WILDY'S BOOK NEWS

Volume 16 Issue 8 Published Monthly Aug/Sept 2011

The summer is over, what there was of it here in London, and this is the time of year that we welcome all the new law students to the shop. Wildy's has served law students for generations, supplying new and used student texts and dispensing advice where required. As well as our large selection of good condition and inexpensive secondhand student books, we give students a 10% discount on all new student textbooks.

This issue contains pictures from the annual CARALL conference in Trinidad. John Pethick makes several trips to the Carribean every year and is there at the moment visiting Antigua and Anguilla. In November and December he will be in the Cayman Islands and the Bahamas.

We have also included a very interesting article by Nick Chambers, Chairman of the ICLR. See pages 5 & 6.

Other notable events this month is the publication of Blackstone's Civil Court Procedure, this year the commentary is available separately. See the ad on page 27.

THE INCORPORATED COUNCIL OF LAW REPORTING

for England & Wales

An Odd Job for a Judge

It's the definitive article that does it - not just any old law reports but The Law Reports. That is the way they have been from 1865 when the five Inns of Court and the Law Society started them. In 1940 a Lord Chancellor's Committee recorded its opinion that the Law Reports were in fact pre-eminent and that, since they received no public subsidy, it was the duty of the legal profession to ensure their adequate support; that if a barrister vouched a report with no further justification than reading a transcript of the judgment he (as they mostly were in those days) abused his right. ("I wish" say most of today's judges under their breath.) I got this and a lot more from an article written by Mr Justice McNair to celebrate the centenary of The Law Reports (the capital seems to come and go).

McNair J was one of Gray's two representatives and was appointed Chairman of the Council in 1951. He was the first serving judge to hold that position. Almost all his predecessors had been silks although a number later became judges. There was also a President of the Law Society. Since then a number of judges have been Chairman including the redoubtable Sir Robert Megarry V-C.

It is an odd job for a judge: the day one is Mercantile Judge for Wales.

I have responsibility for 57 people engaged in a business with a turnover of about £5 million per annum. Although every lawyer has heard of our main title and most know of the WLR there are several other highly regarded series including the ICR. We also work closely with The Times.

Maintaining the ability to publish to the immutable standard required at a speed relevant to current needs is a constant challenge both to the editorial and administrative side. As our print revenue has declined so we have had to make our way in the electronic world. In 2001 our online revenue was £794,000. In 2010 it was £2,678,000. No prizes for guessing where the future lies.

The sort of problems that face our business are all too well known. Last year we had the difficult task of closing a final salary pension scheme that was impossibly costly to run. Although we are a charity there never has been a subsidy and, nice as it would be for the legal profession to think it their duty to support us, we prefer our products to speak for themselves.

Of course the stimulating thing about challenges is meeting them and in that I have a team which brings intelligence, humour and application to everything it does.

The full Council meets once or twice a year. It is a lively occasion with shrewd questions and valuable contributions but, supported by the twin pillars of Editor and Secretary, the Executive Committee and Strategy Committee are the driving force. Unpaid (though we still manage coffee and biscuits) the members of the Executive Committee devote an enormous amount of time to the business. The trick is to have a good balance of people. Ever since I have been involved we have had one (vital) judicial heavyweight. At present we are lucky to have the Master of the Rolls. Quite apart from his shrewd advice, he and the Editor practise those high diplomatic skills required to accommodate our house style with (often rather firm) judicial views upon the use of capital letters and other, not to be underrated, grammatical matters.

So here we are, poised to take one of the most exciting steps in our history – the launch of ICLR Online, our first full online service direct to users. For many months work has been going apace to provide you with our products in the way most suited to your needs. Okay I know it sounds a bit of a pushy pitch but see for yourself - any time from 18th October. I'm sure you'll be impressed.

The Costs and Fees Encyclopaedia aims to include all the fees and costs which are important to Costs Lawyers and Civil and Criminal Litigators. The book will be published annually, and any changes will be notified to purchasers in our monthly - free - Costs Law Bulletin.

