Volume 15 Issue 8 Published Monthly Aug/Sept 2010

MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Abbey, Robert; Richards, Mark, A Practical Approach to Conveyancing 12th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £36.99, ISBN: 9780199589708

Combining coverage of both residential and commercial conveyancing, the book guides the reader through the various stages of a typical conveyancing transaction and provides highly practical guidance on each stage, from first receiving instructions and undertaking pre-contract searches and enquiries right through to completion, enabling the reader to approach all aspects of a conveyancing transaction with confidence in practice.

Abbey, Robert; Richards, Mark, Property Law Handbook 2010 - 2011, Oxford University Press, Paperback, A4, £32.99, ISBN: 9780199589692

The Property Law Handbook is the ideal companion to guide you through the intricacies of the conveyancing process. Drawing on the authors' considerable experience of legal practice, and suitable for use on courses with either a residential or a commercial conveyancing focus, the book combines lively and accessible explanations of often complex processes with highly practical guidance on how to approach each stage of a conveyancing transaction in practice.

Adriaanse, John, Construction Contract Law: The Essentials 3rd ed, Palgrave Macmillan, Paperback, £31.99, ISBN: 9780230230446

Covering the essentials of the subject, including how the law has developed, the reasoning behind key contract clauses and how contract law is applied in practice, this is an invaluable guide for students at undergraduate and postgraduate level. Thoroughly updated, it now includes amendments to the Housing Grants, Construction and Regeneration Act.

Alessandrini, Donatella, Developing Countries and the Multilateral Trade Regime: The Failure and Promise of the WTOs' Development Mission, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £45.00, ISBN: 9781849460309

This book explores the way in which 'development' has functioned within the multilateral trade regime since de-colonisation. In particular, it investigates the shift from early approaches to development under the GATT to current approaches to development under the WTO. It argues that a focus on the creation and transformation of a scientific apparatus that links forms of knowledge about the so-called Third World with forms of power and intervention is crucial for understanding the six decades long development enterprise of both the GATT and the WTO.

Arkes, Hadley, Constitutional Illusions and Anchoring Truths: The Touchstone of the Natural Law, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £17.99, ISBN: 9780521732086

This book stands against the current of judgments long settled in the schools of law in regard to classic cases such as Lochner v. New York, Near v. Minnesota, the Pentagon Papers case, and Bob Jones University v. United States. Professor Hadley Arkes takes as his subject concepts long regarded as familiar, settled principles in our law – 'prior restraints', ex post facto laws – and he shows that there is actually a mystery about them, that their meaning is not as settled or clear as we have long supposed. Arkes shows this in his text, arguing that the logic of the natural law provides the key to this chain of legal puzzles.

Armstrong, Kenneth A, Governing Social Inclusion: Law and Politics of EU Co-ordination, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199278374

Strategies to tackle social exclusion are now conducted in a multi-level context. On the one hand, the EU is seeking to steer national systems through the open method of co-ordination. On the other hand, in the United Kingdom, it is not only central government policies that aim to tackle social exclusion, but also the devolved administrations and local government. By exploring this changing governance context, the book addresses the impact of new modes of governance on the conduct of social inclusion strategies in the EU and UK.

Atkin, Bill, The International Survey of Family Law 2010, Family Law, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781846612329

The International Survey of Family Law is the International Society of Family Law's annual review of developments in family law across the world. The 2010 edition covers developments in over 20 countries written by leading academics and family law experts. Each article is accompanied by a French language abstract.

Baamir, Abdulrahman Yahya, Shari'a Law in Commercial and Banking Arbitration: Law and Practice in Saudi Arabia, Ashgate Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9781409403777

This book provides an analysis of how commercial and banking disputes can be settled under the Islamic regime for arbitration. The work focuses on the Saudi legal system as representative of Shari'a law in commercial and banking arbitration. Where relevant, comparisons are also made with the settlement of banking disputes in Egypt and the UAE. The volume provides a general introduction to the Saudi law and to the main principles and sources of Islamic Shari'a, on which Saudi law is based.

Barber, Bernadette, ICSA's Corporate Governance Handbook, ICSA Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £74.95, ISBN: 9781860724329

The new ICSA Corporate Governance Handbook looks at all aspects of corporate governance in the UK, providing practical advice and guidance on implementation, monitoring and best practice. The Handbook commentary is supported by a range of practical checklists, summaries and case studies, and also the text of key codes of practice and guidelines.

Barden, Garrett; Murphy, Timothy, Law and Justice in Community, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199592685

This book proposes a general theory of the nature of law based on the assertion that law exists in all human communities before it is ever posited or in any other sense formally expressed. The book begins by exploring the origins of civil society and the function of law. The authors adopt the Roman law definition of justice as the willingness to give each what is due, and they examine the mutual rights or entitlements that must be for the most part honoured for any society to survive. In addition to distinguishing natural justice from conventional justice, and setting out in detail the distinction between distributive justice, rectificatory justice and reciprocal justice. The study proceeds to analyse justice and the trading order; the nature of adjudication and interpretation; the relationship between morality, law and legislation; natural law; rights; law and coercion; and the authority and legitimacy of law.

Barnard, Catherine, The Sub- stantive Law of the EU: The Four Freedoms 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £28.99, ISBN: 9780199562244

The Substantive Law of the EU by Catherine Barnard is the perfect resource for anyone wishing to gain a thorough grasp of the four freedoms in EU law. An introductory chapter outlines the background to EU law in this area: the role of free trade theory, the evolution and expansion of the internal market and the fundamental principles underpinning this process. The following sections then provide a detailed examination of the four freedoms - goods, persons, services, and capital - which make up the core of EU law.

Bartlett, Francesca; Mortensen, Reid; Tranter,

Alternative Perspectives on Lawyers and Legal Ethics: Reimagining the Profession, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780415546522

The study of legal ethics and the legal profession has emerged as a distinct and important field of scholarship over the last 30 years. The book features significant and timely contributions which take contemporary and non-mainstream perspectives on the current and future shape of the legal profession. The essays not only describe the rapidly changing profession but canvas different approaches to scholarship on the legal profession, and the collection seeks to explore a diverse and contextualised profession from a number of angles.

Beatson, J. ; Burrowsa, Andrew; Cartwright, John; Anson, Anson's Law of Contract 29th ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £88.00, ISBN: 9780199593330; Paperback, £35.99, ISBN: 9780199282470

Anson's Law of Contract is a classic text in the field, renowned for offering an accurate, authoritative and stimulating account of the law and its underlying principles. In this edition Sir Jack Beatson has been joined by Professor Andrew Burrows and Professor John Cartwright to create an exceptional author team. The 29th edition continues to provide comprehensive and detailed coverage of all topics covered on modern contract law courses, and has been completely revised and updated to incorporate all notable developments in case law, legislation, and academic debate.

Bishop, Simon; Walker, Mike, The Economics of EC Competition Law: Concepts, Application and Measurement University edition, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £41.95, ISBN: 9780421931909

This acclaimed work provides an overview of economic theory and analysis as it applies to European competition law, an area of steadily increasing importance as regulatory authorities have moved to adopt more economics-based concepts when deciding what constitutes non-competitive behaviour.

Bourne, Nicholas, Bourne on Company Law 5th ed, Routledge, Paperback, £26.99, ISBN: 9780415563505

Bourne on Company Law carefully examines and guides students through the way that legal rules are applied in this core commercial area. The fundamental topics are broken down throughout into short, clear sections separated by subheadings for easy navigation before references are made to further literature in specific and extensive reading lists.

