotal role in the transformations that have taken place in the legal system during his career.

human rights pl n The basic rights and freedoms to which all humans are entitled, often held to include the right to life and liberty, freedom of thought and expression, and equality before the law.

Lester, Pannick & Herberg: Human Rights Law and Practice

Third Edition

Written by three leading experts on human rights, together with a notable team of contributors, this renowned textbook examines the law and practice in the United Kingdom and under the European Convention on Human Rights. It refers to relevant international and comparative human rights law elsewhere in the Commonwealth, Ireland and the United States. The third edition also places the Human Rights Act in context, recalling its history and explaining the roles of Parliament in scrutinising legislation to ensure compatibility with human rights laws.

Practical and accessible for judges, lawyers and students, the third edition includes many new cases and all the information needed to interpret and apply a complicated area of law.

“Now accepted as one of the most authoritative works on human rights in the context of United Kingdom law.”

Butterworths Guide to the Legal Services Act 2007

by James Thorne and Iain Miller (General Editors)

LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, ISBN

9781405744539, approx.

£95.00, due May 2009

The Legal Services Act 2007 revolutionises the provision of legal services in the UK. This new book is the only guide to the new legislation. Providing an overview of the Act, the book signposts how its implementation will change the legal world. It explains how to take advantage of the new model, and identify new opportunities arising from the reform. This user-friendly guide provides: a clear explanation of the legislation and expert views of the likely impact and how to take advantage of the changes; a topic-based approach, focussing on the most important changes and developments for law firms and other stakeholders who may be looking to take advantage of the reform; and a timely, concise and accessible commentary on the meaning and effects of the new legislation. The authors analyse the impact of the liberalisation of the market for legal services in England and Wales, and examine the future of the regulation of the profession. This book conveniently includes the Act, with commencement dates, the explanatory notes and associated materials making it your one-stop shop for guidance on this revolutionary new legislation. With a foreword from the Chairman of the Legal Services Board, David Edmonds CBE, the inclusion of the Act with commencement dates, the explanatory notes and the associated materials, Butterworths Guide to the Legal Services Act 2007 truly is your one-stop shop for guidance on this revolutionary new legislation.

Solicitors' Code of Conduct 2007- June 2009 Edition

by Solicitors Regulation Authority

Law Society Publishing, Paperback, ISBN

9781853288135, approx.

£29.95, due June 2009.

The 2009 edition of the Solic- itors' Code of Conduct 2007 provides thorough coverage of changes made to the rules governing solicitors since publication of the first edition in 2007. The code is issued by the Solicitors Regulation Authority as essential reading not only for every solicitor, but for all who wish to know the standards of service and conduct expected of solicitors. Key changes to the Code include substantial amendments to support firm-based regulation and LDPs (affecting Rule 12 – Framework of practice; Rule 14 – Recognised bodies (formerly Incorporated practice); and Rule 20 – Requirements of practice), and ensure that the rules apply to all managers and employees in firms (affecting Rule 5 – Business management in England and Wales; Rule 7 – Publicity; and Rule 9 – Referrals of business). In addition, the Solicitors' Recognised Bodies Regulations 2009 came into force on 31st March 2009. New partnerships and LLPs are now required to apply for recognition before they can provide legal services. The regulations include coverage of the application process, conditions of recognition, renewal of recognition, and approval of a non-lawyer individual as suitable to be a 'manager'. The 2009 edition follows the format established by the 2007 edition, which substantially revised the rules and guidance. The standards are set out in the form of 25 mandatory rules. The core duties are set out in Rule 1. Each rule is accompanied by guidance which explains the rule and aids compliance.

Companion to the Solicitors' Code of Conduct 2007, 2nd edition

by Peter Camp
Law Society Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781853288036, approx. £34.95, due July 2009.