Beer, Jason; Aiken, Joseph; Foster, Charles; Skelton, Peter; Uberoi, Michael, Public Inquiries, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199287772

This book is written and edited by practitioners who have appeared in a large number of significant inquiries. This new work is the first of its kind, and will function as a handbook for practitioners. The work examines and explains both statutory (in particular the Inquiries Act 2005 and the Inquiry Rules 2006) and non-statutory inquiries in chapters relating to the need for and purpose of the public inquiry, the mechanisms for establishing a public inquiry, terms of reference, the subject matter of inquiries, the relationship of inquiries with other legal proceedings, the constitution of an inquiry, the administration of an inquiry, evidence and procedure, public access to an inquiry, immunities and defamation, representation and funding, inquiry reports and the duty to be fair, ending the inquiry and challenging an inquiry. This book is fully indexed and cross-referenced, including extensive referencing to the position in other jurisdictions.

Dimitroff, Thomas J, Risk and Energy Infrastructure: Cross-Border Dimensions, Globe Law and Business, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781905783489

This book examines the spectrum of risks posed to the development, financing, construction and operation of trans-boundary energy infrastructure and the tools that may be deployed to manage these risks. The book begins by examining trends in trans-boundary energy infrastructure and the nature of the risks – non-technical, technical and financing – which infrastructure development projects and existing operations must anticipate and manage. Individual categories of intergovernmental and host government risk are viewed from the perspectives of leading international experts. These risks, and the tools applied to manage them, are also viewed from the different viewpoints of the state and private sector counterparties, lenders, affected communities and other interested third parties, such as indigenous communities, individual landowners and the non-governmental organisations that typically represent their interests.

Ellinger, E. P.; Lomnicka, E.; Hooley, R.J.A, Modern Banking Law 5th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £41.99, ISBN: 9780199232093

Ellinger's Modern Banking Law sets banking law against the background of general legal doctrines and banking regulation, discussing its operation in the context of its wider economic function. The book examines the different types of banks and banking organizations operating in the United Kingdom, also making use of American, Canadian, New Zealand and Australian examples. It provides analysis of the banker and customer relationship, explaining the different types of accounts available, the duties and the liabilities of banks, and the latest processes used in the clearance of cheques, plastic money and electronic money transfers. Issues relating to overdrafts, bank loans, credit agreements, and securities for bankers' advances are covered.

Eyre, Giles; Alexander, Lynden, Writing Medico-Legal Reports in Civil Claims: An Essential Guide, Professional Solutions Publications, Paperback, £69.95, ISBN: 9780956934109

The book offers detailed advice to experts across a range of medico-legal issues and illustrates key learning points with examples of evidence that will either help or hinder lawyers in progressing claims. The book is written for medical experts and those who instruct them. It introduces easy to use techniques to help experts apply essential legal principles in practical reporting situations. It can also serve as a valuable reference when experts need guidance on to how to approach a wide-variety of reporting issues – from fundamental issues of causation and damage through to many difficult reporting situations.

Gordon, Greg; Paterson, John; Üşenmez, Emre, Oil and Gas Law: Current Practice and Emerging Trends 2nd ed, Dundee University Press, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781845861018

see www.wildy.com for further details

Oil and Gas Law: Current Practice and Emerging Trends 2nd ed is a concise and readable account of oil and gas law, not only as it stands but as it is likely to evolve in the context of the United Kingdom Continental Shelf as a maturing province. Tables and an index are included.

Hammerson, Marc, Upstream Oil and Gas: Cases,

Materials and Commentary, Globe Law and Business, Hardback, £145.00, ISBN: 9781905783472

This new title seeks to explore industry issues using a new approach. It includes comprehensive commentaries on topics in the oil industry and links these with edited extracts from underlying legal texts. The reader benefits from the combination of both a full analysis of key legal issues and selected passages of text from legal sources. Taking exploration and production in the United Kingdom as its subject matter, the book also cites other jurisdictions by way of comparative study and on issues where the United Kingdom lacks decided case law. It also sets out the various international conventions and European laws which directly or indirectly form the basis of UK law and government practice and policy.