Bowers, John; Misra, Eleena, Procedure in Civil Courts and Tribunals 3rd ed, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Paperback, £29.00, ISBN: 9780854900510

Formerly published as part of the popular Cavendish Practice Notes series, Procedure in Civil Courts and Tribunals provides an accessible guide to litigation in the County or High Court, as well as providing a useful overview of some specialist tribunals e.g. the Employment Tribunal. Of particular interest to practitioners will be the chapter on appeals which includes up-to-date guidance on the applicable rules and practice direction, together with practical advice on appellate advocacy. In addition to providing practical and comprehensive guidance on civil litigation, the authors give valuable insights into written and oral advocacy, witness statements and affidavits, case preparation and courtroom skills. Presented in a compact, user-friendly format, Procedure in Civil Courts and Tribunals also contains an array of helpful checklists which will prove invaluable to the busy practitioner.

Brunnee, Jutta; Toope, Stephen J., Legitimacy and Legality in International Law: An Interactional Account, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780521706834

By drawing together the legal theory of Lon Fuller and the insights of constructivist international relations scholars, this book articulates a pragmatic view of how international obligation is created and maintained. First, legal norms can only arise in the context of social norms based on shared understandings. Second, internal features of law, or ‘criteria of legality’, are crucial to law’s ability to promote adherence, to inspire ‘fidelity’. Third, legal norms are built, maintained or destroyed through a continuing practice of legality.

Buck, Trevor; Gillespie, Alisdair A; Ross, Lynne; Sargent, Sarah, International Child Law 2nd ed, Routledge, Paperback, £35.99, ISBN: 9780415487177

International Child Law examines and discusses the international legal framework and issues relating to children at both a global and regional level. Analysing both public and private international legal aspects, this cross-disciplinary text promotes an understanding of the ongoing development of child law and the protection of the child. This second edition has been substantially updated and revised, and three new chapters have been introduced. Together with new material on sexual exploitation and children’s involvement in armed conflict, a new chapter on indigenous children's rights responds to the recent United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples.

Burrows, Andrew; Peel, Edward, Contract Formation and Parties, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £115.00, ISBN: 9780199583706

This book contains papers written for the eighth Norton Rose Law Colloquium, held in Oxford in September 2009. The theme of the eighth colloquium and of this volume is Contract Formation and Parties, vital to Practitioners and of key interest to academics. The book begins with an introduction by the editors which draws out the central features of the discussions at the colloquium and includes a foreword by Lord Justice Longmore. It is then structured around two primary themes of the colloquium and includes contributions from eminent academics as well as practitioner perspective.

CCH (Hardmans), Hardman's Tax Rates and Tables 2010-2011 Special Edition, CCH Editions, Softcover, £24.95, ISBN: 9781847983329

Your reliable companion containing the raw data you can trust when calculating tax liabilities. CCH has taken great care in presenting a considerable amount of information in the most easily-accessible way. This Special Edition includes information up to and including the June 2010 Emergency Budget.

Cahn, Andreas; Donald, David C., Comparative Company Law; Text and

Cases on the Laws Governing Corporations in Germany, the UK and the USA, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £45.00, ISBN: 9780521143790

It can be difficult for students of comparative company law both to understand the internationally relative nature of a legal system and grasp it in practical detail. This book is designed to address that problem. Each chapter begins with a discursive analysis of the laws in Germany, the UK and the USA, framed by a comparative presentation. Chapters also contain edited judicial decisions from at least two of the jurisdictions, which allow readers to perform their own comparisons in more detail and leave room for original analysis and discussion.

Chalmers; James, The New Law of Sexual Offences in Scotland: Supplement I to Volume II of Gordon's Crimina Law of Scotland, W. Green, Paperback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780414041271

Chappell, David, Construction Contracts: Questions and Answers 2nd ed, Spon Press, Paperback, £34.99, ISBN: 9780415566506

Construction law can be a minefield. Professionals need answers which are pithy and straightforward, as well as legally rigorous. The two hundred questions in the book are real questions, picked from the thousands of telephone enquiries David Chappell has received as a Specialist Adviser to the Royal Institute of British Architects. Although the enquiries were originally from architects, the answers to most of them are of interest to project managers, contractors, QSs, employers and others involved in construction.

Clarkson, C.M.V.; Keating, H.M.; Cunningham, S.R., Clarkson and Keating: Criminal Law: Text and Materials 7th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £33.95, ISBN: 9781847039187

Clarkson and Keating Criminal Law: Text and Materials examines the main principles and rules of criminal law and explores the theoretical bases upon which they are founded in an easily digestible text. Combines the best features of a standard 'textbook' with those of a 'cases and materials' book to provide guidance and direction on the law, whilst presenting a substantial amount of key primary material selected from a diversity of sources

Clayden, Paul, Local Council Clerk's Guide 3rd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £14.95, ISBN: 9780414045002

Covers all aspects of a parish council clerk's appointment and duties, from the constitutional role of local councils, through the terms of appointment of clerks to their day-to-day responsibilities.

Conner, Paul; Cooper, Simon; Orme, Michael; Hutton, Glenn; McKinnon, Gavin; Johnston, David, Blackstone's Police Manuals 2011: Four Volume Set, Oxford University Press, Paperback, 4 Volumes, £62.99,

ISBN: 9780199591190

Blackstone's Police Manuals are the leading police reference texts in the UK. In addition to being the only official study guides for the police promotion examinations in England and Wales, and a recognised text for student police officers, the Manuals have established themselves as the definitive reference sources for all who have involvement with police law and procedure. Written in consultation with police forces across England and Wales, the Manuals are endorsed by the National Policing Improvement Agency, for OSPRE Part 1 Promotion Examinations.

Cortés, Pablo, Online Dispute Resolution for Consumers in the European Union, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN:

This book provides an in-depth account of the potential of ODR for European consumers, offering a comprehensive and up to date analysis of the development of ODR. It considers the current expansion of ODR and evaluates the challenges posed in its growth. The book proposes the creation of legal standards to close the gap between the potential of ODR services and their actual use, arguing that ODR, if it is to realise its full potential in the resolution of e-commerce disputes and in the enforcement of consumer rights, must be grounded firmly on a European regulatory model.

Cownie, Fiona; Bradney, Anthony; Burton, Mandy, English Legal System in Context 5th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £25.99,

ISBN: 9780199567409

English Legal System in Context provides a critical overview of the legal system, and establishes a sound theoretical framework within which to analyse the system. It discusses the intricacies of the legal system, showing the blurred distinction between the legal and the non-legal, and the authors provide an insightful contextual analysis of the system and its main protagonists. With a clear, logical structure, and a wealth of references to take the reader further into the subject, this is a perceptive and wide-ranging study that explains and illuminates this fascinating subject.

Cunningham-Hill, Susan; Elder, Karen, LPC: Civil Litigation Handbook 2010 - 2011, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £32.99,

ISBN: 9780199589678

The Civil Litigation Handbook introduces students to the processes and procedures involved in making and defending civil litigation claims. This text is ideal for students taking the Legal Practice Course and features case studies on both a personal injury matter and a commercial matter making it suitable for students with either a high street or a commercial focus.

Dalhuisen, Jan, Dalhuisen on Transnational and Comparative Commercial, Financial and Trade Law: Volume 2 Contract and Movable Property Law, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781849460606

This is the fourth edition of the leading work on transnational and comparative commercial and financial law, covering a wide range of complex topics in the modern law of international commerce, finance and trade. Volume two deals with international contracts, payments, and moveable tangible and intangible property. Volume three deals with financial products, financial services and financial regulation, including the fall out from the recent financial crisis, as well as the structure and function of the modern investment banking system.

