Ali, Shahla F., Resolving Disputes in the Asia-Pacific Region: International Arbitration and Mediation in

East Asia and the West, Routledge, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780415583725

Resolving Disputes in the Asia-Pacific Region presents empirical research about the attitudes and perceptions of over 115 arbitrators, judges, lawyers and members of the rapidly expanding arbitration community in China, Hong Kong, Korea, Japan, Singapore, and Malaysia as well as North America and Europe. The book covers both international commercial arbitration and “alternative” techniques such as mediation, providing an empirical analysis of how both types of dispute resolution are conducted in the East Asian context.

Anderson, Jack, Modern Sports Law: A Textbook, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £25.00, ISBN: 9781841136851

The aim of this book is to provide an account of how the law influences the operation, administration and playing of modern sports. Although the book focuses on legal doctrine it has been written bearing in mind sport's historical, cultural, social and economic context, including the drama and colour of sport's major events and leading personalities. And although it is inevitably very much concerned with elite professional sports it is not dominated by them, and seeks to cover the widest possible range of sports, professional and amateur.

Arnold, Mike, Tolley's Property Taxation 2010 - 2011, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £104.95, ISBN: 9780754539063

Covering all current and proposed taxes on property, including CGT, SDLT, VAT and Income Tax, this publication takes an integrated approach, looking at the interaction of taxes in certain areas, rather than just individually and provides authoritative answers to all your queries in a single volume. Detailed chapters include all the common (and less common) situations for the practitioner and their client, covering everything from REITs to Rental Investments. Featuring authoritative planning advice from leading property tax specialists such as Martin Scammell and Patrick Cannon, this new edition is written to assist the novice and expert alike in whatever line of business where UK property is an issue.

BDO Stoy Hayward, BDO's Orange Tax Guide 2010 - 2011, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £84.95, ISBN: 9781405751452

Get expert guidance to the legislation covered in the Orange Tax Handbook. This unique companion volume provides concise commentary on VAT and Stamp Duty, explaining relevant sections, paragraphs and regulations with reference to case law, extra-statutory concessions, statements of practice, press releases and HMRC materials. Written by practitioners for practitioners, this guide is essential reading for all involved in the day-to-day application of these taxes.

BDO Stoy Hayward, BDO's Yellow Tax Guide 2010 - 2011, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £109.95, ISBN: 9781405751469

This practical guide provides an explanation in plain language of the legislation contained in the Yellow Tax Handbook. The leading UK Tax firm here share their expertise to show how the practitioner can interpret relevant sections, paragraphs and regulations of the statutes. This essential companion volume to the Yellow handbook offers a quick route to understanding the legislation.

It also contains helpful tax planning suggestions and highlights practical danger areas which might otherwise be overlooked. This volume covers Income Tax, Corporation Tax, Capital Gains Tax, Inheritance Tax and NICs.

Bacon, Nicholas; Garrod, Simon, The Bar Handbook 2010-2011, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £74.00, ISBN: 9781405748537

The current landscape for practising barristers is changing rapidly, whether it be in relation to the Carter Review of legal aid, the future of the Criminal Bar, opening up access to the Bar and the Bar Standards Board or the reforms contained in the Legal Services Act. There is an increasing need for barristers to be aware of all the rules and regulations governing their practice to ensure that they are compliant and can run a successful and profitable business. The Handbook sets the scene for, clarifies and puts in context these changes in a practical and non-technical way.

Bailey, Stephen, Garner's Law of Sewers and Drains 10th ed, Shaw & Sons Ltd, Paperback, £39.95, ISBN: 9780414044951

The only publication that deals specifically with the complex and obscure legislation in this area. This book is an essential reference work for lawyers practising in this area, as well as those working in civil engineering and construction management.

Providing clear interpretation of legislation and regulations, on a range of subjects from accident reporting to workplaces and welfare facilities, the handbook is fully updated to include new legislation since the previous edition.

Beale, Hugh; Rutgers, Jacobien; Tallon, Dennis; Vogenaier, Stefan, Cases, Materials and Text on Contract Law 2nd ed, Hart Publishing,

Paperback, £38.95, ISBN: 9781841136042

This is the second edition of the widely acclaimed and successful casebook on Contract in the Ius Commune Series, developed to be used throughout Europe and aimed at those who teach, learn or practice law with a comparative or European perspective. The book contains leading cases, legislation and other materials from the legal traditions within Europe, with a focus on English, French and German law as the main representatives of those traditions. The book contains the basic texts and contrasting cases as well as extracts from the various international restatements (Vienna Sales Convention, UNIDROIT, Principles of European Contract Law and so on).

Bekker, Pieter H. F.; Dolzer, Rudolf; Waibel, Michael, Making Transnational Law Work in the Global Economy: Essays in Honour of Detlev Vagts, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £100.00, ISBN: 9780521192521

This tribute to Professor Detlev Vagts of the Harvard Law School brings together his colleagues at Harvard and the American Society of International Law, as well as academics, judges and practitioners, many of them his former students. Their essays span the entire spectrum of modern transnational law: international law in general; transnational economic law; and transnational lawyering and dispute resolution. The contributors evaluate established fields of transnational law, such as the protection of property and investment, and explore new areas of law which are in the process of detaching themselves from the nation-state such as global administrative law and the regulation of cross-border lawyering.

Rating Valuation: Principles and Practice 3rd ed, Estates Gazette, Paperback, £37.99, ISBN: 9780080966885

This is the only textbook devoted to this complex aspect of property valuation, starting with an explanation for beginners and leading up to advanced topics, making it the only book on the subject a student will need. It covers the history of rating, current rating law and how to apply the principles to practical valuations of every type of property, from rented flats to cinemas and golf courses.

Boothroyd, Jan E., Garner's Local Land Charges 14th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £35.95, ISBN: 9780414044968

Explains what is required for registering a local land charge in order to either a) secure payments from successive owners of the land, or b) to limit the use to which the land may be put, again binding on successive owners of the land.

Borda, Aldo Zammit, Legislative Drafting, Routledge, Hardback, £80.00, ISBN: 9780415597814

This book provides, for the first time, detailed commentary on legislative drafting with a specific focus on the Commonwealth, covering: the ethics of legislative drafting, teaching, training and retention of drafters, the role of legislative drafting in good governance, keeping the statute book up-to-date, drafting by more than words: the use of graphics, labels and formulae in legislation; and the particular challenges of drafting for small states. It constitutes a key reference for legislative drafters, parliamentary counsel and professionals involved in this field in the Commonwealth and beyond. This book was based on a special issue of Commonwealth Law Bulletin.

Broach, Stephen; Clements, Luke; Read, Janet, Disabled Children: A Legal Handbook, Legal Action Group, Paperback, £40.00, ISBN: 9781903307762

Disabled children and their families have the same human rights as others, including the right to live ‘ordinary lives’. The law in relation to disabled children is complex and frequently misunderstood by those who have duties and responsibilities towards them. This handbook clearly sets out the law in key areas, in particular children’s social care services, education and health care. It includes a summary of the key provisions of the Equality Act 2010, which are newly in force.

Brodie, Douglas, Enterprise Liability and the Common Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780521762014
Enterprise liability has impacted upon both statutory and common law rules. Prime examples would include laws on workmen’s compensation and products liability. Of late, in a number of jurisdictions, enterprise liability has been a powerful catalyst for change in the employer’s responsibilities towards third parties by prompting changes to the law on vicarious liability. The results have been seen most dramatically where the employer’s responsibility for the intentional torts of employees is concerned. Recent common law reforms have not been without controversy and have raised difficult and challenging questions about the appropriate scope of an employer’s responsibility. In response to this, Douglas Brodie offers a critique of the employer’s common law obligations, both in tort and under the law of contract of employment.

Cakebread, Stuart, Drafting Commercial Agreements, Law Society Publishing, Paperback & CD-ROM, £79.95, ISBN: 9781853286049

Drafting and tailoring commercial agreements can take up valuable time in a practitioner’s already busy day. With its range of flexible and adaptable precedents, Drafting Commercial Agreements helps to draw up agreements quickly and easily. Model clauses and agreements are reproduced on a CD-ROM accompanying the book, allowing easy customisation and saving time and money.