Understanding and interpreting the Solicitors' Code of Conduct is key to compliance. The second edition of this invaluable companion provides dedicated commentary and guidance, helping you to understand the changes that have been made and how they may apply in practice. Easy to navigate and comprehensive, this invaluable supplementary resource offers a chapter on each rule, following the same structure as the Code for easy cross-referencing, and analyses of each amended rule compared to the old in order to identify differences. Ensure that you understand the changes and are compliant with the Code with this handy and concise guide. This volume does not include the full text of the Code itself.

The Solicitor's Handbook 2009 2nd edition

by Andrew Hopper QC and Gregory Teverson-Jones QC Law Society Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781853287794, approx. £69.95, due June 2009.

The Solicitors' Handbook 2009 has been comprehensively updated to take account of the latest changes in the rules and regulations governing solicitors. The handbook draws together regulatory guidance and information into one handy volume. Its up-to-date coverage includes: the introduction of LDPs and firm-based regulation; changes introduced by the Solicitors' Code of Conduct 2007; and the updated Solicitors' Accounts Rules 1998 (up to 31st March 2009). The authors, leading figures in the field, set out the extent of the SRA's powers and describe how the regulatory and disciplinary processes work. The book includes the text of the Solicitors' Code of Conduct, June 2009 Edition and the Solicitors' Accounts Manual, 11th Edition.

Morgan and Burden on Computer Contracts, 8th edition

by Richard Morgan and Kit Burden
Sweet & Maxwell,

Hardback, ISBN
9781847036117, approx
£195.00, due May 2009

This classic text presents a highly practical analysis of contracts relevant to the purchase and use of computers and computer services. Based around an extensive set of precedents it is an ideal drafting tool for all those requiring up-to-date guidance on an area recently subject to profound change. The new edition contains over 200 pages of precedent material with detailed drafting guidance on each contract, and covers hardware, software and computer contracts. The book deals with e-commerce, the Internet and data protection issues, and features a new chapter on open source and a section on procurement procedure. All recent legislation and case is considered, and a CD-ROM containing all the precedents- ideal for rapid drafting and amendment- is included.

Illegality and Public Policy 2nd edition

by Professor Richard A Buckley
Sweet & Maxwell,
Hardback, ISBN
9781847032966, approx
£185.00, due June 2009.

This book analyses in depth situations where a contract cannot be enforced because to do so would result either in an illegal act or be against public policy. Its incisive exploration of a complex area helps practitioners find creative ways of using the field to their advantage. The new edition takes a fresh and up-to-date view of illegality based on a steady stream of important recent case law, in areas such as the effect of fraudulent concealment on a contract, covenants in restraint of trade and the effect of illegality upon the enforceability of contracts of employment. It also examines in detail the recent Law Commission project on this area.

Guide to Taxpayer Rights and Revenue Powers 2nd edition

by Robert Maas and Peter Howarth
Tottel Publishing,
Paperback, ISBN
9781847662668, approx.
£95.00, due May 2009.

Written by leading practitioners in the field, this new edition looks at the statutory provisions on which HMRC's approach to investigations, to tax collection and to penalties, is based. The book provides a detailed explanation of relevant legislation and related case law and HMRC practices. It focuses on the boundaries of the powers of the HMRC and the statutory rights that the taxpayer has when confronted by the Inland Revenue.

Communications Law Handbook

by Mike Conradi (General Editor)
Tottel Publishing,
Paperback, ISBN
9781847663115, approx.
£120.00, due July 2009.

This brand new title is written as a desk-top first port of call and as such takes a problem-solving approach to the area of communications law. Checklists, flow charts, case studies and worked examples make the book highly practical and an ideal first port of call for those seeking guidance on UK and EU law as it relates to UK telecommunications law. Written by contributors from Allen & Overy, Arnold & Porter LLP, BT, DLA Piper LLP, Denton Wilde Sapte LLP and Kemp Little LLP the coverage includes: Data Protection and Privacy; Ofcom General Conditions of Authorisation; Specific Conditions; the Undertakings; Content Regulation; Wireless Telegraphy; and Powers and Duties.