Davis, Lynn, A Practical Guide to Fostering Law: Fostering Regulations, Child Care Law and the Youth Justice System, Jessica Kingsley Publishers, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9781849050920 jargon-free guide to the key elements of the law that concern foster carers and the professionals who work with them. It aims to help foster carers understand where they fit into the complex web of regulations surrounding childcare and to demystify the jargon and terminology which is often used but rarely explained. The book covers the laws in England and Wales governing fostering agencies and foster carers themselves, including foster carers' rights, and the formalities of placement procedures. It also provides explanations of care proceedings, the foster carer as a witness, what happens if a young fostered person gets into trouble, and moving on from foster care.

De Schutter, Olivier, International Human Rights Law: Cases, Materials, Commentary, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £37.00, ISBN: 9780521748667

How do you keep students motivated when their perception of a subject conflicts with the reality of its academic study? International human rights law, unquestionably an exciting field, is also complex and demanding.

With his breakthrough textbook, De Schutter focuses on international human rights law as global legal system, rather than as a collection of different (though related) rights, giving it relevance and immediacy. Drawing on cases and materials from a wide range of sources, it shows how human rights law is used as a tool to address contemporary issues such as counter-terrorism, global poverty and religious diversity. Materials are organised thematically, allowing readers to make comparisons and connections between different legal treaties and systems. Students can also easily assess how human rights are protected under domestic and international laws. The law is placed in context throughout, ensuring full understanding of why laws exist and how they work.

Dennis, Ian, The Law of Evidence 4th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £33.95, ISBN: 9781847038562

The fourth edition of this successful textbook provides thorough analysis of the law of evidence, while placing the subject within its theoretical context. It presents the information in a logical structure following on from the introduction of the basic concepts through to the exclusionary rules of the law of evidence

Erdoş, David, Delegating Rights Protection: The Rise of Bills of Rights in the Westminster World, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199557769
Delegating Rights Protection explores bill-of-rights outcomes in four “Westminster” countries - Australia, Canada, New Zealand, and the United Kingdom - whose development exhibit an interesting combination of both commonality and difference. Comparative analysis of some thirty-six democracies demonstrates that the historic absence of a bill of rights in Westminster countries is best explained by, firstly, the absence of a clear political transition and, secondly, their strong British constitutional heritage. Detailed chapters then explore recent and much more diversified developments.

perback + Online, £31.99,
ISBN: 9781408256312

Law of the European Union is on the cutting edge of developments in this dynamic area of the law. It explores the EU's constitutional and administrative law as well as the major areas of substantive EU law. Topics are extensively illustrated with decisions from the European Court of Justice and Court of First Instance, encouraging students to consider real-world applications of the principles of law.

Fangfei Wang, Faye, Internet Jurisdiction and Choice of Law: Legal Practices in the EU, US and China, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780521199339

This comparison of the rules of internet jurisdiction and choice of law as well as online dispute resolution (ODR) covers both B2B and B2C contracts in the EU, USA and China. It highlights the achievement of the Rome I Regulation in the EU, evaluates the merits of the Hague Convention on Choice of Court Agreement at the international level and gives an insight into the current developments in CIDIP. The in-depth research allows for solutions to be proposed relating to the problems of the legal uncertainty of internet conflict of law and the validity and enforceability of ODR agreements and decisions.

Farnsworth, E. Allan; Shepard, Steve, Introduction to the Legal System of the United States 4th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £22.50, ISBN: 9780199733101

In the updated, fourth edition of this classic text which has been translated into over a dozen languages, constitutional scholar and Columbia Law School professor E. Allan Farnsworth provides a clear explanation of the structure and function of the U.S. legal system in one handy reference. An Introduction to the Legal System of the United States, Fourth Edition is designed to be a general introduction to the structure and function of the legal system of the United States, and is especially useful for those readers who lack familiarity with fundamental establishments and practices.

ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £195.00, ISBN: 9781847034151

The third edition of Telecommunications, Broadcasting and the Internet gives you a clear and comprehensive analysis of the EU regulations, directives and competition law within these sectors. It examines in detail the major new communication regulation package of directives from the European Commission, explaining its provisions and showing how these work in practice.

Gilbert, Geoff; Hampson, Françoise; Sandoval, Clara, The Delivery of Human Rights: Essays in Honour of Professor Sir Nigel Rodley, Routledge, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780415579926
The Delivery of Human Rights reflects on two overlapping issues in international human rights law: how can existing norms be better implemented and effected, and how can other branches of international law or other international actors be used so as to provide an improved delivery of those norms. Rather than simply looking at the content of the rights, this book also explores how the framers' intention that individuals benefit from the norms can be achieved. The book is written and published in honour of Professor Sir Nigel Rodley KBE. It celebrates his career as an academic and practitioner in the area of human rights.

Gilbert, Geoff; Hampson, Françoise; Sandoval, Clara, Strategic Visions for Human Rights: Essays in Honour of Professor Kevin Boyle, Routledge, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780415579889

Strategic Visions for Human Rights takes a multi-disciplinary approach to future directions for human rights. It looks beyond what international human rights treaties have so far established and considers the context in which rights in the twenty-first century might develop to meet needs. The book examines how international law might be utilized to protect groups rather than just individual members of the group and it also calls into question the liberal positivist approach to international law that provides the framework for human rights norms.

Gravells, Nigel P., Land Law: Text and Materials 4th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd,

Paperback, £34.95, ISBN: 9780421963603

The fourth edition of Land Law: Text and Materials continues to combine the best features of a standard 'textbook' with those of a 'cases and materials' book to provide students with comprehensive coverage of all major legislative developments, prominent cases and pertinent materials combined with a strong supporting narrative.

Greensmith, Andrew, Resolution Family Disputes Handbook, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £59.95, ISBN: 9781853287145

Disputed divorce cases can result in lengthy court proceedings and, potentially, further harm already damaged relationships. Alternatives to litigation can help to avoid confrontational court cases. The Resolution Family Disputes Handbook provides an authoritative guide to offering non-court based solutions. Written by Resolution's ADR Committee, the contributors to the book are all leading family practitioners with a wealth of experience in the field.

Hamilton, Penny; Connolly, Oliver, Hamilton on Tax Appeals, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £95.00,

ISBN: 9781847665089

From 1 April 2009 the four existing Tax Appeals Tribunals have been replaced by a new Tax Chamber of the First-Tier Tribunal, with a right of appeal with permission to a new Finance and Tax Chamber in the Upper Tribunal. The new system applies to the whole range of direct and indirect taxes. This new title reflects the new system and therefore applies to both direct and indirect taxes. It guides the reader through the whole appeals process from start to finish, providing a review of the new system.

Hannibal, Martin; Mountford, Lisa, LPC: Criminal Litigation Handbook 2010/2011, Oxford University Press, Paperback, A4, £32.99, ISBN: 9780199589746

The Criminal Litigation

Handbook offers a comprehensive and practical guide to the areas of criminal litigation covered on the Legal Practice Course. Written in an informal and accessible style, the text covers all procedural and evidential issues that arise in criminal cases. The more complex areas of criminal litigation are examined using numerous diagrams, flowcharts, and examples while potential changes in the law are highlighted by specially designed ‘Looking Ahead’ boxes. Each chapter ends with a key point summary and self-test questions, enabling students to quickly sum up what they have read and test their own knowledge.

Hartley, Trevor, The Foundations of European Community Law: An Introduction to the Constitutional and

Administrative Law of the EU 7th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £32.99, ISBN: 9780199566754

The Foundations of European Union Law provides an impressively clear and easily understood account of the constitutional and administrative law of the EU. This new edition has been thoroughly revised to provide a clear and simple explanation of the basic principles of EU law as they have been recast by the Treaty of Lisbon. The important conceptual and functional changes introduced by the treaty are explained, showing how the new legal principles form a coherent system.