Jephcott, Mark, Law of Cartels 2nd ed, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781846612763

The law against hard core cartel activity involving conspiracies such as price fixing, bid rigging and marketing sharing agreements between competitors is widely regarded as the centrepiece of competition law. It is a priority for both EU and UK competition authorities. The Law of Cartels is an authoritative practitioner work offering practical advice for both lawyers advising companies and for company directors. In addition to a comprehensive overview of the main aspects of the law, it offers guidance on dealing with cartel investigations by the competition authorities, implementing compliance programmes to reduce the risk of cartel activity taking place, and examines the options for companies accused of hard-core cartel activity.

Jess, Digby, The Insurance of Commercial Risks: Law and Practice 4th ed,

see www.wildy.com for further details

Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £275.00, ISBN: 9780414046207

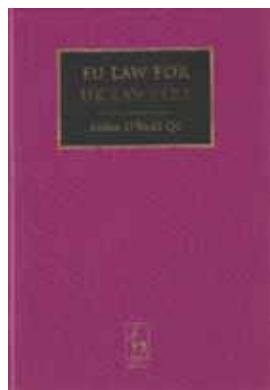

The Insurance of Commercial Risks: Law and Practice examines how the general principles of insurance law apply to the insurance of commercial risks, and how to effectively settle a dispute in these insurance claims. Looking in turn at each form of commercial risk insurance, from employers' liability insurance and warranty and indemnity insurance to buildings insurance, carriers insurance and contractors' insurance, it explains the law applicable to each one.

Leach, Philip, Taking a Case to the European Court of Human Rights 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199585021

This book incorporates a step-by-step approach to the litigation process, covering areas such as lodging the initial application, legal aid, costs, interim measures, friendly settlement, third party intervention, just satisfaction, enforcement of judgments, and Grand Chamber referrals. An explanation of the key principles underlying the European Convention on Human Rights precedes an expanded and up-to-date article-by-article commentary on the substantive law of the European Convention, including derogation, reservation, and damages. The new edition has been fully revised to take account of the changes introduced by Protocol 14 in 2010. The book includes key substantive case law developments, commentary and guidance on the amended Court rules and new practice directions, and recent changes in the Court's processing of cases, together with advice and information on drafting pleadings, fact-finding and merits hearings before the Court. The Court's admissibility criteria, a critical aspect of the Convention system, are dealt with in detail, and a comprehensive set of Court forms and other precedents are included in the appendices.

O'Neill, Aidan, EU Law for UK Lawyers 2nd ed, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781841130460

This is the second edition of this concise yet wide-ranging survey of EU law. It sets out very clearly the broad shape of the Union legal system while also giving the reader a good feel for the policy motivations in the Court and the scope of legislative activity. Written in an authoritative yet accessible style the book provides an ideal guide and reference for anyone facing a problem with an EU law component. The first edition 'EC Law for UK Lawyers' by Aidan O'Neill and Jason Coppel (ISBN: 9780406024596) was published by Butterworths in 1994.

Ormerod, David, Smith and Hogan: Criminal Law 13th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £34.99, ISBN: 9780199586493

Smith & Hogan: Criminal Law is regarded as the leading doctrinal textbook on criminal law in England and Wales and has been for over 45 years. The book owes its consistent popularity to its accessible style, depth of analysis and breadth of coverage. It is an invaluable text for undergraduates and is an essential reference source for criminal law practitioners. The thirteenth edition has been completely updated in order to include all legislative and case law developments. Changes brought about through the Coroners and Justice Act 2009 and the Policing and Crime Act 2009 have been fully incorporated. There is, as ever, detailed analysis of the many recent case developments, in particular, a revision of the chapter dealing with secondary liability and joint enterprise.