Restrictive Covenants and Freehold Land: A Practitioners Guide 3rd edition

by Andrew Francis Jordan Publishing,
Hardback, ISBN
9781846611728, approx

£90.00, due July 2009.

This new edition is an essential guide for the practitioner requiring an understanding of the law of restrictive covenants affecting freehold land. In this book a complex topic is made intelligible by easily understood text, complemented by flowcharts and checklists, which enables the adviser to solve problems quickly and accurately. The author brings his extensive experience of cases involving covenants to the work, dealing with issues that arise in practice both comprehensively and with authority. The third edition has been fully revised and enlarged within the existing framework. Recent important cases considered include: City Inns v Ten Trinity Square, Graham v Easington District Council, Winter v Traditional & Contemporary Contracts, Shephard v Turner and Field Common v Elmbridge Borough Council. Changes effected by the Planning Act 2008 to the power to override covenants, and the new regime in the Lands Tribunal under the Courts Tribunals and Enforcement Act 2007 are examined in full. The book considers all the key issues affecting restrictive covenants, including: how to draft restrictive covenants; how to understand the meaning of the words used in them and how to advise on their validity and enforceability, with consideration of declaratory claims; how to enforce covenants by injunctions, or by damages; how to spot the special rules which apply to statutory authorities when imposing, overriding, or enforcing restrictive covenants; how to deal with applications to discharge, or modify covenants in the Lands Tribunal - with summaries of most of the decisions in this jurisdiction within the past three decades and earlier; and how to arrange restrictive covenant indemnity policies.

Patent Ethics: Litigation

by David Hricik
Oxford University Press, Paperback, ISBN 9780195367096, approx £90.00, due May 2009.
Patent Ethics: Litigation serves as a guide to the ethical issues arising in the course of the patent litigation process. By providing relevant rules and case law, it allows practitioners to identify ethical problems before they arise and to address them most effectively when they do. Patent Ethics: Litigation is the second of two volumes on patent ethics—the first is on prosecution-written by Professor David Hricik and Drinker Biddle partner Mercedes Meyer. This treatise is the first of its kind to combine the PTO rules with commentary by the author, which distills the author's own experience and expertise in patent litigation into effective practice strategies. A unique and well-organized tool for confronting practical ethical issues and conflicts of interest that increasingly arise in patent litigation.

Co-operation between National Competition Agencies in the Enforcement of EC Competition Law

By Silke Brammer
Hart Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781841139319, approx £110.00, due May 2009

In May 2004, the enforcement of the EC competition rules changed radically. Under Regulation 1/2004, the national competition authorities (NCAs) of all 27 Member States are called upon to actively participate, together with the European Commission, in the enforcement of Articles 81 and 82 EC. In order to ensure the efficient and consistent application of the law, Regulation 1/2003 provides for a number of co-operation mechanisms at the heart of which lies the European Competition Network (ECN). The ECN acts as a common forum for information exchange, co-ordination and discussion. This book provides an in-depth analysis of the rules governing co-operation within the ECN. It is a valuable source for all working in the field of EC competition law: practitioners, company lawyers, competition authority officials and academics. The author focuses on horizontal co-operation between the NCAs of different Member States. She starts by looking at the arrangements for case allocation, discusses the rules on information exchange and also deals with the consultation procedure prior to the adoption of final NCA decisions. The existing rules are assessed not only in the light of their purpose, ensuring efficiency and consistency in the application of the law, but also reviewed against the requirements of the EU Charter and the European Convention on Human Rights. Particular attention is devoted to issues arising in the event of parallel procedures by several NCAs. This includes the applicability of the ne bis in idem principle and the question which duties of the NCAs result from the loyalty obligation enshrined in Article 10 EC. Finally, the author explores whether the ECN concept of co-operation and networking could be applied more broadly in the context of European integration.