Haworth, Amy; Rigelsford, Ken; Sharp, Isobel; Swaffield, Amanda, Deloitte ukGAAP 2011: Financial Statements for UK

Unlisted Groups, Lexis-Nexis Butterworths, Paperback, A4, £55.00, ISBN: 9780754540243

This book provides comprehensive guidance on the presentation and disclosure requirements for financial reporting that apply to unlisted groups and companies preparing their financial statements under UK GAAP for periods beginning on or after 1 January 2010. The 2011 edition has been updated to reflect the finalised guidance, issued by the Financial Reporting Council for directors of UK companies, on going concern and liquidity risk and, issued by the Auditing Practices Board, regarding the form of the audit report and the directors’ responsibilities statement.

Helminen, Marjaana, The International Tax Law Concept of Dividend Concept 2nd ed, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £104.00, ISBN: 9789041132062

This unique and practical work covers the rules determining which transactions may be classified and therefore taxed as dividend income and how classification conflicts may be resolved. The author examines concludes with a useful glossary, making this the perfect reference manual for both students and practitioners.

Kammerhofer, Jörg, Uncertainty in International Law: A Kelsenian perspective, Routledge, Hardback, £80.00, ISBN: 9780415577847

Re-engaging with the Pure Theory of Law developed by Hans Kelsen and the other members of the Viennese School of Jurisprudence, this book looks at the causes and manifestations of uncertainty in international law. It considers both epistemological uncertainty as to whether we can accurately perceive norms in international law, and ontological problems which occur inter alia where two or more norms conflict. The book looks at these issues of uncertainty in relation to the foundational doctrines of public international law, including the law of self-defence under the United Nations Charter, customary international law, and the interpretation of treaties.

Kokkoris, Ioannis, Merger Control in Europe: The Gap in The ECMR And National Merger Legislations, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £80.00, ISBN: 9780415565134

This book addresses the phenomenon of mergers that might result in non-coordinated effects in oligopolistic markets. The book identifies actual examples of mergers that gave rise to a problem of non-coordinated effects in oligopolistic markets, both in the EU and in other jurisdictions, and will analyse the way in which these cases were dealt with in practice.

Lane, Jason, Tax and Family Breakdown: A Practical Guide, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £44.95, ISBN: 9781853286148

The division of assets following a family breakdown can often be complex. The tax consequences of a transfer of assets between former spouses or civil partners can be significant. With prior planning, the tax arising may be mitigated or avoided altogether. If this is not possible, the parties and, indeed, the court will want to take account of the tax consequences when considering the terms of a financial settlement.

Lang, Michael; Pistone, Pasquale; Schuch, Josef; Staringer, Claus, Introduction to European Tax Law: Direct Taxation 2nd ed, Spiramus Press Ltd, Softcover, £29.95,

ISBN: 9781907444111

The increased complexity of European tax law represents a major barrier to access by all those who are experts in either taxation or European law, but are still not familiar with the legal issues arising from their combination. Similar problems also arise for scholars and practitioners around the world who have realized that European tax law is no longer relevant only for a small academic European tax circle, but has turned into a strategic element for international tax planning in relations with the European Union countries. This textbook has been designed to address such persons and needs, no matter whether students or experienced professionals in Europe or third countries.

Le Sueur, Andrew; Sunkin, Maurice; Murkens, Jo, Public Law: Text, Cases, and Materials, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £36.99, ISBN: 9780199284191

The authors have drawn on their substantial experience as teachers and researchers to write a book that will enable readers to acquire both a thorough knowledge of the practicalities of this area of law and an understanding of the theoretical and political debates. The authors explain the key principles of constitutional law and practice, drawing on extracts from a diverse range of materials, along with case studies designed to bring the subject alive. Throughout the book a wealth of learning features - such as questions, discussion points and summaries - are used to help students develop their knowledge and understanding of the issues.

MacKenzie, Judith-Anne; Phillips, Mary, Textbook on Land Law 13th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £28.99, ISBN: 9780199578917

Textbook on Land Law guides students through the principles of contemporary land law from a practical perspective. It focuses on the modern law, confining discussion of historical developments to the minimum necessary to understand basic principles and concentrate on the law as it is now. The book is consistently recommended to students for its accuracy and ease of use. It is written in a direct and informal style, explaining the law in non-technical language and warning of possible misunderstandings and confusions.

Macmahon, Belinda; Smith, Fedelma Claire, Permanent Court of Arbitration: Summaries of Awards 1999–2009, T.M.C. Asser Press, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9789067043199

This volume contains detailed, concise summaries of awards, together with a critical analysis of the PCA's contribution to international law and international dispute resolution. With each summary including an overview of key details, reference lists to the subject matters addressed, and citations to academic commentaries, this is an invaluable research tool for academics and practitioners, and for anyone wishing to gain an insight into the organisation, its work, and its field of activity.

Marshall, Fiona, Competition Regulation and Policy at the World Trade Organisation, Cameron May Ltd, Hardback, £130.00, ISBN: 9781907174032

This work analyses the question of whether an international competition agreement to address private barriers should be negotiated, from a competition perspective and a trade perspective. The competition perspective considers how anticompetitive activities affecting the international community have been addressed to date, including extraterritorial application of domestic competition laws and co-operation between countries. However, the main focus is on the so-called 'trade solution': a competition agreement within the WTO. The book examines and refutes concerns on a competition agreement before showing that the WTO agreements can be interpreted in a procompetitive manner, incorporating the views of consumers as well as producers. It demonstrates that this is easier with the agreements that have been amended and elaborated upon over the years, for example the Anti-Dumping Agreement, the Subsidies and Countervailing Measures Agreement and the Agreement on Safeguards, than it is with the GATT.

McMahon, Raymond, The Taxman's Visit: Dealing with a PAYE Review, Spiramus Press Ltd, Paperback, £59.95, ISBN: 9781907444104

Compliance Visit from start to finish. Every employer will be visited on average every five or six years. HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) have specialist teams and Tax Inspectors to review employer records and to establish if the correct tax and National Insurance is being calculated and paid over to the tax office. The book takes a step by step approach detailing over 100 questions which are likely to be asked, explains what the issue may be and provide a solution. HMRC instructions to the tax office staff are also included.

Merna, Tony; Chu, Yang; Al-Thani, Faisal, Project Finance in Construction, Wiley-Blackwell, Paperback, £55.00, ISBN: 9781444334777

The steps outlined in the guide are designed to provide a basic understanding for all those involved or interested in both structuring and assessing project financings. Secondary contracts involving constructors, operators, finance providers, suppliers and offtakers can be developed and assessed to determine their commercial viability over a projects life cycle.

Miller, Robert J.; Ruru, Jacinta; Behrendt, Larissa; Lindberg, Tracey, Discovering Indigenous Lands: The Doctrine of Discovery in the English Colonies, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199579815

This book presents new material and shines fresh light on the under-explored historical and legal evidence about the use of the doctrine of discovery in Australia, Canada, New Zealand and the United States. Written by indigenous legal academics - an American Indian from the Eastern Shawnee Tribe, a New Zealand Maori (Ngati Rawkawa and Ngai Te Rangi), an Indigenous Australian, and a Cree (Nehiywak) from Canada.

Mistelis, Loukas A., Concise International Arbitration, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £144.00, ISBN: 9789041126092

Although the market for information on international arbitration is growing increasingly competitive, until now there has been a singular lack of a short, direct guide of manageable size that focuses on answering the essential questions that inevitably arise. As a reliable, quick-reference tool in situations where the reader is not closely familiar with, or needs to be reminded of the effect of a particular legal provision and how it relates to other provisions, Concise International Arbitration is unmatched. It will be greatly appreciated by courts, arbitrators, counsel to arbitration, attorneys, in-house lawyers, arbitration institutions, and academics.