Roots, Guy; Humphries, Michael; Fookes, Robert; Pereira, James, The Law of Compulsory Purchase 2nd ed, Bloomsbury Professional, Hardback, £138.00,

ISBN: 9781847667465

This authoritative new book is your single accessible volume to this complex and wide-ranging area of the law. The new edition of this title clearly sets out the practice, procedure, policy and valuation of a compulsory purchase. It provides a summarised statement of the law, complete with footnotes to enable you to access further information. Written in convenient narrative form, it contains full cross-referencing to the relevant cases, statutory provision and policy circulars. It also includes a full explanation of the scope of powers to acquire land compulsorily and the exercise of the powers and principles of compensation.

sell; Reekie, Peter; Rodell, Anne; Taylor, Michael, The Law Society's Conveyancing Handbook 18th ed, Law Society Publishing, Hardback, £89.95, ISBN: 9781907698026

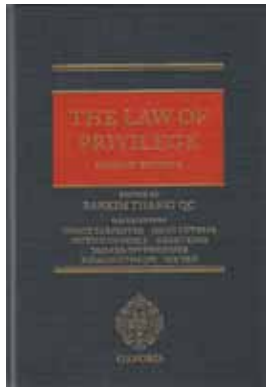

Trusted by thousands of conveyancing practitioners, the Conveyancing Handbook has become the definitive benchmark for conveyancing professionals. Now in its 18th edition, this authoritative and up-to-date annual can save practitioners time and money.

Sime, Stuart, A Practical Approach to Civil Procedure 14th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £37.99, ISBN: 9780199609413

Trusted by generations of students and litigators, A Practical Approach to Civil Procedure is the perfect guide through the maze of procedural requirements employed in the civil courts. Written by an expert in the field, the book provides a wide-ranging and detailed overview of the key statutory provisions, rules, practice directions and case law which govern the various stages of a civil litigation claim, making it essential reading for students and newly qualified litigators alike.

Thanki, Bankim, The Law of Privilege 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £175.00, ISBN: 9780199595433

A comprehensive reference to legal professional privilege in both contentious and non-contentious situations, this book also address privilege against self-incrimination. Providing detailed coverage of the nature of privilege, how it arises, how it is lost, and its limits, this second edition builds on the success of the first to provide an authoritative practitioner reference on this widely relevant subject. The book is clearly laid out, with extensive cross-referencing and useful summaries throughout to ensure ease of understanding and quick access to information.

The Law Society, Lexcel Financial Management Toolkit, Law Society Publishing, Paperback & CD-ROM, £49.95, ISBN: 9781853287466

IMPORTANT FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

Zamir & Woolf: The Declaratory Judgment 4th edition

by Jeremy Woolf

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9780414041356, £169.00, due September 2011

This new 4th edition of the definitive work on the subject explains the wide scope of the declaratory judgment as a public law remedy for both individuals and public bodies, and shows how it can be used. References throughout are made to the changes brought about by the HRA, and amendments to the Civil Procedure Rules and cases and legislation are also updated. The development of the declaration in both private and public law proceedings is examined, and the author goes through statutory provisions and case law to illustrate when a declaratory judgment might be granted. The new edition examines in detail who is entitled to bring proceedings for declaratory relief – both claimant and defendant. A separate chapter is provided on each. A separate chapter provides a brief comparative study of the use of the declaratory process in Scotland.

Wilkinson's Road Traffic Offences 25th edition

General Editors: Kevin McCormac and Peter Wallis

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, 2 Volumes, ISBN 9780414045774, £319.00, due September 2011

Published in a new edition every two years, Wilkinson's Road Traffic Offences is widely regarded as the definitive authority on road traffic offences in England and Wales. Providing everything needed for both prosecuting and defending a case, it covers every facet of road traffic law the practitioner is likely to encounter. With Wilkinson everything required is to hand, from general definitions to legislation and case law. Its straightforward approach allows the user to access the information needed quickly and easily, with flow charts, checklists and tabular summaries to clarify complex areas. The 25th edition has been fully updated to include the impact of the Coroners and Justice Act 2009 and Equality Act 2010, new EU Regulations on access to the international road haulage market and the carriage of passengers by coach and bus, the effect of sentencing guidelines on cases of causing death by dangerous and careless driving, as well as extensive recent case law.