Cane, Peter; Kritzer, Herbert, Oxford Handbook of Empirical Legal Research, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199542475

The empirical study of law, legal systems and legal institutions is widely viewed as one of the most exciting and important intellectual developments in the modern history of legal research. Motivated by a conviction that legal phenomena can and should be understood not only in normative terms but also as social practices of political, economic and ethical significance, empirical legal researchers have used quantitative and qualitative methods to illuminate many aspects of law's meaning, operation and impact. The Oxford Handbook of Empirical Legal Research leading scholars provide accessible and original discussions of the history, aims and methods of empirical research about law, as well as its achievements and potential. The Handbook has three parts.

Cannon, Patrick, Tolley's Stamp Taxes 2010 - 2011,

LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £114.95, ISBN: 9780754539070

An invaluable, easy-to-use guide, this title explains all the administrative and compliance processes concerning stamp duty and SDRT as they continue to apply following the introduction of the Stamp Duty Land Tax. The book also sets out the relevant charge to stamp duty or relevant exemption in relation to all the commonly met instruments and transactions.

Christou, Richard, Sale and Supply of Goods and Services 2nd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback & CD-ROM, £218.76, ISBN: 9780414042889

Cook, Trevor; Alejandro, Garcia, International Intellectual Property Arbitration, Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, £124.00, ISBN: 9789041127259

This is the first book in English to offer a comprehensive guide to this important branch of practice. The treatment throughout is eminently practical. Intellectual property practitioners advising on or participating in international intellectual property arbitration will warmly welcome this practical, systematic treatment. The clear analysis and presentation will also provide the arbitration specialist who lacks familiarity with intellectual property with valuable insights into the perspectives of intellectual property practitioners and the specificities of intellectual property in the context of arbitration. In a more academic or policy context, the book is sure to contribute to the development of arbitration as a way of resolving intellectual property disputes, especially on a multijurisdictional basis.

Craig, Paul, The Lisbon Treaty: Law, Politics, and Treaty Reform, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199595013

This book addresses the main innovations made by the new Treaty, examining its legal and political consequences in a reformed EU. The book is organized thematically around the principal issues that occupied those engaged in the reforms over the last decade. The chapters include analysis of the reform process itself and the political forces that shaped the relevant provisions of the Lisbon Treaty.

Davies, Karen, Understanding European Union Law 4th ed, Routledge, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780415582346

Understanding European Union Law is both an ideal introduction for students new to EU law and an essential addition to revision for the more accomplished. It is also essential reading for students on business studies courses. This 4th edition has been fully revised and updated in the light of the ratification of the Lisbon Treaty and continues to look at the main themes of EU law in a logical and progressive manner. It provides the reader with an understanding of EU law, concentrating on how, and especially why, the law has developed as it has. In addition, a number of issues presently facing the EU are also considered, such as fundamental rights and citizenship.

Delmon, Jeffrey; Rigby, Victoria, International Project Finance and PPPs: A Legal Guide to Key Growth Markets, Kluwer Law International, Paperback, £207.00, ISBN: 9789041127198 and project finance in their respective jurisdictions. This guide offers investors, lenders, consultants and Governments a practical, accessible and substantive resource, a survey of applicable law at your fingertips. It is an essential tool for companies, funds, investment vehicles and the like who invest in PPPs and project finance structures, and the banks, financial institutions, and funds that finance them. It is also a useful guide for Governments and their advisers when looking to improve their investment climate for PPPs and project finance, helping to understand what other Governments are doing to attract investors and make these projects more accessible. As an annual manual, this guide will be updated each year with latest information and additional countries.

Derham, Rory, The Law of Set Off 4th ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £225.00, ISBN: 9780199578825
The Law of Set-off has established itself as a leading authority on its subject. This is a developing area of law and the fourth edition brings the book fully up to date with the latest case law since the third edition was published in 2003. Including coverage of Commonwealth decisions, this is the most thorough work on Set-Off for legal practitioners.

Donnelly, Mary, Healthcare Decision-Making and the Law: Autonomy, Capacity and the Limits of Liberalism, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780521118316

This analysis of the law's approach to healthcare decision-making critiques its liberal foundations in respect of three categories of people: adults with capacity, adults without capacity and adults who are subject to mental health legislation. Focussing primarily on the law in England and Wales, the analysis also draws on the law in the United States, legal positions in Australia, Canada, Ireland, New Zealand and Scotland and on the human rights protections provided by the ECHR and the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

Duff, R.A; Farmer, Lindsey; Marshall, S.E; Tadros, Victor, Boundaries of the Criminal Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199600557

Investigations into the scope of the criminal law have often focused on the harm principle, the principle that conduct can be justifiably criminalized only if it is harmful, or other master principles that might determine the proper scope of the criminal law. This collection of original essays by some of the leading scholars in criminal law and philosophy from the UK and the US makes significant advances in the development of a broader range of ideas that might inform criminalization decisions. This is a groundbreaking set of essays which will help to reorient legal and philosophical discussion about the proper scope of the criminal law.

Endacott, John; Meehan, Anthony; Penneyard, Peter;

York, Steve, Tolley's Capital Gains Tax Planning 2010 - 2011, Post 22 June 2010, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £99.95, ISBN: 9780754541738

Capital Gains Tax Planning is an essential part of a personal tax advisors job. It is probably also the most complicated tax, with significant sums at stake. Even some basic planning on CGT can reduce your clients' tax bills significantly. This book gives you the very latest advice. It covers all the key topics, with detailed coverage on the new reliefs. Using worked examples and case studies, Tolley's Capital Gains Tax Planning pinpoints exactly how to make the most of the key CGT reliefs and how to avoid costly common pitfalls.

Fenwick, Trevor; Locks, Ian, Copyright in the Digital Age: Industry Issues and Impacts 1st, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Paperback, £24.95, ISBN: 9780854900800

The primary purpose of this book is to inform the debate on the future of copyright in the digital age: a professional resource for those seeking information on the importance and value of Copyright to the UK's Creative Industries and to promote understanding of the importance of those industries and their reliance on their ability to 'own' intellectual property through copyright legislation. The book contains articles and submissions by leading industry practitioners, lawyers and academics with practical experience of the importance of Copyright in the UK as well as those at the ‘sharp end’ as publishers and producers.

Finney, Malcolm, Personal Tax Planning: Principles and Practice, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £85.00, ISBN: 9781847666833

Personal Tax Planning: Principles and Practice addresses the major UK tax issues affecting personal tax planning for both the UK domiciled and non-UK domiciled individual. With numerous worked practical examples throughout, it explains the principles underpinning the three main taxes: income tax; capital gains tax; and inheritance tax. Domicile is given extended treatment due to its crucial importance in personal tax planning.

Franca Filho, Marcílio Toscano ; Lixinski, Lucas;

Giupponi, Maria Belén Olmos, The Law of MERCOSUR, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £115.00, ISBN: 9781841139432

The Law of MERCOSUR presents both an overview and in-depth analysis of one of the world’s most important and increasingly influential economic organisations. The book is comprised of two types of chapter: the first a series of first-hand analyses of the treaty by experts from countries in the MERCOSUR bloc, the second a series of discussions from other parts of the world looking at MERCOSUR as global actor of ever-increasing importance.

Furmston, Michael, The Law of Contract 4th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, £300.00, ISBN: 9781405751087

Now in its fourth edition, The Law of Contract provides a comprehensive and authoritative treatment of all aspects of the law of contract. It differs from other texts on the topic by offering a fresh, new approach to the area. The book also provides an analysis of current issues and highlights possible future developments in the law. Accessible and authoritative, The Law of Contract provides is designed specifically to meet the needs of the modern practitioner. The new edition includes coverage of consumer rights and a European contract code.