Moore, Michael, Act and Crime: The Philosophy of Action and its Implications for Criminal Law, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199599509

In print for the first time in over ten years, Act and Crime provides a unified account of the theory of action. The book both contributes to the development of a coherent theory of action in philosophy, and it provides both legislators and judges (and the lawyers who argue to both) a grounding in three of the most basic elements of criminal liability. Originally published in Hardback in 1993.

Mrs Justice Slade; Members of 11 KBW Chambers; Bradford, Sarah; Regan, Dominic, Tolley's Employment Handbook 2010, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £110.00, ISBN: 9781405749916

The 24th edition of Tolley's Employment Handbook contains the best possible coverage of the Equality Act 2010. The account of the existing law has been fully updated and comprehensive commentary of what's new in the Act provided including the power to expand the definition of racial grounds so as to combat caste discrimination, a new form of comparison-based direct pregnancy discrimination and a new concept of dual discrimination. Once again this popular book provides the latest guidance on employment legislation and with its practical application provides practitioners with the knowledge to make effective decisions with total confidence.

customary international law, as well as a comprehensive theoretical analysis of whether political genocide should be recognized as a separate crime by the international community.

Nic, Madge; McConnell, Derek; et al Defending Possession Proceedings 7th ed, Legal Action Group, Paperback, £55.00 ISBN: 9781903307755
Dealing with the three principal types of occupier - social housing tenants, private tenants and mortgage borrowers - Defending Possession Proceedings focuses on practice and procedure and the relevant substantive law. It is written in a user-friendly way, so that it contains information which is of use to the most experienced legal practitioner, yet is still understandable to the least experienced housing adviser. The main text is supplemented with official forms and notices, statements of case and applications, an instructions checklist, the Rent Arrears Pre-Action Protocol and CPR Part 55.

Nybondas, Maria L., Command Responsibility and Its Applicability to Civilian Superiors, T.M.C. Asser Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9789067043274
Maria L. Nybondas examines the applicability of the command responsibility doctrine to civilian superiors, taking as a point of departure the origin of the doctrine and the unique position of the commander. An analysis of cases against civilian leaders identifies the challenges that prosecutors and judges face in these cases. The book provides an assessment of the hurdles in the application of the doctrine, and offers a solution which is based on respect for the purpose of the doctrine.

Painter, Richard; Holmes, Ann E. M., Cases and Materials on Employment Law 8th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £31.99, ISBN: 9780199580712

Well established as the most regularly updated casebook on the market, it offers a wide range of case law and statutes along with plenty of non-statutory material, providing students with a thorough grounding in the subject. Insightful linking commentary, notes, and questions from the authors help to draw out the controversies and debates to provide all important context behind the law.

Redmond, Mary; Malon, Tom, Strikes: An Essential Guide to Industrial Action and the Law, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781847665485

The book analyses the significance of the contract of employment in the law on trade disputes. It then deals with the main ‘industrial’ economic torts: conspiracy, inducing breach of contract, causing loss by unlawful means and intimidation. After each tort is analysed, the book considers the extent, if any, to which the Industrial Relations Act 1990 protects those organising or participating in strike or industrial action.

Reynolds, Francis, Bowstead & Reynolds on Agency

19th ed, Sweet & Maxwell, Hardback, £325.00, ISBN: 9781847037459

Now in its 19th edition, Bowstead & Reynolds on Agency is an essential reference work for common law and commercial law practitioners. Frequently cited in courts both in the United Kingdom and elsewhere in the Commonwealth, Bowstead & Reynolds gives expert advice you can rely upon. It covers the position of principal and agent in contract, tort, and considers many aspects of equity, company and property law. Through a combination of articles, commentary and illustrations it will help you develop a better understanding of the law. The 19th edition incorporates all recent common law and statutory developments, including those relating to the EU Commercial Agents’ Directive and Regulations.

matters or Roman antiquity. Rivers, Julian, Law of Religious Organizations: Between Establishment and Secularism, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199226108

This book provides the first modern systematic account of the English law relating to religious organizations. It introduces the subject through an historical overview of the relationship between church and state, and a depiction of contemporary patterns and structures of organized faith. It considers in depth the emerging human rights law of religious associations, the legal constitution of religious bodies, the status of ministers of religion and legal privileges associated with public religion.

Robertson, David, The Judge as Political Theorist: Con- temporary Constitutional Review, Princeton University Press, Paperback, £24.95, ISBN: 9780691144047

The Judge as Political Theorist examines opinions by constitutional courts in liberal democracies to better understand the logic and nature of constitutional review. David Robertson argues that the constitutional judge's role is nothing like that of the legislator or chief executive, or even the ordinary judge. Rather, constitutional judges spell out to society the implications - on the ground - of the moral and practical commitments embodied in the nation's constitution. Constitutional review, in other words, is a form of applied political theory. Robertson takes an in-depth look at constitutional decision making in Germany, France, the Czech Republic, Poland, Hungary, Canada, and South Africa, with comparisons throughout to the United States, where constitutional review originated. He also tackles perhaps the most vexing problem in constitutional law today - how and when to limit the rights of citizens in order to govern. As traditional institutions of moral authority have lost power, constitutional judges have stepped into the breach, radically altering traditional understandings of what courts can and should do. Robertson demonstrates how constitutions are more than mere founding documents laying down the law of the land, but increasingly have become statements of the values and principles a society seeks to embody. Constitutional judges, in turn, see it as their mission to transform those values into political practice and push for state and society to live up to their ideals.

to the subject. Though centred firmly on English law, the work covers significant developments in Commonwealth countries and, where appropriate, European systems of tort law.

Shaw, Keith, Vacant Possession: Law and Practice, Estates Gazette, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780080966809

Vacant possession is an element of property law that ensures a property is left in good condition when it changes hands. Every time a property is sold, or if tenants move out of rented property, vacant possession is unavoidable—a vital part of the job of any property lawyer or surveyor. Yet this is the first book to look at this area in depth.

Sime, Stuart, A Practical

Approach to Civil Procedure 13th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £37.99, ISBN: 9780199589739

Trusted by generations of students and litigators, A Practical Approach to Civil Procedure is the perfect tool to guide you through the maze of procedural requirements employed in the civil courts. Gloria Chao

Law Librarian at Rutgers Law School

Jules Winterton writes:

I regret I am writing to report the sad news of the death of our colleague and friend Gloria Chao.

Gloria was a member of the Board and Treasurer of the International Association of Law Libraries from 1995 to 2007. She was one of the foundations of the modern association with her good judgement and professionalism. She was also a delightful and charming colleague and we will all remember her good humour, friendliness and enthusiasm for our IALL annual courses around the world. We saluted her contribution to the progress of the Association at the AGM during our Mumbai conference when she stepped down from her demanding post in 2007 but none of us could imagine we would lose such a good and valuable friend so soon.

IMPORTANT FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

Delay and Disruption in Construction Contracts 4th edition

by Keith Pickavance

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9780414045200, £295.00, due October 2010

Previously published by Informa Publishing, this authoritative practitioner text presents detailed guidance on handling delays and disruption in construction and civil engineering projects. It goes through the topic in chronological sequence, covering everything from inception and initial risk assessment to disputes and settlement. Practical solutions to problems likely to occur in construction projects are provided, and the practice of change management and project control in construction projects is discussed. The author examines the law of proof of causation in delay and disruption related claims, and discusses how the latest versions of standard forms of contract deal with extensions of time and compensation for delay and disruption. How claims for delay, disruption, concurrency, parallelism, pacing, apportionment, total loss and modified total loss and time should be dealt with is explained, as well as the recovery of management time and lost profits as damages. Diagrams are provided to clearly explain a wide range of issues – planning and scheduling risk, GMP, target cost, partnering and alliancing contracts, notices pacing and total time claims, forensic schedule analysis, visualisations, settlement and dispute resolution, concurrency, parallelism, apportionment, global claims, total loss and modified total loss and time claims. The new edition draws practical lessons from contemporary academic and legal theory on the topic, and deals with the relevant law in England, Scotland, Australia, Canada, Hong Kong, New Zealand and the United States.