Ashley

Roy Heywood has worked with Law Books for 41 years, mostly for Wildy and Sons Ltd. Last year Roy's six year old, and only grandson, Ashley Hyde, was diagnosed with a rare and aggressive childhood cancer called "Neuroblastoma". Of the four stages of Neuroblastoma, Ashley's is at Stage Four.

He has received eleven rounds of TVD Chemotherapy, and has undergone a two day stem cell, bone marrow harvest. He has had the tumour from his stomach removed, then high dosage chemotherapy, radiation, plus a course of CIS-Retinoic Acid.

Eighty percent of U.K. Neuroblastoma patients relapse during or after this treatment. Other procedures available elsewhere are not presently available or permitted in the U.K. Should Ashley relapse or fail to enter remission he will need to go to New York for treatments not available in the U.K., requiring large scale funding. This treatment is claimed to be 80% successful!

Christopher Boulton (Roy's nephew and Ashley's uncle) is participating in the 10K London Run to raise money for Ashley and other children like him. Also running for Ashley in the event are Kriss Tottman and Kieron Cronin of Health Pro Personal Training. Online sponsorship forms for Christopher Boulton can be found at:-

FACES OF LAW

Photographs by James F. Hunkin

£45 ISBN: 9780854900275 Hardback

'Faces of Law' is a unique photographic chronicle of 100 people working in the legal profession at the turn of the twenty-first century. It forms part of an on-going chronicle - 'Faces of Britain'.

The collection covers a broad spectrum of activities including some of the country's most respected judges, solicitors and barristers as well as support staff and others.

Each portrait is accompanied by a personal testimony providing a fascinating insight into the working lives and ideas of the men and women who help shape our society. Alongside this, there is a short factual piece about some aspect of each person's work.

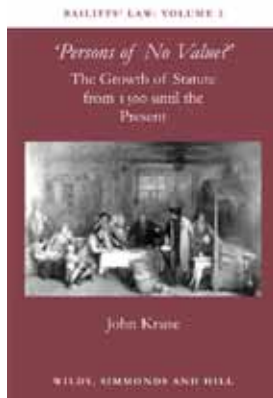

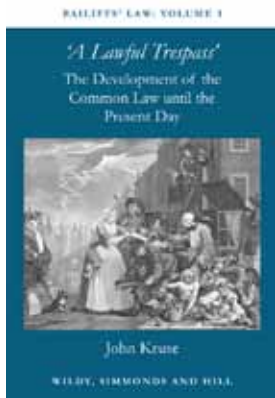

'Hunkin's quiet yet powerful portraits provide an honest document of individuals working within the legal sector'.

Clare Freestone, Assistant Curator of Photographs, National Portrait Gallery

'This remarkable collection of photographs shows the faces of lawyers from all over the legal landscape. It shows the variety of what lawyers do and the variety of lawyers who do it. The words they have chosen, tell us something of how they think or feel about what they do but the photographs tell us even more about them. It all adds up to an intriguing picture of the British legal system as it is today'.

JOHN KRUSE

The law relating to distress and execution is a much neglected area of study, despite the fact that bailiffs regularly appear in literary works and their activities are a constant feature of court rolls. This two-volume work aims to provide a detailed and comprehensive history of both the development of the law and the profession of bailiff. The work chronicles the growth of enforcement law from Anglo-Saxon times, tracing the continuity in the common law and examining the intervention of statute. The seizure of goods by bailiffs was a familiar aspect of life in earlier times and this work sets their legal powers into their legal, social and economic context. Key themes are explored throughout both volumes: the protection given to certain essential goods, the efforts to regulate the conduct of bailiffs and the gradual shift of emphasis from promoting the rights of creditors to enhancing the protection of debtors.