Gallagher, Anne T., The International Law of Human Trafficking, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £85.00, ISBN: 9780521191074

Although human trafficking has a long and ignoble history, it is only recently that trafficking has become a major political issue for states and the international community and the subject of detailed international rules. This book presents the first-ever comprehensive and in-depth analysis of the international law of human trafficking. Anne T. Gallagher calls on her direct experience working within the United Nations to chart the development of new international laws on this issue. She links these rules to the international law of state responsibility as well as key norms of international human rights law, transnational criminal law, refugee law, and international criminal law, in the process identifying and explaining the major legal obligations of states with respect to preventing trafficking, protecting and supporting victims, and prosecuting perpetrators. This is a timely and groundbreaking work: a unique and valuable resource for policymakers, advocates, practitioners, and scholars working in this new, controversial, and important field.

Garden, Alexander; Mackintosh, Simon, Trusts and Estates in Scotland 2010/2011, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781847666819

Practical and accessible, this annual guide will prove indispensable when starting, running or ending a trust, or dealing with a deceased estate, whilst ensuring you are complying with the law. It guides you through the complexities of Scotland's unique trust and estate regime. Worked examples, tax tables and practical commentaries help to illustrate the latest legislation and the key points of practice. The reader will not only fully understand current tax law, but be comfortable applying it to their clients' trusts and estates.

Garner, Simon; Frith, Alexandra, A Practical Approach to Landlord and Tenant 6th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £49.95, ISBN: 9780199589197

This concise and readable title explains the fundamentals of landlord and tenant law. While the sheer bulk of legislation applying to this area of law can appear intimidating, A Practical Approach to Landlord and Tenant provides a systematic guide to the principles and practice of land and property law which is ideal for student and practitioner alike. The book covers the basics of landlord and tenant law providing extensive treatment for both the common law and the statutory codes, and explaining and analyzing such diverse areas as leases, tenancy, assignment and subletting, agricultural holdings, business tenancies, and possession proceedings.

Giliker, Paula, Vicarious Liability in Tort: A Comparative Perspective, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780521763370

Vicarious liability is controversial: a principle of strict liability in an area dominated by fault-based liability. By making an innocent party pay compensation for the torts of another, it can also appear unjust. Yet it is a principle found in all Western legal systems, be they civil law or common law. In our modern global economy, we are unlikely to understand its meaning and rationale through study of one legal system alone. Using her considerable experience as a comparative tort lawyer, Paula Giliker examines the principle of vicarious liability (or, to a civil lawyer, liability for the acts of others) in England and Wales, Australia, Canada, France and Germany, and with reference to legal systems in countries such as the United States, New Zealand and Spain.

Gordon, Keith M.; Montes-Manzano, Ximena; Tiley, John, Tiley & Collison's: UK Tax Guide 2010 - 2011,

LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £127.95, ISBN: 9781405751650

Tiley & Collison's UK Tax Guide adopts a practical approach to UK tax law providing essential guidance for the practitioner and is also ideally suited for students studying for the CIOT examination. It examines the workings of income tax, corporation tax, capital gains tax, inheritance tax, VAT, stamp duty and NIC. The thought-provoking commentary makes the complex subject of revenue law interesting and easy to understand.

Gould, Harry, The Legacy of Punishment in International Law, Palgrave Macmillan, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780230104389

This book traces the evolution of international punishment from a sixteenth century natural law-based justification for the use of force to a series of practices in contemporary international law that have not previously been seen as related. Classically, international punishment was built around the idea that there are certain universally binding rules that if violated anyone (any state in this case) could inflict punishment upon the malfessant.

Greenberg, Daniel, Craies on Legislation 9th edition: 1st supplement, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780414043268 years later six people went to the gallows for his murder in a case which was said to involve wizardry, love potions, coded letters and a poisoned enema. Following them into the dock were the most glamorous couple at the court of King James. Despite an exhaustive inquiry conducted by England's most feared prosecutor, the whole truth never came to light; even the official report of the trials is suspect. In this entertaining account of one of the most sensational crimes in English history, Brian Harris re-evaluates the evidence and proposes a new solution to this intriguing Jacobean mystery.

Humphreys, Stephen, Theatre of the Rule of Law: Transnational Legal Intervention in Theory and Practice, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781107000780 Theatre of the Rule of Law presents the first sustained critique of global rule of law promotion - an expansive industry at the heart of international development, post-conflict reconstruction and security policy today. Stephen Humphreys draws on the history of the rule of law as a concept, examples of legal export during colonial times, and a spectrum of contemporary interventions by development agencies and international organisations. Rule of law promotion is shown to be a kind of theatre, the staging of a morality tale about the good life, intended for edification and emulation, but blind to its own internal contradictions.

International Criminal Justice, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199588923

Principles of Evidence in International Criminal Justice provides an overview of the procedure and practice concerning the admission and evaluation of evidence before the international criminal tribunals. The book is both descriptive and critical and its emphasis is on day-to-day practice, drawing on the experience of the Yugoslavia, Rwanda and Sierra Leone Tribunals. This book is an attempt to define and explain the core principles and rules that have developed at those ad hoc Tribunals; the rationale and origin of those rules; and to assess the suitability of those rules in the particular context of the International Criminal Court which is still at its early stages.

Krisch, Nico, Beyond Constitutionalism: The Pluralist Structure of Postnational Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199228317

Under pressure from globalisation, the classical distinction between domestic and international law has become increasingly blurred, spurring demand for new paradigms to construe the emerging postnational legal order. The typical response of constitutional and international lawyers as well as political theorists has been to extend domestic concepts - especially constitutionalism - beyond the state. Yet as this book argues, proposals for postnational constitutionalism not only fail to provide a plausible account of the changing shape of postnational law but also fall short as a normative vision. They either dilute constitutionalism's origins and appeal to 'fit' the postnational space; or they create tensions with the radical diversity of postnational society. This book explores an alternative, pluralist vision of postnational law. Pluralism does not rely on an overarching legal framework but is characterised by the heterarchical interaction of various suborders of different levels - an interaction that is governed by a multiplicity of conflict rules whose mutual relationship remains legally open.

Lubin, Timothy; Davis Jr., Donald R.; Krishnan, Jayanth K., Hinduism and Law: An Introduction, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780521716260

Michaelides-Mateou, Sofia; Mateou, Andreas, Flying in the Face of Criminalization: The Safety Implications of Prosecuting Aviation Professionals for Accidents, Ashgate Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9781409407676

Two parallel investigations take place after every aviation accident: one technical, one judicial. The former must be conducted with the sole intention of making safety recommendations to prevent the recurrence of similar accidents. Aviation safety is, to a large extent, built upon the trust placed by pilots, ATCOs and other aviation professionals in the process of accident investigation. This book examines the growing trend to criminalize these same people following an accident investigation and considers the implications this has for aviation safety.

Mumford, Ann, Tax Policy, Women and the Law: UK and Comparative Perspectives, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN:

The end of the twentieth century saw progress in women's legal and social equality, but many governments began to increase their reliance on the tax system as a means of influencing the choices that women make. The juxtaposition of this instrumentalist deployment of tax with persisting economic inequality for women is the starting point for this book. Employing a range of theoretical approaches, and grounding its investigations in sociological theory and cultural philosophy, it provides the foundation for a comparative, contextual consideration of the issues that arise at the intersection of women, tax policy and the law.

Orakelashvili, Alexander; Williams, Sarah, 40 Years of the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties, British Institute of International and Comparative Law, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781905221431

This volume presents the reader with insights as to how law of treaties has worked over past 40 years, since the 1969 Vienna Convention was adopted as the comprehensive treaty to regulate the law of international agreements. Treaties form a basis for a daily conduct of international relations and thus it is vital to see how they are made, amended, interpreted and enforced. This volume capitalizes on 40 years of international experience, described and analytically examined by a group of experts on the subject. Based on the BIICL 50th Anniversary event held in London

Østerud, Eirik, Identifying Exclusionary Abuses by Dominant Undertakings under EU Competition Law: the Spectrum of Tests, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £88.00, ISBN: 9789041132710

Under Article 102 TFEU, dominant firms are allowed to compete, but only to the extent their market behaviour does not constitute an abuse. Needless to say, the wording of the article neither explains what an abusive restriction of competition is nor how such a practice can be identified. Rather than developing a one-size-fits-all test applicable to all forms of market behaviour by dominant firms, the European Court of Justice (ECJ) and the General Court (ex Court of First Instance) have set out a system of tests for separate categories of conduct. Drawing on the full range of the EU Courts' relevant case law, this very useful book analyses the conditions that must be fulfilled for a broad range of business practices to be deemed abusive within the meaning of Article 102 TFEU, and also identifies the criteria that must be fulfilled for a practice to be 'objectively justified'.