Jurisdiction and Arbitration Agreements and their Enforcement 2nd edition

by David Joseph QC

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847038975, £185.00, due September 2010

This key practitioner text offers a comprehensive treatment of both jurisdiction and arbitration agreements and the enforcement of consequent judgments. Detailed guidance on their validity, scope, construction and incorporation is supplied, and practical solutions to the problems that can arise in the enforcement of agreements is supplied. The author looks at the remedies from both EU and common law perspectives, and includes precedents relating to anti-suit injunctions and declaratory relief. Consideration is given to the hundred or more important decisions of the English and European courts in this field since the previous edition was published, and a brand new chapter on the enforcement of arbitral awards under the New York Convention is included. The impact of the new Lugano Convention, which came into force in January 2010, is considered and an analysis given of the important proposals for reform of the Brussels I Regulation currently under discussion. Another new chapter on the enforcement of arbitration agreements involving States and State entities is also provided.

International Commercial Disputes: Commercial Conflict of Laws in English Courts, 4th Edition

by Jonathan Hill and Adeline Chong

Hart Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781841138510,

£50.00, due September 2010
This is the fourth edition of this highly regarded work on the law of international commercial litigation as practised in the English courts. As such it is primarily concerned with how commercial disputes which have connections with more than one country are dealt with by the English courts. Much of the law which provides the framework for the resolution of such disputes is derived from international instruments, including recent Conventions and Regulations which have significantly re-shaped the law in the European Union. The scope and impact of these European instruments is fully explained and assessed in this new edition. The work continues to be organised in three parts. The first part considers the jurisdiction of the English courts and the recognition and enforcement in England of judgments granted by the courts of other countries. This part of the work, which involves analysis of both the Brussels I Regulation and the so-called traditional rules, includes chapters dealing with jurisdiction in personam and in rem, anti-suit injunctions and provisional measures. The work's second part focuses on the rules which determine whether English law or the law of another country is applicable to a given situation. The part includes a discussion of choice of law in contract and tort, with particular attention being devoted to the recent Rome I and Rome II Regulations. The third part of the work includes a new chapter on international aspects of insolvency (in particular, under the EC Insolvency Regulation), but mainly focuses on an analysis of legal aspects of international commercial arbitration. In particular, this part examines: the powers of the English courts to support or supervise an arbitration; the effect of an arbitration agreement on the jurisdiction of the English courts; the law which governs an arbitration agreement and the parties' dispute; and the recognition and enforcement of foreign arbitration awards.

Colinvaux's Law of Insurance 9th edition

by Robert Merkin

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9780414042339, £295.00, due September 2010

Colinvaux's Law of Insurance gives a detailed account of all the essential components of insurance law, and is renowned for a crisp, analytical style that succinctly explains complex topics. It examines core aspects such as the insurance contract, insurance policies and the parties involved, and deals individually with marine, life and accident, liability, property, financial and motor vehicle insurance. The author emphasises the impact of recent cases and legislation on the established principles, and explains the impact of recent legislative changes, including the Third Parties (Rights against Insurers) Act 2010 and Companies Act 2006.

The implications of recent leading cases, most notably the House of Lords decisions in WASA v Lexington and Moore Stephens v Stone Rolls, are explained, as is the radically evolving regulatory structure applicable to insurers and brokers. It also discusses the impact of the credit crunch on insurance law. The 9th edition will have regular supplements to ensure the text remains up to date.

Annotated Companies Legislation

Edited by John Birds. Contributors Robert Hildyard QC, Robert Miles QC, Nigel Boardman, and Malcolm Davis-White QC

Oxford University Press, Paperback, ISBN 9780199593927, £195.00, due October 2010

Written from the perspective of the 2006 regime and authored by leading practitioners and academics in the field, this work provides detailed section-by-section commentary alongside the legislative text of the Companies Act 2006 and surviving parts of the previous legislation. Guidance is given as to interpretation of the law and the impact of changes made by the Companies Act 2006 by reference to case law, Hansard and Committee Reports. Derivation and Destination tables are also included for ease of navigation around the Companies Act 2006.

Alongside detailed annotation of the Model Articles of Association and the 1949 and 1985 versions of Table A, the book also provides commentary on the Uncertificated Securities Regulations as well as the full text of a collection of other relevant company law secondary materials. This comprehensive reference, previously published as the Annotated Companies Acts looseleaf, provides excellent value for money and a much needed commentary on company legislation in a single, convenient and portable volume.

Preventative Orders: A Practical Guide

by Edwin Buckett, Tom Little and Robert McAllister
Law Society Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781853287893, £49.95, due September 2010

Taking into account developments such as the new Criminal Procedure Rules, amendments to the Civil Procedure Rules, the latest Home Office and Ministry of Justice Guidance on various orders and recent case law, Preventative Orders: A Practical Guide sets out precisely how to apply for such orders and the preparatory steps leading to any court hearing. Outlining the legislation and procedure, each type of order is analysed, including: Anti-Social Behaviour Orders; Sex Offender Preventative Orders; Closure Orders; Violent Offender Orders; Football Banning Orders; Serious Crime Preventative Orders; and Drinking Banning Orders. A final chapter details preventative orders following acquittal as well as other orders such as Notification Orders, Parenting Orders, Foreign Travel Orders, Dog Control Orders, Gating Orders and Forced Marriage Protection Orders. The appendices contain a detailed analysis of the pertinent rules, legislation and home office guidance, along with the wording from 25 draft orders approved at High Court or Court of Appeal level.

Public Rights of Way and Access to Land 4th edition

by Angela Sydenham
Jordan Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781846612565,

£75.00, due October 2010
Public Rights of Way and Access to Land, written by Angela Sydenham, one of the country's leading authorities on the subject, succeeds in clarifying the arcane and often archaic law. By turn she explains the creation and loss of public rights of way and access to land, how their existence can be ascertained, and the nature of the obligations to maintain and manage them. The fourth edition of this popular work has been comprehensively updated to take account of recent developments including: the Marine Act 2009 Part 9 introducing Coastal Access; the coming into force of many more sections of the CROW Act 2000; numerous new regulations including the Public Rights of Way (Hearings and Inquiry Procedure) (England) Rules 2007/2008; the Godmanchester case, which has been reversed by the House of Lords; the Redcar case [2009] EWCA Civ 3, which has added an important additional requirement for user as of right; new cases on restricted byways: the Winchester case [2008] EWCA Civ 431 and Marroudes [2009] EWHC 62; a major case on adverse possession and public rights of way, R (Smith) v Land Registry (Peterborough) [2009] EWHC 328; an important case on stopping up under s118B of the Highways Act 1980, R (on the application of) Manchester City Council v Sec of State [2007] EWHC 3167; recent cases on animals on public rights of way: Mckenny v Foster EWCA Civ 173 and McKaskie v Cameron (2009), as well as consultation on amendments to the Animals Act 1971. The new edition sets out the Countryside and Public Rights of Way Act 2000 in full with annotations to indicate when the various sections commenced and any regulations made under those sections, together with all relevant provisions from the Marine Act 2009, the Highways Act 1980, the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 and the Natural Environment and Rural Communities Act 2006, as well as other relevant planning notes and guidance.