UK Tax Treaties 2011

By Alastair Munro, Teresa Nogueira and Jo Harrison
LexisNexis Butterworths, Softcover, ISBN 9781405755290, £144.95, due September 2011

Cross-border issues are increasing and organisations want to retain as much of their revenues as possible. On a global level, bodies such as the OECD are reacting and issuing policy accordingly. Tax practitioners are frequently required to interpret tax treaties and need to be up to speed with issues such as permanent establishment, triangulation, and how treaties can be exploited to give maximum credit. UK Tax Treaties 2011 considers the practical interpretation of the UK's double tax treaties and domestic rules concerning relief from double taxation, as they relate to the taxation of income in the UK on both UK resident and non-UK resident companies. UK Tax Treaties 2011 discusses, article by article, the OECD and UN model treaties, and contains a chapter dealing with key EU treaty matters as they relate to UK corporation tax.

Featuring over 100 worked examples, extensive commentary and key case law, UK Tax Treaties 2011 is a comprehensive work which focuses on the practical application of the UK domestic and treaty law; as well as containing coverage on royalties, licence payments, permanent establishment and much more.

The Company Director: Powers, Duties and Liabilities 11th edition

By Peter Loose, Michael Griffiths and David Impey
Jordan Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781846611599, £79.00, due October 2011

This new edition is essential reading for all company directors, company secretaries and their advisers. It provides comprehensive coverage, in a single volume, of the powers, legal obligations and responsibilities of executive and non-executive company directors. The complex relationships of directors with fellow directors, the company, its employees and shareholders are fully explained. Now in its 11th edition, this well respected and established work has been thoroughly updated to take account of directors' duties that took effect on 1 October 2008, such as the duty to avoid conflicts of interest, the duty not to accept benefits from third parties and the obligation to declare an interest in a proposed transaction or arrangement.

Chern on Dispute Boards 2nd edition

By Dr Cyril Chern

Wiley-Blackwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9780470670330, £119.00, due September 2011

A dispute board is a panel of impartial members, appointed at the outset of the construction contract, whose purpose is to monitor progress, resolve disputes as they arise and provide a forum for discussing difficult matters. This book provides an in depth analysis of dispute board law and detailed, practical explanations of how dispute boards work in construction contracts for those actively involved, as well as for those who need to learn the process. Important features of the book include an explanation of how a dispute board works, insider knowledge of board operations and key documents to run a dispute board. The author provides a detailed discussion of dispute board law, covering key jurisdictions worldwide, forms of practice and procedure, and sample documents.

Chinese Intellectual Property and Technology Laws

Edited by Rohan Kariyawasam and Helen Hui

Edward Elgar Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN

9781849800082, £120.00, due September 2011

Written by some of China's leading academic experts and with a foreword by the former Chief Justice of the IP Tribunal of China's Supreme People's Court, this book combines for the first time a review of both Chinese intellectual property and technology laws in a single volume in English. The book initially focuses on recent amendments to the laws of copyright, trademarks, and patents before moving on to discuss unfair competition and trade secrets, and the protection of intellectual property over electronic networks. Other chapters cover the regulation of digital networks and telecommunications, IT and E-commerce, the new antimonopoly law and competition, and China's position on the TRIPS agreement. Of special note is a chapter written by in-house Counsel and the Chairman of the Quality Brands Protection Committee (a coalition of well known multinational brands) reviewing both brand protection and practical enforcement of intellectual property in China.