Panke, Diana, The Effectiveness of the European Court of Justice: Why Reluctant States Comply, Manchester University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780719083068

This book looks at the European Court of Justice (ECJ) as an example of a court, which can apply judicial discourses, judgments and sanction-threats to cases in which states are reluctant to comply. Overall, the ECJ is very successful in ending norm violations through its compliance-instruments. However, some cases require up to 17 years or even a threat with sanctions until the effectiveness of European law is restored, while others are settled somewhat faster via judgments, or very quickly through judicial discourses. The book shows that issue-specific variables, such as the nature of the issue, its interpretational scope, its fit to domestic ideas, influence whether one of the three compliance instruments successfully induces compliance - even against the strong initial will of member states. It also shows that state characteristics, such as judicial culture, the number of veto players, or administrative traditions, do not determine whether judicial discourses, judgments and sanction-threats are effective.

Papadopoulos, Anestis S., The International Dimension of EU Competition Law and Policy, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780521196468

Several attempts to address the paradox of adopting national competition rules to address international issues have been made at the international, regional and (lately) bilateral levels. This book discusses the international dimension of EU competition law, and examines the position taken by the EU in four distinct categories of international agreements which are devoted to competition or include competition provisions.

Peay, Jill, Mental Health and Crime, Routledge,

Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781904385608

Mental Health and Crime examines the nature of the relationship between mental disorder and crime. It concludes that the broad definition of what is an all too common human condition – mental disorder – and the widespread occurrence of an equally all too common human behaviour – that of offending – would make unlikely any definitive or easy answer to such questions.

Pottage, Alan; Sherman, Brad, Figures of Invention: A History of Modern Patent Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780199595631

Taking the invention as its object of study, this book develops a radical new perspective on the making of modern patent law. It develops the first extended historical and conceptual exploration of the invention in modern patent law. Focussing primarily on the figures that make inventions material, and on how to overcome the intangibility of ideas, this intellectual challenging book makes explicit a dimension of patent law that is not commonly found in traditional commentaries, treatises and cases.

Quigley, John, The Statehood of Palestine: International Law in the Middle East Conflict, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £17.99, ISBN: 9780521151658

Palestine as a territorial entity has experienced a curious history. Until World War I, Palestine was part of the sprawling Ottoman Empire. After the war, Palestine came under the administration of Great Britain by an arrangement with the League of Nations. In 1948 Israel established itself in part of Palestine's territory, and Egypt and Jordan assumed administration of the remainder. By 1967 Israel took control of the sectors administered by Egypt and Jordan and by 1988 Palestine reasserted itself as a state. Recent years saw the international community acknowledging Palestinian statehood as it promotes the goal of two independent states, Israel and Palestine, co-existing peacefully. This book draws on evidence from the 1924 League of Nations mandate to suggest that Palestine was constituted as a state at that time. Palestine remained a state after 1948, even as its territory underwent permutation, and this book provides a detailed account of how Palestine has been recognized until the present day.

Raffield, Paul, Shakespeare's Imaginary Constitution: Late Elizabethan Politics and the Theatre of Law, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781841139210

Through an examination of six plays by Shakespeare, the author presents an innovative analysis of political developments in the last decade of Elizabethan rule and their representation in poetic drama of the period. The book advances original insights into the complex and agonistic relationship between theatre, politics, and law. The plays discussed offer persuasive images both of the crown's absolutist tendencies and of alternative polities predicated upon classical and humanist principles of justice, equity, and community.

Ruys, Tom, 'Armed Attack' and Article 51 of the UN Charter: Evolutions in Customary Law and Practice, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £85.00, ISBN: 9780521766647

This book examines to what extent the right of self-defence, as laid down in Article 51 of the Charter of the United Nations, permits States to launch military operations against other States. In particular, it focuses on the occurrence of an 'armed attack' - the crucial trigger for the activation of this right. In light of the developments since 9/11, the author analyses relevant physical and verbal customary practice, ranging from the 1974 Definition of Aggression to recent incidents such as the 2001 US intervention in Afghanistan and the 2006 Israeli intervention in Lebanon. The notion of 'armed attack' is examined from a threefold perspective. What acts can be regarded as an 'armed attack'? When can an 'armed attack' be considered to take place? And from whom must an 'armed attack' emanate? By way of conclusion, the different findings are brought together in a draft 'Definition of Armed Attack'.

John Sinkins' Cares 4 Kids Cycle Challenge Costa Rica Diary

Saturday 30 October

London to San Jose, Costa Rica via JFK (9690km - verified by Google!!)

The day started very early at 05:30 as we assembled at London Heathrow and a long day of travelling lay ahead. 14 cyclists were on the trip, 12 cyclists were veterans and it was great to meet up with them again and this year we had two new 'virgin' cyclists - David Ridley and Rick Callaghan. I didn't see David as he had checked in early and already cleared passport control and security.

We flew first to New York and assembled there for the onward journey to San Jose, I still hadn't met David, but I did notice a strange casually dressed character hovering near the group who might easily have been a friendly plumber? Both flights were relatively uneventful and we arrived in San Jose, Costa Rica at 2 am Sunday morning (GMT). We assembled again and to my surprise the happy plumber was still with us. I was even more surprised when he climbed on the bus with us for our two hour transfer to Hotel Suerre in Guapiles – was he lost? All was revealed when I discovered it was in fact our 'missing' virgin, David Ridley! My apologies David, but it did seem very funny at the time!

Sunday 31 October Guapiles (20km)

Despite us having been up for over 24 hours, jet lag meant we were awake at 07:00 and first thing we set up our bikes and introduced our team mascot teddy to the team, complete with its own cycle shirt and raincoat. This was not an official day of riding but we set off on a short circular route of 20km to warm up our legs and acclimatise to the heat and humidity. Brian Harding entertained us with music from his iPod as we cycled along and he was also the first casualty falling off his bike as we finished. It wasn't too serious but unfortunately as Brian was our main cameraman we didn't catch it on film and rather unsportingly he refused a 'take two' invitation so that we could!

Monday 1 November Guapiles - Puerto Viejo de Sarapiquí (75km)

We all lined up for a group photo wearing our Costa Rica Cycle shirts sponsored by Northern Rock and were also handed our travel first aid kits sponsored by Aegon. We then set off at 07:30 for our first full day of cycling alongside miles and miles of banana and pineapple plantations. This was to be a serious initiation as it involved a great deal of tough 'rough road' cycling. We headed north on the main road and after 20km turned off onto rough dirt tracks. This was also bandit country where we were advised to cycle in pairs to reduce any risk of being stopped by bandits who wanted to steal our bikes. The heat and humidity was intense and we were drinking huge quantities of water to remain hydrated. During the second stint of the morning, big Mo Rasool came along side and asked if I was alright? I said I was fine but he stayed with me and after a while insisted we stop. Despite Mo's size I realised I was having difficulty focussing on him and he insisted that we wait for our team doctor Mansur Halai. The Doc advised me to sit on the support bus as I was clearly dehydrated and with some reluctance I climbed aboard to find one rider already there and by noon there were four of us on the bus all suffering from the heat and humidity. Lunch was a picnic at a small infrequently used building that was playing great 80's music which kept us entertained trying to guess the next classic track from that era. By now the temperature was in the 30's with 100% humidity - it was so hot but we cycled on taking unplanned breaks to cool down in the shade and take on fluids. Once we restarted it was like cycling in a sauna. We eventually left the dusty dirt track and to our delight and were blessed with smooth(ish) tarmac until we reached the rustic Hotel Gavilian which was set back in the rainforest jungle. The cold showers were so welcome to help us cool down and wash of the dirt and grime of the day. It had been a tough day for us all and David Ridley was nursing a training injury and dug deeper than most to finish with a punch in the air - well done David!