Climate Change Law and Policy: EU and US Perspectives

by Cinnamon P. Carlarne
Oxford University Press, Hardcover, ISBN 9780199553419, £60.00, due September 2010

Existing climate change governance regimes in the US and the EU contain complex mixtures of regulatory, market, voluntary, and research-based strategies. The EU has adopted an approach to climate change that is based on mandatory greenhouse gas emission reductions; it is grounded in 'hard' law measures and accompanied by 'soft' law measures at the regional and Member State level. In contrast, until recently, the US federal government has carefully avoided mandatory emission reduction obligations and focused instead on employing a variety of 'soft' measures to encourage - rather than mandate - greenhouse gas emission reductions in an economically sound, market-driven manner. These macro level differences are critical yet they mask equally important transatlantic policy convergences. The US and the EU are pivotal players in the development of the international climate change regime. How these two entities structure climate change laws and policies profoundly influences the shape and success of climate change laws and policies at multiple levels of governance. This book suggests that the overall structures and processes of climate change law and policy-making in the US and the EU are intricately linked to international policy-making and, thus, the long-term success of global efforts to address climate change. Accordingly, the book analyses the content and process of climate change law and policy-making in the US and the EU to reveal policy convergences and divergences, and to examine how these convergences and divergences impact the ability of the global community to structure a sustainable, effective and equitable long-term climate strategy.

EU Anti-Dumping Law and Practice, 2nd edition

by Edwin Vermulst
Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847038906, £189.00, due October 2010

This new edition presents a practical analysis of the legal framework and EU legislation relating to antidumping in the European Union. It considers investigatory procedures and protective measures, and discusses how it is determined that a product is considered dumped. The author analyses anti-dumping case law in depth to show how the principles of the law have worked in practice. Vermulst deals with diversion and anti-diversion measures, and shows how the EC anti-dumping regime works within the larger international trade framework of GATT and WTO anti-dumping rules. An alphabetical table of Commission anti-dumping decisions relating to specific goods is included, and an overview of the various international anti-dumping conventions is also provided.

LAW OF FIELD SPORTS

Tim Russ and Jamie Foster

Price:	£35
ISBN:	9780854900695
Extent:	circa 160pp.
Size:	216 x 138mm
Binding:	Paperback

Written by leading practitioners in the field, Law of Field Sports is the first book on the Game Act 1831 for the best part of a century during which time there has been considerable reform of the law. This book contains a detailed analysis of the civil and criminal law relating to shooting and hunting and offers a practical evaluation of the Hunting Act 2004. The authors look at the law of poaching and control of shooting and hunting in terms of closed seasons and provide up-to-date precedents on the Ground Game Act 1880. A useful overview of pertinent firearms law is also included.

Land ownership of rural land is also covered so far as it relates to shooting and hunting, in particular the issue of how field sports rights are treated by the law of real property. The book also sets out the law appertaining to badgers, deer and other species managed in the countryside.

Law of Field Sports provides a comprehensive single source of reference that will prove invaluable for practitioners drafting game rights in sporting or farming leases, or defending those who might have fallen foul of the law and be facing prosecution in relation to game issues.

Tim Russ is a Partner with Clarke Willmott LLP. He specialises in agricultural property disputes including agricultural tenancy and related issues and has been recognised as an agricultural expert by the Chambers and Legal Experts directories. He is a member of the Agricultural Law Association, the Country Land & Business Association, and is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators.

Jamie Foster is a Senior Associate with Clarke Willmott LLP and specialises in regulatory law, advising and representing clients involved in environmental prosecutions, health and safety prosecutions and animal welfare cases.

This book examines the vocation of being a judge. It covers training, discipline and removal of judges as well as their position in the broader context as law-makers and servants of society.

The book is both comparative and practical while also examining the theory and jurisprudence of judging. It is full of practical examples drawn from the author's extensive experience and numerous contacts within the judiciary around the world. It examines their relationship to the societies they are representing and answerable to and their position and responsibilities as part of an international judicial brotherhood.

Although based in the Caribbean, the author is well known throughout the Commonwealth and in the United States as a writer on constitutional law and ethics.

Sir Fred Phillips is the former Governor, St. Kitts/Nevis/Anguilla and a Barrister-at-Law and member of the Middle Temple. He is the author of six books on constitutional law and ethics of the legal profession

LEGAL RESEARCH: A Practitioner's Handbook

Peter Clinch with contributions by James Mullan

Price:	£39
ISBN:	9780854900640
Extent:	450 pp
Size:	246 x 189mm
Binding:	Hardback

This comprehensive reference is specifically aimed at busy practitioners (solicitors, barristers and professional support lawyers), particularly those who do not have the benefit of access to a law librarian or information officer. Legal Research: A Practitioner's Handbook provides practical advice on every aspect of effective legal research: problem analysis, selecting and finding the best sources, and presenting results effectively.

Part A covers problem identification and analysis, followed by advice on how to select the best sources and formats (paper or electronic) for research. Part B deals with the information most frequently sought by practitioners, listing sources with analytical comments and, for a selection of the most complex, 'how to use' instructions developed to a standard template. Jurisdictional coverage includes England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland and the European Union, with the addition of information on key sources in European human rights and international law. Part C details sources on how to make the presentation of the results of legal research more effective.

Peter Clinch is Senior Subject Librarian for Law at Cardiff University and has trained law students, practising solicitors and law librarians in legal research skills. He devised and runs the award-winning Cardiff Index to Legal Abbreviations.

James Mullan is Knowledge Management Systems Manager for Field Fisher Waterhouse LLP. Previously he was an Information Officer at CMS Cameron McKenna LLP. He is a member of the British & Irish Association of Law Librarians (BIALL) council.

SMALL CLAIMS PROCEDURE
IN THE COUNTY COURT (5ed)
A Practical Guide to Mediation and Litigation

Patricia Pearl and Andrew Goodman

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854900527
Extent: 309pp.
Size: 152mm x 229mm
Binding: Paperback

Legal professionals rarely receive any formal training or guidance on how to run a small claims case in the county court, while litigants in person often have to conduct such cases without legal representation. A lack of understanding of the rules frequently leads to confusion and mistakes, which in turn adds to expense and causes delay. The fifth edition of this popular title (formerly entitled Small Claims Procedure: A Practical Guide) will prove invaluable for busy practitioners and litigants in person alike, equipping them with the latest know-how on avoiding errors and making the most of the procedures that are available.

The mediation section of the book has special prominence in this edition. Litigants using the small claims track can now agree to have their cases diverted to a mediation service run by the Courts service and at no additional charge. The system has been in operation now for over a year and has proved popular with court users, especially litigants in person. This book sets out the scheme in detail together with practical tips on how to make the best use of this new service.

Updating material in this edition has been significant; of particular importance are the clarified rules on the date upon which court proceedings are served and the material which must be included in letters before action and other pre-action steps. Finally, the book has been made even more user friendly by improved cross-referencing, handy tables and an extensive glossary.

CONSTITUTIONAL COURTS
A Comparative Study

Andrew Harding & Peter Leyland

Price: £19.95
ISBN: 9780854900633
Extent: 384 pp
Size: 152 x 229 mm
Binding: Paperback

This book contains an outstanding set of essays on constitutional courts. In many nations constitutional justice can be identified as a central feature of contemporary constitutionalism. Moreover, viewed from a comparative global perspective it is clear that constitutional justice as well as providing a special kind of dispute resolution, also has been turned to as a means of safeguarding conditions of liberal democracy. What characteristics must such a court possess to undertake the tasks that confront them? These contributions by providing an analysis of features such as constitutional context, jurisdictional scope, organisational features and interpretative techniques to give a selective snapshot of the legal characteristics and the operation of constitutional courts across the world.