Lasting Powers of Attorney: A Practical Guide 2nd edition

by Craig Ward

Law Society Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781853286025, £59.95, due September 2011

The second edition of this popular guide to lasting powers of attorney has been fully updated to take account of all developments in the law and practice since 2007. The text has been substantially reworked and expanded to offer new chapters on the process of creating an LPA and the procedures for termination and revocation. The author draws on his experience of making LPAs and the guidance in the Code of Practice, from the Public Guardian, the Law Society and Solicitors for the Elderly to focus on the practical issues for advisers and highlight potential pitfalls. To assist advisers to give their clients full, rounded advice the author also offers practical guidance on the options available to a client wishing to make an LPA, including chapters on existing EPAs, advance decisions, Court of Protection deputies, and the Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards. The appendix contains law and guidance relevant to advisers, including extracts from the Code of Practice, statutory extracts, and Practice Notes from the Law Society.

Market Abuse Enforcement, Policy and Procedure

by Stuart Bazley

Bloomsbury Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847665416, £125.00, due October 2011

This new title is concerned with the interplay between the Financial Services Authority's ('FSA') statutory powers to impose administrative law sanctions on persons that have engaged in abuse in the financial markets and the statutory system of Tribunal accountability provided by the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 ('the Act'). It provides a thorough analysis and assessment of both the law of market abuse and the operation of the Financial Services and Markets Tribunal ('FSMT') and the Upper Tribunal (Tax and Chancery) ('UT') following the implementation of the Tribunal, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007 in April 2010 when as part of an improved and unified system of statutory Tribunals the functions of the FSMT were transferred to the UT. This book captures the resulting changes to the Tribunal's governance and rules of procedure. It sets out to question whether the Tribunal has effectively held the FSA's enforcement decision making to account and whether its individual case decision making has provided a wider contribution to the law on market abuse.

Corruption and Misuse of Public Office 2nd edition

by Colin Nicholls, John Hatchard, Martin Polaine and Timothy Daniel

Oxford University Press, Hardcover, ISBN 9780199577279, £145.00, due September 2011

The law and practice relating to corruption and the misuse of public office is of increasing topical importance. The first edition of this book provided a comprehensive and detailed analysis of the law relating to corruption as it had been shaped over recent years. This new edition covers all major developments since the publication of the first edition, including the Bribery Act 2010; the US Foreign Corrupt Practices Act; the United Nations Convention Against Corruption; current revision and implementation of anti-corruption legislation in a number of important jurisdictions; and changes to the area of mutual legal assistance and civil recovery. Written by leading practitioners with extensive experience of handling corruption cases, the book provides a clear exposition of the current law. It examines the legal and practical issues relating to the investigation and prosecution of corruption cases and includes coverage of specialist areas such as recovering the proceeds of corruption, and whistleblowing. Corruption cases often span jurisdictions. This book enables practitioners to handle any aspect of a corruption case by providing them with detailed analysis of the international efforts to combat corruption, and the legal developments taking place in key jurisdictions and regions covered by UN, EU, OECD, the Commonwealth, and important regional initiatives.

Employment Law: An Adviser's Handbook 9th edition

by Tamara Lewis

Legal Action Group, Paperback, ISBN 9781903307908, £38.00, due September 2011

The cornerstones of employment law are presented clearly, in jargon-free language in what has become the key text on employment law for the adviser. The author's experience and understanding of the needs of advisers and trade union representatives is evident in the highly practical treatment of case-law, the cross references between key cases, the guidance on running a tribunal case and in providing the answers frequently asked questions not found in other texts. Employment Law: An Adviser's Handbook is the essential guide for voluntary sector advisers, Law Centres, trade union representatives, lawyers and any individual looking for a comprehensive yet accessible and practical guide to employment. Updates to the new edition include: Comprehensive treatment of Equality Act 2010, a reworking of the chapter on equal pay, a new section on multiple discrimination, update on the abolition of the default retirement age and its consequences, the right to additional paternity leave, agency worker regulations, the new laws making blacklisting of trade unionists unlawful and a full update in the relevant case law developments since the last edition was published 2009.