Tuesday 2 November

Puerto Viejo de Sarapiquí - Muelle de San Carlos (75km)

Today some early risers (05:30) amongst the group enjoyed the cool morning sun breaking through the jungle vegetation and the dawn chorus of woodpeckers and beautiful coloured birds was truly amazing. We set off today at 07:30 again (this was the plan for the entire week) but not before a warm up session led by Andreas Moench (Aegon) and his loud rallying cries of ‘think of the kids’, a phrase we repeated quite often during the week as the challenge became more arduous! We headed off on the main road towards San Miguel accompanied by juggernauts that rumbled past us en route from Panama to Nicaragua. After 12km we turned off the main road on to a dirt track and steep hills. Tex Nagra, with legs of steel pushed on ahead of us up the hills to capture us on film puffing and panting as we climbed the hills!

We continued to keep focused as the law of ‘Size Matters’ came to the fore as the tractors and trucks rumbled dangerously close past us. It was a very long morning, clocking up more than 55km before lunch in the scorching heat. Somewhere along the route, Brian Harding managed to fall off his bike again and his right leg was badly grazed, he joked that he wanted to match the scars on his left leg from the previous day! Lunch was in a typical Costa Rican roadside restaurant, consisting of meat, rice, refried beans and plantain. It hit the spot after another tough hot morning, but as we recharged the batteries the heavens opened - torrential rain, thunder storms and lightening battered the corrugated iron roof and our bikes outside. We watched trucks skid past as they reached the junction outside the restaurant. This didn't look good at all for the last 20km of the day. At 15:30 we made the decision to call it a day as it was too dangerous to continue - the conditions had not improved and visibility was so poor that our safety became the No. 1 priority. So reluctantly we climbed aboard the support coach to drive to Hotel Tilarjari. The rain continued into the night and lasted for almost 13 hours - well we were in the middle of the rain forest and it was the rainy season! Fortunately we had all remembered to pack our rain gear!

Wednesday 3 November

Muelle de San Carlos - Arenal (54km)

Bags packed we all met for breakfast at 06.15 to be treated to a bird display – their colours were amazingly striking and the backdrop of a fast flowing river with the lush jungle beyond was like nothing I had ever seen before. Everyone seemed motivated and ready to go on this the 3rd day of our cycle challenge, despite the daunting prospect of knowing we had to climb 3000ft towards the active Volcano Arenal - probably the most active volcano in the world. And (as past readers of my cycle challenges may remember) I don't do hills!

The rain had finally stopped however and that made the air sweet and fresh. It was obvious everyone had a spring in their pedals in this lovely air, after the stifling heat of the previous day. Following a gentle start with a stop to view giant dinosaur like lizards (Iguanas) by a river, things soon turned challenging. We had hills that continued forever - Sam Tesch (our feisty leader) chatted away and before we knew it the miles had burned away and we were at our next break - the town of La Fortuna. This was a shopping opportunity for some; others cooled their burning feet in a convenient fountain, or simply chilled out at a local cafe, ready for the next leg.

The super fit cameramen duo in Tex and Brian worked incredibly hard as they raced ahead of the others to catch us on film - except for the equally fit Andreas who is never to be seen as he disappears in a cloud of smoke. As always, when things got tough the team spirit is amazing and kept everyone moving and I even managed to conquer the hills. Our team Doc (Mansur) and Tour leader (Miriam) were always at the back of the group, gently but firmly keeping things moving at a pace. The scenery was spectacular this day with mountains, volcanoes and lush vistas. After a very steep final climb partly off road we were rewarded by finishing at Hotel Linda Vista with stunning views of the volcano and Lake Arenal. This was the best day of the challenge so far – what would be in store for the next?

Thursday 4 November Arenal – Tilaran (70km)

We woke to a wonderful clear view of Volcano Arenal which was venting plumes of white smoke into a perfect blue sky. We headed west cycling around the beautiful Lake Arenal to Tilaran with amazing views of the lake and mountains. We retraced our path along the rocky road we had cycled the previous day and the temperature rose rapidly, but luckily we were protected from the sun by the tall trees on either side. The first challenge of the day was a loose downhill section just before a dam that crossed the easterly edge of the lake. This downhill section saw a number dismount their bikes and walk down to the dam. Jo Reed's bike with its slick tyres wasn't able to keep traction and she fell, causing three men to come running to her rescue. This was also the first time Doc Mansur had been called on and he quickly bathed her wounds and applied plasters, Jo was incredibly brave – most men would have made a huge fuss!

The rest of the day consisted of long undulating climbs and down hills on smooth tarmac around the edge of the lake. However, Mo broke another chain and had to wait for a replacement bike – it made us question whether he was trying to notch up 10 bikes rather than 10 challenges!

Just before lunch the heavens opened and we were caught in torrential rain – those who had planned for rain were able to change into dry clothes for the long afternoon stint, whilst the others tried to ring out most of the water. The skies darkened and it rained again in the afternoon. It was a wet and cold end to the day as we cycled past partially blocked roads where there had been mini landslides – how little at the time did we know of what was happening elsewhere in Costa Rica.

We were staying at the only hostel in Tilaran and the rooms were so basic (and not particularly clean) – it was clear we were going to struggle to dry our clothes. It was that evening that we heard about the fatal landslide south of San Jose and the conditions along the pacific coast. Twenty six people had been killed as Costa Rica was hit by the tail of the hurricane that had been lashing Haiti. Our tour leader Miriam suggested the technical 'off road' route, over rivers and streams, on our last day might need to change, as the condition of the paths would have deteriorated. We agreed to make a decision at breakfast the following morning when we would hopefully know more.

Friday 5 November Tilaran – Bebedero (39km)

Today we were up at 06.00 ready for breakfast and see how things had progressed with the weather conditions, but first we had to celebrate Devesh's birthday, with a card, banner and a song. Miriam met with Sam to discuss alternative routes for the day – we had planned to cycle 45km to Las Juntas over rough roads but this changed to a tarmac route to Bebedero, just 4km shorter than the original route because many of the trails had been washed out.

We cycled together in a tightly packed peloton as large trucks, transporting bulldozers and diggers, rumbled past us as they attempted to clear and repair roads along the Pacific coast. As we got closer to Bebedero, a small simple village on the edge of the river, the fields either side of the road were flooded. It was difficult to know which were rivers, fields or lakes. We reached Bebedero in good time and celebrated our success with the support team who sprayed us with sparkling wine under a banner of Foundation balloons.

It was a great feeling knowing we'd finished a tough challenge (most of us stronger than when we started) having cycled in all weather conditions and over all forms of terrain.

Two key phrases came to the fore during the week - 'Live the Dream' and 'Think of the Kids' - they motivated us when we were feeling low and bonded us as a team.

This team was a group of very special people with great camaraderie and it was a pleasure cycling with all of them. I have to make a special mention to Mo Rasool who has now completed his 10th cycle challenge and whilst he's said it's his last - he's a young, fit, gentle giant and we're hoping we can persuade him to come back again next year!

Finally, I would like to thank all my kind sponsors, Kluwer Law International, Jordan Publishing, Oxford University Press, Bloomsbury Professional (formerly Tottel) Legastat and of course Wildy & Sons Ltd. Without their help, my challenge would not have been possible and although this year was quite a small group, we are on target to raise £55,000 for needy children both within the UK and other parts of the world.

Butterworths Company Law Handbook: The Companies Act 1985 Regime

by Keith Walmsley

LexisNexis Butterworths, Softcover, ISBN 9781405763998, £80.00, due December 2010

Despite its repeal, the Companies Act 1985 still holds importance. There are some sections that are repealed 'with savings'. Company law practitioners need to keep an understanding of the old law to see how the new law is different and there is a large body of company law cases held under the Companies Act 1985. This one-off publication is the ultimate company law historical reference work. The Companies Act 1985 Regime book allows you to know exactly what was in force at a particular date during the change of regime from the Companies Act 1985 to the Companies Act 2006. It includes the complete text of the Companies Act 1985 as at 7th November 2006, as it stood prior to any Companies Act 2006 amendments or repeals. A second version of the Companies Act 1985 is also included, showing what was repealed/amended and when, with full notes for each section up to 1st

October 2010. Butterworths Company Law Handbook – The Companies Act 1985 Regime is supported by other key information including tables of origin/destination for the Companies Act 2006, Companies Act 1985 model articles and the Companies Act 2006 commencement orders which contain savings regarding the repeal of the Companies Act 1985 provisions.