The chapters by a team of leading international scholars include a general introduction and then focus on: Austria, Central and Eastern Europe, France, Germany, Italy, Russia, Spain, Turkey, Egypt, Francophone Africa, South Africa, Latin America, East Asia, Indonesia and Thailand.

Andrew Harding is Director of the Centre for Asia-Pacific Initiatives and Chair of Asia-Pacific Relations at the University of Victoria, Canada.

Peter Leyland is Professor of Public Law at London Metropolitan University. Both have published extensively in the field of comparative public law and they are joint editors of the series: ‘Constitutional Systems of the World’.

MIXED LEGAL SYSTEMS AT NEW FRONTIERS

Esin Örücü

Price: £65
ISBN: 9780854900701
Extent: 338pp
Size: 229mm x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

The aim of this volume is to provide the reader with original views on and insight into mixed legal systems in general, and some mixed legal systems and ongoing mixes in particular. The hope is that the analyses to be found in the eleven contributions will be helpful for scholars, students and practitioners who have a general interest in comparative law and a special interest in mixed legal systems, and provide inspiration to pursue further inquiries.

The contributions are a selection of papers presented at the 2007 Second World Congress of the World Society of Mixed Jurisdiction Jurists, ‘The Boundaries of Unity: Mixed Systems in Action’. As can be gleaned from the title of the Congress, the emphasis has shifted from the closed family of ‘mixed jurisdictions’ towards a wider embrace, considering ‘mixed systems’, in addition to the classical ‘mixed jurisdictions’. Following the introduction, the first two pieces inform the reader of the multiplicity of approaches to mixed legal systems and widen the horizon, offering expansion, though retaining exclusivity. Then follow chapters throwing new light on Commonwealth Caribbean, United States Novojo law, Turkey, South Africa, Sri Lanka, England and Ireland, the European Union, and Public International Law and International Trade Law; all showing that we are entering an era of legal studies involving looking at all legal systems anew.

BUILDING THE CIVILIZATION OF ARBITRATION

Thomas E Carbonneau and Angelica M Sinopole

Price: £65
ISBN: 9780854900688
Extent: 390pp
Size: 229mm x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

This book brings together a group of distinguished academics and practitioners and codifies their discussion of cutting-edge topics in the contemporary law of arbitration. A number of the contributors are members of the American Law Institute's drafting committee on the Restatement of the Law of International Arbitration, a document likely to have a significant impact on the development and evolution of law in the area. The subject matter of the chapters variously accesses the development of investment arbitration, the difficulties raised by adhesionary arbitration, the problems associated with the State regulation of the arbitral process, the role of courts in acclimatizing the legal system to arbitration, the continued power of contracting parties in establishing and operating arbitrations, and the significance of recent U.S. Supreme Court rulings. A number of the authors have substantial practical experience in the process; all are well-known and regarded in the field.

Originally published as a symposium issue of the Penn State Law Review, the volume is intended to provide meaningful insights and useful guidance to students and practitioners of the process alike. The perspective adopted in the considerations is both national and international. The Dean of Penn State Law, Philip J. McConaughay, himself an authority on arbitration, provided invaluable support for the symposium and book project.

THE SNAIL AND THE GINGER BEER
The Story of Donoghue v Stevenson

Matthew Chapman

Price: £14.99
ISBN: 9780854900497
Extent: 200 pp.
Size: 152mm x 229mm
Binding: Hardback

On an August evening in 1928 May Donoghue, a shop assistant, entered a café in Paisley. The circumstances of her visit made legal history. A ginger beer was ordered for Mrs Donoghue who famously complained that, to her surprise and shock, a decomposed snail had tumbled from the bottle into her glass. Mrs Donoghue sued for the nervous shock she claimed to have suffered as a result. The question whether she had a case in law against the manufacturer of the ginger beer was argued as far as the House of Lords. It is hard to overstate the importance of the decision in Donoghue v Stevenson. It represents, perhaps, the greatest contribution made by English and Scottish lawyers to the development of the common law.

Donoghue v Stevenson made it clear that, even without a contract between the parties, a duty of care is owed by 'A' to take reasonable care to avoid acts or omissions which could reasonably be foreseen as likely to cause injury to his neighbour: 'B'. This concept, developed by the great jurist Lord Atkin, has become known by the universal shorthand, 'the neighbour principle'. Who, Lord Atkin asked rhetorically, is 'in law' my neighbour? Donoghue v Stevenson provides the answer.

The Snail and the Ginger Beer tells the full story of this remarkable case. It provides vivid biographical sketches of the protagonists and of the great lawyers who were involved in the case. It sets Donoghue v Stevenson in its historical context and re-evaluates the evidence. The roots of the neighbour principle are excavated in the parable of the Good Samaritan and the case law of the United States. The constitutional importance of the case is also dealt with; the blow it struck for a moral approach to the law which departed from a rigid doctrine of precedent. Finally, the book investigates the influence of Donoghue v Stevenson across the common law world: from the USA to the countries of what is now the Commonwealth.

PROCEDURE IN CIVIL COURTS AND TRIBUNALS
3d edition

John Bowers QC and Eleena Misra

Price: £29
ISBN: 9780854900510
Extent: 116 pp.
Size: 216 x 138mm
Binding: Paperback

Formerly published as part of the popular Practice Notes series, Procedure in Civil Courts and Tribunals provides an accessible guide to litigation in the County or High Court, as well as providing a useful overview of some specialist tribunals e.g. the Employment Tribunal. Of particular interest to practitioners will be the chapter on appeals which includes up-to-date guidance on the applicable rules and practice direction, together with practical advice on appellate advocacy.

In addition to providing practical and comprehensive guidance on civil litigation, the authors give valuable insights into written and oral advocacy, witness statements and affidavits, case preparation and courtroom skills. Presented in a compact, user-friendly format, Procedure in Civil Courts and Tribunals also contains an array of helpful checklists which will prove invaluable to the busy practitioner.

John Bowers QC is one of the leading employment barristers in the UK, practising from Littleton Chambers. He has written over fifteen books, and is a frequent contributor to the Law Society Gazette, New Law Journal and Industrial Law Journal. He is a Recorder on the Midland Circuit and a former Chair of the Employment Law Bar Association.

Eleena Misra is an employment and commercial law specialist at Littleton Chambers. She is the co-author of Employment and Equal Opportunities (Atkin's Court Forms) and has contributed to several other employment law titles.

PARTNERSHIP AND LLP LAW

Elspeth Berry

Price:	£29
ISBN:	9780854900602
Extent:	183 pp.
Size:	216 x 138mm
Binding:	Paperback

This book contains a mass of legal and practical information within a compact, user-friendly format. It provides a comprehensive and comparative explanation of the law relating to all three types of business partnership available under English law; general partnerships, limited partnerships and LLPs. Partnership and LLP Law explains the applicable law from formation of the business to termination, including chapters on the availability or otherwise of legal personality, duties of partners and members, management issues, property and finance, taxation, litigation and insolvency. It includes coverage of the Limited Liability Partnerships (Application of Companies Act 2006) Regulations 2009, which adapt and apply the provisions of the Companies Act 2006 to LLPs; and the Legislative Reform (Limited Partnerships) Order 2009, which introduces key reforms to limited partnership law.

The law relating to each of the three types of partnership is set out clearly and concisely to enable the reader to understand, or refresh their understanding of partnership and LLP law. This approach will also enable those with knowledge or experience of one type of partnership to understand the similarities and differences of the other types. A sample partnership/ LLP agreement is included within the book.

Elspeth Berry is a Senior Lecturer in Law at Nottingham Law School, with over fifteen years of experience in researching partnership and LLP law and teaching undergraduate and postgraduate students the law of business organisations and other commercial and international subjects. She is the co-author of European Union Law (2007) and Partnership Law (1999).