FINDING ENGLISH LAW:

Key Titles for non-UK Lawyers and Researchers

John Eaton

Price: £12.95
ISBN: 9780854900947
Extent: 186 pp
Size: 229 x 152mm
Binding: Paperback

Finding English Law: Key Titles for non-UK Lawyers and Researchers provides a listing of current and informative books on one hundred topics of English law. Each list is preceded by an instructive ‘thumbnail’ description of the legal subject giving the researcher an outline of the rudiments of the topic, by way of a quick description, a discussion of the topic’s component parts, and the details of any legislative provisions which guide the law of that subject. Each of the listings of titles orients the reader toward a roster of important titles of all types, from those written for public and student consumption, through practitioner-oriented works to the academic and theoretical. Researchers from outside the United Kingdom will find the topic descriptions and listings most useful and those based in the UK will find utility in a current, wide-ranging list of legal titles.

John Eaton is Librarian and Associate Professor of Law, University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, Canada and is co-author of Eaton & Le May: Essential Sources of Canadian Law. He is a former President of the Canadian Association of Law Libraries and is a frequent contributor to Legal Information Management, the journal of the British and Irish Association of Law Librarians.

INHERITANCE ACT CLAIMS

Second Edition

Nasreen Pearce

Price: £59.00
ISBN: 9780854900787
Extent: 450 pp
Size: 229 x 152 mm
Binding: Paperback

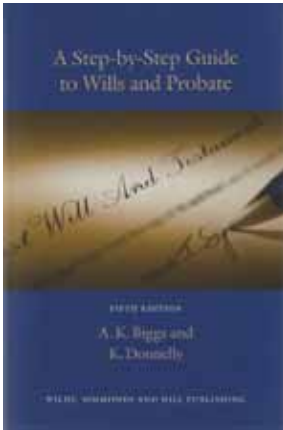

This book provides a clear, comprehensive, easily accessible and practical guide to the provisions of the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependents) Act 1975 as amended.

Inheritance Act Claims sets out in detail material which is likely to be of assistance to lawyers and non-lawyers relating to the background to the legislation, pre-conditions and time limits for making a claim, categories of those who are entitled to make a claim, grounds on which a claim may be made; the matters to which the court must have regard in deciding a claim and the court powers to make orders including the powers of the court in respect of dispositions intended to defeat a claim, the assets out of which financial provision under the Act may be made, the position of personal representatives and trustees and the practice and procedure of making a claim.

It contains relevant information relating to cohabitants, the impact of the Civil Partnership Act 2004 and the Human Fertilisation and Embryology Acts 1990 and 2008.

The appendices include a range of sample forms and precedents, the text of the 1975 Act and the relevant provisions of the CPR.

Nasreen Pearce is a retired circuit judge, and was formerly a district judge in the Principal Registry of the Family Division. She has written widely on family law and is a contributor to The Family Court Practice. She is the author of Change of Name: The Law and Practice also published by Wildy, Simmonds and Hill.

A STEP-BY-STEP GUIDE TO WILLS AND PROBATE

Fifth Edition

A K Biggs and K Donnelly

Price:	£14.95
ISBN:	9780854900831
Extent:	190 pp
Size:	229 x 152 mm
Binding:	Paperback

A Step-by-Step Guide to Wills and Probate explains how to write a simple will, and how to deal with the affairs of someone who has died. This new edition is completely revised and updated, and is written in plain language by authors who have many years' experience in the probate offices. It explains when you can do things yourself and when you need a solicitor. The subjects covered include:

- Making your will: why do it; how to do it; appointing executors, the different gifts that can be made; how to make sure the will is valid and will be put into effect; examples
- Who may apply for probate: how to work out who, of the relatives and friends left behind, is the one to sort out a deceased person's affairs. Who inherits if there is no will?
- The estate: making sure that all the property and debts are found
- Inheritance Tax: working out if tax has to be paid, how much, and the arrangements for paying it
- Filling in the forms: essential paperwork, with examples. Will drafting/tax law/court forms and precedents updated to January 2011
- Going to court: the procedure for visiting the probate registry to finalise paperwork
- Administering the estate: collecting together the property; paying the debts, distributing the inheritances