Foreign National Prisoners: Law and Practice

by Laura Dubinsky and Judith Farbey

Foreign National Prisoners: Law and Practice is the first book to bring together the relevant UK and European Court of Human Rights' case-law, legislation, practice, policies and procedure on foreign national prisoners. The book will be essential reading for all those working with foreign national prisoners, and for immigration and prison law practitioners in particular. Foreign National Prisoners: Law and Practice will be up to date to include: the automatic deportation provisions of the UK Borders Act 2007;

special immigration status and the new early removal provisions of the Criminal Justice and Immigration Act 2008; the latest developments in relation to international prisoner transfer agreements.

Hudson's Building and Engineering Contracts 12th edition

by Colin Reese

Sweet and Maxwell, hardback, ISBN 9781847032041, £350.00, due December 2010

Hudson's Building and Engineering Contracts has long been essential reading for construction lawyers and other construction industry professionals around the world. It provides a detailed overview of the law and interpretation of construction contracts in light of the practical and commercial realities of construction projects. The new 12th edition retains the structure and qualities of previous editions while being published in one, streamlined volume. It considers all key standard construction contracts, is comprehensible to non-legal professionals as well as lawyers and is relevant throughout the common law world, with coverage of case law from Australia, Canada, Hong Kong and the USA.

It delivers an authoritative, in-depth explanation of the law relating to construction contracts and sets out general principles with unsurpassed clarity. Makes clear the responsibilities of all parties involved in construction contracts and provides solutions to complex problems arising from contract disputes. It deals with matters such as tenders and estimates, approvals and certificates, covers insurance and indemnities, bonds and guarantees and arbitration and gives guidance understandable to architects, engineers, contractors, construction owners and public officers of government departments, as well as lawyers. The work considers all key standard construction contracts: JCT, NEC, ICE, FIDIC. It is international in scope, incorporating Commonwealth and US authorities and is cited extensively in court and in text books on the subject.

Concise European IT Law 2nd edition

by Alfred Buellesbach, Yves Pouillet and Corien Prins Kluwer Law International,
h a r d b a c k , I S B N 9789041128805, £124.00, due December 2010

The relationship between law and information technology continues to be a highly dynamic one. In the past decade, the European Union has developed an extensive legal framework for new technological developments, with legislation being adopted in the areas of personal data protection, public sector information, conditional access and regulatory transparency. Legislative measures have in addition been dedicated to electronic commerce, distance selling, electronic signatures and electronic financial services. Furthermore, European private international and competition regulations also have an effect on the IT sector. Concise European IT Law, 2nd edition aims to offer the reader a rapid understanding of all the provisions of IT law and regulations related to IT law in force in Europe enacted by European and other international institutions. Key features include new article-by-article commentary on Rome I and II, Art. 101, 102 and 106 of the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union and the Data Retention Directive, updated article-by-article commentary on the regulations on Data Protection, e-Commerce, Public Sector Information and other Directives relevant to IT-developments, short and straightforward explanation of the principles of law to be drawn from each article, rule or other provision and expert commentary by prominent academics and/or practitioners. Concise European IT Law is part of 'Concise IP', a series of five volumes of commentary on European intellectual property legislation edited by Thomas Dreier, Charles Gielen and Richard Hacon. The formula of this series is based on the successful German and Dutch formula 'KurzKommentar' and 'Tekst en Commentaar'.

Blackstone's Guide to the Criminal Procedure Rules 2010 2nd edition

by Duncan Atkinson and Tim Maloney

Oxford University Press, softcover, ISBN 9780199588701, £49.95, due January 2011

The Blackstone's Guide Series delivers concise and accessible books covering the latest legislative changes and amendments. Published soon after enactment, they offer expert commentary by leading names on the scope, extent and effects of the legislation, plus a full copy of the Act itself. They offer a cost-effective solution to key information needs and are the perfect companion for any practitioner needing to get up to speed with the latest changes. The Criminal Procedure Rules govern all aspects of criminal procedure in all criminal courts. The Rules were designed to bring about a cultural change and all those involved in the criminal justice system are affected by the new regime. While many practitioners initially thought that they would have little impact upon the criminal courts, they have become an essential litigation framework. They consolidate all procedural rules with new provisions aimed at increasing efficiency and improving case management. Amendments to the rules made since their introduction render them a cradle to grave pathway that practitioners must follow, codifying rules previously contained in hundreds of different documents. The new edition of this Guide provides a full, clear analysis of the Rules, and places them in context, tracking the development of the rules since their introduction in 2005. Following the structure of the Rules, and including checklists of time limits and key tasks to be performed, the Blackstone's Guide to the Criminal Procedure Rules is an essential purchase for criminal practitioners, magistrates, and judges. The Guide contains the full updated Criminal Procedure Rules 2010, and the Consolidated Criminal Practice Direction, providing a comprehensive and up-to-date collection of relevant procedural materials.

The Solicitors' Handbook 2011

by Andrew Hopper and Gregory Gregory Treverton-Jones
Law Society Publishing, soft cover, ISBN 9781853289880, £74.95, due December 2010
Significant changes to the regulation of solicitors are underway. With the advent of outcomes-focused regulation and alternative business structures it has never been more important to stay abreast of the rules and regulations governing solicitors. The Solicitor's Handbook 2011 has been comprehensively updated both to take account of all the recent developments in this area and also looks ahead to assess the impact of forthcoming changes. This authoritative guide provides expert commentary on the practical reality of the regulatory and disciplinary environment in which solicitors operate, and discusses all of the relevant decided cases in the field. This thoroughly updated edition offers a revised chapter on complaints taking account of the establishment of the Legal Ombudsman on 6 October 2010, consideration of the SRA's new powers to issue a £2,000 fine, or a written rebuke, to a solicitor and publicise its decision, discussion of the SRA's proposed new outcomes-focused regulation regime. Also, the new draft

Code of Conduct due to be implemented in October 2011, an overview of how the regulatory regime for alternative business structures may operate in practice and coverage of the Solicitors' Indemnity Insurance Rules 2010. This invaluable resource can assist practitioners in maintaining high professional standards and enabling them to identify and deal with regulatory and disciplinary issues before they develop into loss for clients and others, damage to reputation, and regulatory interest.

Matrimonial Conveyancing 10th edition

by Stephen Harker
Sweet and Maxwell, paperback (including CD), ISBN 9780414043138, £84.45, due December 2010
An essential reference covering all the procedures involved with conveyancing a former matrimonial home. The highly respected work provides expert information for both conveyancing practitioners and family law specialists, providing an easy, CD reference to forms and precedents that can be utilised and adapted to meet the particular situations. The new 10th edition has been completely updated to reflect a raft of case law and legislative developments, Matrimonial Conveyancing. It updates all precedents and all related commentary through the Land Registration (Amendment) Rules 2008, which replaced all HMLR forms and it includes the New Land Registration Fee Order which came into effect in July 2009 and directly impacts on all transactions. It covers issues around joint ownership for unmarried couples in greater detail, in light of legal developments in cohabitation law, particularly following Stack v Dowden, reflects the evolution of Stamp Duty Land Tax and provides updated commentary on relief and mortgage debts.

Contract Actions in Modern Employment Law: Practice and Precedents 2nd edition

by Ian Smith and Nicholas Randell

Bloomsbury Professional, h a r d b a c k , ISBN 9781845924546, £75.00, due December 2010

This text focuses on the law relating to wrongful dismissal in the context of a breach of the employment contract. Written by well-known authors, the book covers the fundamental rules relating to the employment contract including discussion of express and implied terms and the rules concerning action for breach of contract. It also examines liability and quantum in respect of compensation for wrongful dismissal. Adopting a practical approach, this book is an essential guide to the subject and offers case studies and precedents combined with authoritative analysis.