Working within the field of social welfare, John Kruse has specialised in the law of enforcement for the last twenty years, and has written numerous books and articles on the subject. He has also acted as a consultant inter alia to the Ministry of Justice and the Council of Europe.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AND LEGAL REFORM IN CHINA

Chao Xi

Law in East Asia Series

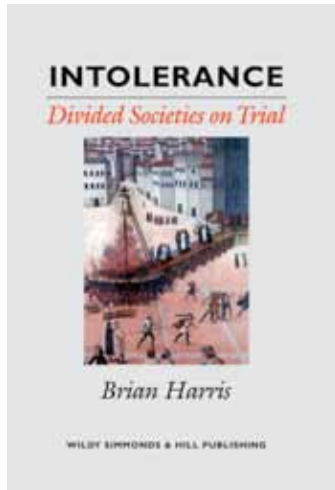

ISBN: 9780854900367

306pp. Hardback £65

State-owned enterprise (SOE) reform has been at the heart of China's post-Mao economic reforms. Since early 1990s, a large number of Chinese SOEs have been transformed into joint stock companies, and many of them are now listed on China's domestic stock exchanges. The corporatisation and listing of the SOEs did not, however, bring about significant improvement in their performance or in the manner in which they are governed.

This book examines the effectiveness of the key legal reforms that have been put in place for addressing the governance issues facing Chinese listed companies. The focus is on three important – but understudied – aspects of corporate governance reform in China: regulation of the private sales of corporate control, institutional shareholder activism, and board level monitoring and control. In addition, this book attempts to explore a political economy understanding of formal legal changes in China with particular reference to China's corporate board reform.

Chao Xi is in the Faculty of Law, Chinese University of Hong Kong, and previously taught at the University of London as a Visiting Lecturer in Law. He is the co-author of Doing Business in China (Routledge, 2008) and has contributed articles to a range of journals, including the Journal of Comparative Law and the Journal of Chinese Economic and Business Studies.

INTOLERANCE: DIVIDED SOCIETIES ON TRIAL

Brian Harris OBE, QC

ISBN: 9780854900251

Hardback 300pp.

£19.99

Most of us are intolerant of something, whether it is our neighbour's dog, his politics or the colour of his skin, but we may not always recognize our lack of tolerance. By making extensive use of surviving court documentation from famous - and not so famous - trials, Brian Harris is able to explore several issues that have given rise to deep-rooted divisions within Western society, such as slavery, religion and homosexuality. The result is a highly readable narrative, which often challenges traditional interpretations of the cases concerned, punctuated throughout by the author's pertinent insights into the personalities, events and legal processes of the day.

The cases include the 'witches' of Salem whose tragic story was plundered by Arthur Miller in his play, The Crucible, the execution of a seventy-year-old woman for giving shelter to a man on the run from England's last rebellion, the prosecution of a schoolteacher for teaching evolution, the persecution of Oscar Wilde and the prosecution of Penguin Books for publishing Lady Chatterley's Lover. Intolerance: Divided Societies on Trial provides an engaging and thought-provoking account of man's intolerance to man through the ages.

Introducing

THE BRITISH MANUAL OF INTERNATIONAL AIR CARRIAGE

The British Manual of International Air Carriage is a practical guide to the law of international air carriage, particularly as it applies in the United Kingdom under the Carriage by Air Act 1961, Regulations of European Parliament and of the Council, and British and international judicial authorities. It provides a clear guide to the choice of law and jurisdiction in any specific carriage and explains the legal provisions and principles applicable to a contract of air carriage in given circumstances. The book draws together the numerous and disparate provisions of the treaties governing air carriage into a coherent, organized, and easily accessible framework for the analysis of legal claims and the conduct of international air carriage litigation in the UK.

Specialists in aviation law will find this a useful book for easy reference. The book will also serve as a practical guide to practitioners without extensive experience in this field when they are advising clients and handling litigation. Finally, jurists, arbitrators, mediators, and members of the aviation and insurance communities will find it helpful when dealing with claims and losses arising from international air carriage.