Principles of Medical Law 3rd edition

by Andrew Grubb

Oxford University Press, hardback, ISBN 9780199544400, £225.00, due December 2010

Principles of Medical Law is the leading practitioner text in medical law. Now in its third edition, it provides a comprehensive and scholarly account of the common law and statutory provisions governing care provision in England and Wales. The contributors include many of the leading academics and practitioners working in the area of medical law today. The book provides an authoritative and up-to-date account of medical law whilst also seeking to set the law in context and critique its application. This new edition will include greater consideration of related health care ethics and human rights issues where appropriate. The book includes major statutory and common law changes including the Human Tissue Act 2008.

This new edition has been fully updated to cover important new case-law and recent legislative developments including Companies Act 2006, Charities Act 2006, Gambling Act 2005, Co-operative and Community Societies and Credit Unions Act 2010 and the Equality Act 2010. In addition, the work includes a full set of Model rules as well as other useful material in the appendices.

PASSION, POISON & POWER
The Mysterious Death of Sir Thomas Overbury: A Jacobean Mystery in Fourteen Acts

Brian Harris

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854900770
Extent: 232 pp
Size: 229 x 152 mm
Binding: Hardback

Little attention was paid at the time to the death in the Tower of London of Sir Thomas Overbury, but it was not long before foul play was suspected. Two years later six people went to the gallows for his murder in a case which was said to involve wizardry, love potions, coded letters and a poisoned enema. Following them into the dock were the most glamorous couple at the court of King James.

The husband, who was widely rumoured to be the King's lover, was convicted of Overbury's murder despite his protestations of innocence; but was he actually guilty? His pretty young wife confessed to the murder; but did she actually commit the crime? And the Lord Chief Justice was convinced that the case had a far wider and more sinister significance than appeared on the surface, possibly involving the suspicious death of the Prince of Wales.

Despite an exhaustive inquiry conducted by England's most feared prosecutor, the whole truth never came to light; even the official report of the trials is suspect. In this entertaining account of one of the most sensational crimes in English history, Brian Harris re-evaluates the evidence and proposes a new solution to this intriguing Jacobean mystery.

Brian Harris QC is a writer and legal consultant. Previous books include Intolerance: Divided Societies on Trial (Wildy, Simmonds and Hill, 2008), Injustice: State Trials from Socrates to Nuremberg (Sutton Publishing, 2006) and The Literature of the Law (Blackstone, 1998).

Brian Harris, a contemporary lawyer of distinction, has deployed his forensic skills in seeking to unravel a celebrated seventeenth century murder mystery; his may not be the last word on a topic which has engaged generations of scholars but his theatrical format and analytical insight carry the reader forward with him on an entertaining journey

COPYRIGHT IN THE DIGITAL AGE: INDUSTRY ISSUES AND IMPACTS

edited by

Trevor Fenwick and Ian Locks

on Behalf of The Worshipful Company of Stationers and Newspaper Makers

Price:	£24.95
ISBN:	9780854900800
Extent:	192 pp.
Size:	234 x 156mm
Binding:	Paperback

The primary purpose of this book is to inform the debate on the future of copyright in the digital age: a professional resource for those seeking information on the importance and value of Copyright to the UK's Creative Industries and to promote understanding of the importance of those industries and their reliance on their ability to 'own' intellectual property through copyright legislation. The book contains articles and submissions by leading industry practitioners, lawyers and academics with practical experience of the importance of Copyright in the UK as well as those at the 'sharp end' as publishers and producers. It reflects the challenges to be faced with the development of the digital usage of copyright material as well as tracking the Stationers' 450 years of involvement in the development of copyright, enshrined in law by the Statute of Anne 300 years ago.

The Stationers' Company is the City of London Livery Company for the visual and graphic communications industries. The Company was founded in 1403 when the manuscript writers and illuminators formed a guild, taking the name 'Stationers' from the fact that they had stopped being itinerant vendors and had set up fixed stalls in St Paul's Churchyard. At the end of the 15th century when printing first came to England, the Stationers had the good sense to embrace the new technology. The guild received a Royal Charter in 1557 in which they were given a monopoly in printing and the responsibility to check and register all books produced in England. Today the Company has over 800 members, the vast majority of whom are senior executives in the complete range of trades within the visual and graphic communications industries, from paper, print, publishing, packaging, office products, newspapers, broadcasting and online media. Membership is drawn from across the UK and increasingly throughout the world and now includes major companies as well as individual members. The Company still uses Stationers' Hall for the purpose for which it was built 350 years ago: to bring together the major players in our associated industries so that they can enjoy each other's company, learn from one another, swap ideas and together develop strategies for the future of an industry that is vital to global economic growth. Activities range from formal dinners, informal lunches, lectures, seminars and intimate round-table sessions to online reports and discussion fora.

THE COURT ART OF PRISCILLA
COLEMAN

Commentary by Paul Cheston

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854900398
Extent: 64 pp.
Size: 300 x 242 mm
Binding: Hardback

Priscilla Coleman has been drawing court scenes for over 20 years. The pictures collected here mark many of the most important trials of that period. There is a widespread misunderstanding among those who see pictures on TV or in the newspapers that an artist can sketch as much as they like in court. As lawyers know, far from taking a palate and easel into the public gallery, any attempt at photography, drawings or visual representations is strictly verboten. Artists have to memorise in court the colours, shades, clothing, facial mannerisms and physical idiosyncracies then go out and draw a likeness from memory . . . against the clock.

Priscilla Coleman was born in Chilton, near Waco Texas and went to high school in Chilton and Huntsville before studying fine art and graphics at Sam Houston State University, Texas. Inspired by her mother Henrietta, a talented fashion illustrator and portrait painter, Priscilla is driven by a love of drawing people. She approached ITN with a video tape of her electronic news graphics and court drawings from her time with Channel 13 and KTRK TV in Houston where she was art director for news, and was hired straight away. Her first sketch was of Jeffrey Archer and Monica Coghlan in the notorious High Court libel trial.

Paul Cheston is the courts correspondent of the London Evening Standard. He was born in Aberdare, Mid Glamorgan and educated at Kimbolton School and the University of East Anglia. He covered his first court case for the Diss Express and, after training on the Middlesbrough Evening Gazette, came to Fleet Street to work for the Press Association. He joined the short-lived London Daily News and was in court on the final day of the Jeffrey Archer libel trial when owner Robert Maxwell closed the paper down. After brief work for the Daily Star and Sunday Express he joined the Evening Standard as a general news reporter. He was appointed courts correspondent in 1993 and is co-author of Brothers in Blood published in 1994.

A PRACTITIONER'S GUIDE TO WILLS
3d edition

Lesley King, Keith Biggs and Peter Gausden

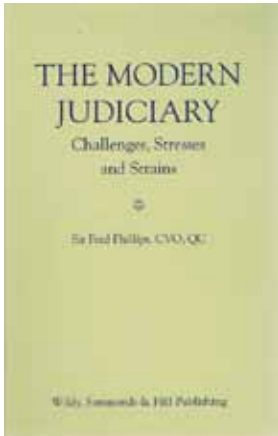

Consulting Editor: Meryl Thomas

Price: £59
ISBN: 9780854900725
Extent: 502 pp.
Size: 29 x 152 mm
Binding: Hardback & CD-ROM

The third edition of this popular title provides a practical and comprehensive reference for all those concerned in drafting and interpreting wills, and in giving effect to their provisions. The commentary is supported throughout by an extensive range of specimen clauses and model wills are provided in a separate appendix. All precedent material is included on the accompanying CD-Rom, enabling practitioners to adapt precedents for their own use.

Fully updated, A Practitioner's Guide to Wills features a new chapter on the use of Pilot Trusts and deals with the Mental Capacity Act 2005, Charities Act 2006 and Perpetuities and Accumulations Act 2009. It examines the impact of the legislative changes in recent years to tax planning, notably the new capital gains tax regime and the radical changes to the IHT treatment of trusts, particularly those affecting provision in wills for spouses and civil partners and children. The impact on planning and drafting is also considered, together with the role that the nil rate discretionary trust might still have to play in financial planning notwithstanding the introduction of the transferable nil-rate band between spouses and civil partners. The chapter on testamentary capacity has been fully revised in the light of the Mental Capacity Act 2005 and its effect on the application of the Banks v Goodfellow test as considered in recent cases including Re Perrins, Re Ritchie and Key v Key.

Lesley King is a solicitor, and a principal lecturer at the College of Law. Keith Biggs was formerly District Probate Registrar at Winchester, and is now a consultant on common form probate. Peter Gausden was formerly a principal lecturer at the College of Law. He is now a consultant solicitor at Rowlinsons. Meryl Thomas is Professor in Property Law at Birmingham City University, and Visiting Professor in Succession at the Institute of Law in Jersey

THE MODERN JUDICIARY
Challenges, Stresses and Strains

Sir Fred Phillips, CVO, QC

Price: £65
ISBN: 9780854900671
Extent: 302pp
Size: 229mm x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

This book examines the vocation of being a judge. It covers training, discipline and removal of judges as well as their position in the broader context as law-makers and servants of society.

The book is both comparative and practical while also examining the theory and jurisprudence of judging. It is full of practical examples drawn from the author's extensive experience and numerous contacts within the judiciary around the world. It examines their relationship to the societies they are representing and answerable to and their position and responsibilities as part of an international judicial brotherhood.

Although based in the Caribbean, the author is well known throughout the Commonwealth and in the United States as a writer on constitutional law and ethics.

Sir Fred Phillips is the former Governor, St. Kitts/Nevis/Anguilla and a Barrister-at-Law and member of the Middle Temple. He is the author of six books on constitutional law and ethics of the legal profession

LEGAL RESEARCH: A Practitioner's Handbook

Peter Clinch with contributions by James Mullan

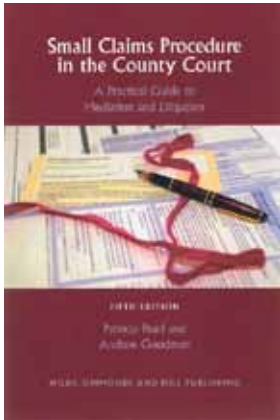

Price:	£39
ISBN:	9780854900640
Extent:	450 pp
Size:	246 x 189mm
Binding:	Hardback

This comprehensive reference is specifically aimed at busy practitioners (solicitors, barristers and professional support lawyers), particularly those who do not have the benefit of access to a law librarian or information officer. Legal Research: A Practitioner's Handbook provides practical advice on every aspect of effective legal research: problem analysis, selecting and finding the best sources, and presenting results effectively.

Part A covers problem identification and analysis, followed by advice on how to select the best sources and formats (paper or electronic) for research. Part B deals with the information most frequently sought by practitioners, listing sources with analytical comments and, for a selection of the most complex, 'how to use' instructions developed to a standard template. Jurisdictional coverage includes England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland and the European Union, with the addition of information on key sources in European human rights and international law. Part C details sources on how to make the presentation of the results of legal research more effective.

Peter Clinch is Senior Subject Librarian for Law at Cardiff University and has trained law students, practising solicitors and law librarians in legal research skills. He devised and runs the award-winning Cardiff Index to Legal Abbreviations.

James Mullan is Knowledge Management Systems Manager for Field Fisher Waterhouse LLP. Previously he was an Information Officer at CMS Cameron McKenna LLP. He is a member of the British & Irish Association of Law Librarians (BIALL) council.

SMALL CLAIMS PROCEDURE
IN THE COUNTY COURT (5ed)
A Practical Guide to Mediation and Litigation

Patricia Pearl and Andrew Goodman

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854900527
Extent: 309pp.
Size: 152mm x 229mm
Binding: Paperback

Legal professionals rarely receive any formal training or guidance on how to run a small claims case in the county court, while litigants in person often have to conduct such cases without legal representation. A lack of understanding of the rules frequently leads to confusion and mistakes, which in turn adds to expense and causes delay. The fifth edition of this popular title (formerly entitled Small Claims Procedure: A Practical Guide) will prove invaluable for busy practitioners and litigants in person alike, equipping them with the latest know-how on avoiding errors and making the most of the procedures that are available.

The mediation section of the book has special prominence in this edition. Litigants using the small claims track can now agree to have their cases diverted to a mediation service run by the Courts service and at no additional charge. The system has been in operation now for over a year and has proved popular with court users, especially litigants in person. This book sets out the scheme in detail together with practical tips on how to make the best use of this new service.

Updating material in this edition has been significant; of particular importance are the clarified rules on the date upon which court proceedings are served and the material which must be included in letters before action and other pre-action steps. Finally, the book has been made even more user friendly by improved cross-referencing, handy tables and an extensive glossary.

Wildy Practice Guide Series
PROCEDURE IN CIVIL COURTS AND TRIBUNALS
3d edition

John Bowers QC and Eleena Misra

Price: £29
ISBN: 9780854900510
Extent: 116 pp.
Size: 216 x 138mm
Binding: Paperback

Formerly published as part of the popular Practice Notes series, Procedure in Civil Courts and Tribunals provides an accessible guide to litigation in the County or High Court, as well as providing a useful overview of some specialist tribunals e.g. the Employment Tribunal. Of particular interest to practitioners will be the chapter on appeals which includes up-to-date guidance on the applicable rules and practice direction, together with practical advice on appellate advocacy.

In addition to providing practical and comprehensive guidance on civil litigation, the authors give valuable insights into written and oral advocacy, witness statements and affidavits, case preparation and courtroom skills. Presented in a compact, user-friendly format, Procedure in Civil Courts and Tribunals also contains an array of helpful checklists which will prove invaluable to the busy practitioner.

John Bowers QC is one of the leading employment barristers in the UK, practising from Littleton Chambers. He has written over fifteen books, and is a frequent contributor to the Law Society Gazette, New Law Journal and Industrial Law Journal. He is a Recorder on the Midland Circuit and a former Chair of the Employment Law Bar Association.

Eleena Misra is an employment and commercial law specialist at Littleton Chambers. She is the co-author of Employment and Equal Opportunities (Atkin's Court Forms) and has contributed to several other employment law titles.

PARTNERSHIP AND LLP LAW

Elspeth Berry

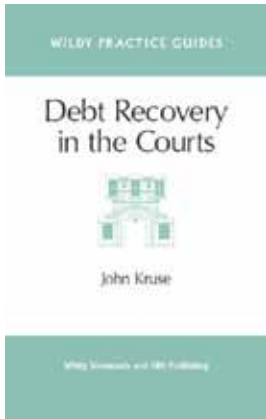

Price:	£29
ISBN:	9780854900602
Extent:	183 pp.
Size:	216 x 138mm
Binding:	Paperback

This book contains a mass of legal and practical information within a compact, user-friendly format. It provides a comprehensive and comparative explanation of the law relating to all three types of business partnership available under English law; general partnerships, limited partnerships and LLPs. Partnership and LLP Law explains the applicable law from formation of the business to termination, including chapters on the availability or otherwise of legal personality, duties of partners and members, management issues, property and finance, taxation, litigation and insolvency. It includes coverage of the Limited Liability Partnerships (Application of Companies Act 2006) Regulations 2009, which adapt and apply the provisions of the Companies Act 2006 to LLPs; and the Legislative Reform (Limited Partnerships) Order 2009, which introduces key reforms to limited partnership law.

The law relating to each of the three types of partnership is set out clearly and concisely to enable the reader to understand, or refresh their understanding of partnership and LLP law. This approach will also enable those with knowledge or experience of one type of partnership to understand the similarities and differences of the other types. A sample partnership/ LLP agreement is included within the book.

Elspeth Berry is a Senior Lecturer in Law at Nottingham Law School, with over fifteen years of experience in researching partnership and LLP law and teaching undergraduate and postgraduate students the law of business organisations and other commercial and international subjects. She is the co-author of European Union Law (2007) and Partnership Law (1999).
